PRISON LABOR TO BE ESTABLISHED

New System Is Being Worked Out by the New Commissioners

Pennsylvania's new system of prison labor, whereby articles used in State institutions and other public establishments can be manufactured in the penitentiaries and reformatories and the prisoners paid for what they make, will be established in the course of a few months, the preliminary work being well in hand. The system was provided for by the last Legislature and the Prison Labor Commission has been having the needs of various institutions investigated by F. B. Henderson, of Kittanning, so that it will be in position to purchase the appliances needed for the articles offering the best field.

to be set aside for their dependents.
Will Act Soon.—Members of the State Workmen's Compensation Board are receiving numerous letters and suggestions on the subject of the daily wage determination which was argued at the conference on Wednesday and it is likely that the question will be disposed of very shortly. Many of the letters urge that the board stick to the letter of the law and that the act be given a trial, pointing out that the next Legislature will afford opportunity for making changes. The board is scheduled to meet Tuesday.
Retail Oleo Licenses.—Forty-nine retail licenses to sell oleomargarine in Harrisburg were issued by the Dairy & Food division of the Department of Agriculture during 1915. There was one wholesale license and one boardinghouse license issued in the city during the year. In Dauphin county the total number of licenses was 70.
Twelve Arrested Here.—Twelve Harrisburg grocers were recently prosecuted by the Dairy and Food Department of the Department of Agriculture for selling dried peaches containing sulphur dioxide. Nine paid fines of $60 each and three others paid the costs of the suits. Two coffee and chicory cases were recently terminated with fines of $25 being paid. One was a case of selling a mixture containing coal and the other for selling a coffee compound misbranded.
Will Save Much.—Decision by the State Compensation Board that jurors and witnesses for the Commonwealth are not considered as persons who must be insured by the public will save the counties of Pennsylvania hundreds of dollars. In several counties steps had been taken to get rates for insuring jurors and plans were under consideration to take care of witnesses when the revised ruling was issued.

The removal of elective officers from the class under the liability act will affect thousands of men.
After the Crooks.—Game Protector Kinter B. Rodgers has returned from Crawford county where he and other game wardens investigated the bounty frauds that have brought that county into prominence. Evidence shows they say, that bounty claims for about $19,000, being held by the State, are no legal and that they were secured by a series of connivances between hunters and justices of the peace. Most of the men involved in the fraud made clean breasts of the affair. Mr. Rodgers says and gave the game wardens all the information in their possession. It now rests with the officials of Crawford county to decide whether the violations of the law shall be followed by prosecutions.
State Agents Busy.—Thirty-four of the eighty-five prosecutions ordered by the dairy and food division of the State Department of Agriculture during January were for violations of the cold storage law provisions relative to eggs. In most cases stored eggs were sold as fresh and the records of the State Department show that a placard must be used to announce wholesome cold storage food was ignored. In some cases eggs unfit to eat were found. Nineteen other violations of the cold storage laws were prosecuted, including the arrest of nine persons for selling cold storage snails which were not placarded. In one case a man was sued for storing beef beyond the legal limit and then trying to sell it. Agents of the department also brought prosecutions against three milk dealers for selling milk below the standard of fats and in a number of cases it was discovered that ruts, dried figs, candies and other foods were not up to the State requirements. In Warren county a man was arrested for selling sausage which contained no pork at all, only raw potato flour and water.
Constables Out.—The city policeman who is appointed to the "force" must be taken care of under the employer liability law if he gets hurt while on duty, but the rural constable, famous as the wearer of the tin star, is not within the meaning of the compensation law. The constable is an elective officer, the policeman is appointive. This is the result of the new ruling of the State Board and is being announced to municipalities.

Utility Inaugurates Cash Premium System For "the Best Ideas"
By establishing a "suggestion box" for the benefit of its employees, the Harrisburg Light and Power Company has arranged to place a cash premium on "good ideas." For the best suggestion applicable to the system or any part of it, the company will award a prize of $5; for the next two $2.50 each will be the prizes. Announcement of this departure was made last evening at the February "booster" meeting of the company.
More than a hundred employees attended and P. H. Bailey, the new commercial manager, acted as a sort of master of ceremonies. The talks were all informal and the speakers included H. N. Campbell, general commercial manager of the United Gas and Electric Engineering corporations; C. M. Kaltwasser, general manager; John Ostertag, H. W. Stone and L. L. Ferree. The discussions were all upon matters pertaining to the operation of the big system.
Victoria selections helped feature the program although the big item was the electrically prepared luncheon of roast beef, coffee and other good things. Demonstrators from the Westinghouse Electric Company cooked and prepared the meal on an electric range.
Kaiser and Crown Prince Assassins Said Verdict
London, Feb. 4.—An inquest was held yesterday in the cases of thirteen Zeppelin victims in Staffordshire, and a verdict was returned of "wilful murder against the Kaiser and Crown Prince of Germany as being accessories to and after the fact of the deaths."

WILL DISCUSS PREPAREDNESS

Patriotic Association Plans Big Meeting at Tech on Feb. 24

"Preparedness" will probably be one of the important subjects to be discussed at a big mass meeting of patriotic organizations of the city to be held in the Technical High School Auditorium, February 24. Plans for the meeting were started last night by the Patriotic Observance Association in the Grand Army of the Republic Hall, 26 North Third street.
The following organizations have joined the association: Post 58, Grand Army of the Republic; Post No. 31, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Camp No. 8, United Spanish War Veterans; Camp No. 15, Sons of Veterans; Camp No. 8, Patriotic Order Sons of America; and Council No. 35, Order United American Mechanics. Many other organizations in the city have been invited to join, including the other camps of the Patriotic Order Sons of America.
Arrangements are being made by the committee to have prominent men in State and national affairs here to make addresses. Instrumental music and stereopticon views will probably be included in the program. The next meeting to make further plans will probably be held Monday night in the Grand Army of the Republic Hall. Officers of the Observance Association, who have been elected, are as follows: H. L. McLaughlin, chairman; Jonas K. Reist, secretary; H. R. Newcomer, treasurer; D. D. Hammett, secretary; F. H. Eckelman and W. H. Hess, members of joint committee.

cede the illegality of her submarine campaign in the war area.
"The government is willing to do everything in its power, and has done everything in its power, to meet American wishes," he said, "but there are limits beyond which even friendship snaps."
"I do not understand America's course. We had thought the submarine issue settled and the Lusitania question on the way to arrangement—that—when the United States suddenly made its new demands, which it is impossible for us to accept."
Must Not Humiliate Germany
"You must not push your demands too far. You must not attempt to humiliate Germany."
Dr. Zimmerman declined to discuss these new demands or the instructions to Count Von Bernstorff more precisely, but he left no doubt that the whole crisis centered on Secretary Lansing's demand that Germany disavow the sinking of the Lusitania as an action contrary to international law. The under secretary declared repeatedly that Germany could not possibly admit this procedure was illegal or make concessions which virtually would take the submarine weapon out of her hands. He asserted again and again that if the United States desired to drive matters to a breach Germany could go no further to avoid it and that the breach, with all its lamentable consequences, must come.
Regrets Stand
The most regrettable phase of the situation, he asserted, was that there existed no really important reason for a breach, no conflicts of interest between Germany and the United States, Germany, he said, was counting on reciprocal development of trade with America after the war. These hopes would be dashed, or at any rate their development would be hampered greatly, if a breach were to come now; but Germany would do no more.
Dr. Zimmerman evidently believes German now has in the submarine a highly effective weapon for use against England. When reminded that seven experts had disagreed previously on this point, he replied:
"Yes, I used to think that way, but now I have changed my mind."
There's a message of interest to every housekeeper in Harrisburg on page 13 of this issue.—Adv.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair
Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.
It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.
