CENTRAL CRIMPS YORK'S STRIDE

Wins First Victory From White Roses in Brilliant Games

Central tossers last night put one big crimp in the winning stride of the York five, leaders in the Central Pennsylvania Scholastic race.

The game last night was a brilliant exhibition. The first half was a bitter fight, ending with a score of 13 to 12 in favor of Central.

Thomas led in the scoring with 26 points. Rote, Wallower and Hilton put up a good game.

Greenawalt was York's star shooter, with Briggs doing excellent work from the field.

Local Fed Leader Former Local Star

William B. Berry, one of Harrisburg's popular letter carriers, at one time a terror in baseball circles in the lower end, is organizing a "Fed" team.

He will be assisted by some of the members of the Post Office Athletic Association. He will give battle to the regular team when the season opens.

Berry has been an active member of the association ever since its organization and feels that advice and action from one who has had experience will greatly aid in assuring a winning team.

LOCAL TOSSERS TO PLAY READING

Schedule Changes Put All Games in Auditorium; New Dates

The Technical High School basketball squad, accompanied by George Moltz, manager, Coach McConnell and Percy L. Grubb, faculty director, left this afternoon for Reading, where it will line up to-night against the Berks county aggregation.

In the first of the series of games between the two schools. The fact that not a single team in the league has been able to win away from home lessens the chances of the local aggregation to lower the odds of the "butch."

Faculty Director Grubb has made several changes in the schedule of the Tech team. It has been definitely decided to play both of the games with Central on the new chestnut floor.

Central's game with Tech is scheduled for March 17. On the other hand Tech will handle the receipts at Chestnut street on February 29.

All Games at Auditorium: In order that the Maroon tossers may not be at a disadvantage in these two contests, the York High game will be transferred to Chestnut Street Hall, instead of playing on February 18, the original date, an effort will be made to have the Roses visit this city February 17, as the school debate between Central and Tech will be held on the 18th.

Faculty Director Grubb is also endeavoring to give an exhibition of wrestling in Chestnut Street Hall on Washington's Birthday. The plan is to have an interclass wrestling match, together with a game of basketball between the Hassett and Tech teams.

The game at Reading to-night will begin with the following players:

Harris, f. Snyder, f. Killinger, f. Wilson, f. Beck, c. Wendler, c. Yoffee, g. Stoeber, g. Miller, g. Rittenhouse, g.

The latter game will be played on a Friday, and in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the removal of Yale from Saybrook to New Haven will be held in the bowl on Saturday, October 21. With the exception of the Princeton game, which will be played at Princeton, N. J., all the games will be played in the bowl.

Gilhooley Always Hit Hard; Yankees Recall This Star

Frank Gilhooley, recalled by the Yankees from the Buffalo Internationals, bears the honor of never having hit below .300 in his five years as a professional ball player, although he has been in four different leagues during that period.

He was called up in 1911 with the Adrian team in the Southern Michigan League. In 1912 he hit for .306 with the Erie team in the Central League, clubbing the ball for a .328 average with the Montreal Internationals in 1913. Toward the end of the 1913 season the Yanks gave him a tryout. In 24 games Gilhooley gathered together 29 hits for an average of .341. But the Yanks turned him back to the minors. Gilhooley batted .319 for the Buffalo Internationals in 1914 and .322 for the same club in 1915.

Levinsky Leads in Number of Battles

BATTLING LEVINSKY

Barney Lebowitz, better known in fistic circles as Battling Levinsky, the Philadelphia tight-heavy weight, has established a modern record for frequent boxing. Levinsky will be 25 years old in June and has been boxing for six years.

Sam Langford has participated in more battles than Levinsky, but Sam has been in the game for fourteen years. Jim Flynn in fifteen years has not had more than 100 fights.

In eight years James J. Jeffries fought but twenty fights, while James J. Corbett has something like 36 fights in seventeen years. Jack Johnson, in fourteen years fought less than 100 battles and the total number of fights in which John L. Sullivan engaged did not reach the 100 mark, even counting the 50 or so men, whom the great John L. met on his tour of the country when he was offering $1,000 to any man who would stay four rounds with him.

In five years Jess Willard has appeared in the ring about 30 times. Taking it all in all, Levinsky appears to be about the most frequent scrapper of the present day.

Jefferson Judge Turns Down All Liquor Licenses Without Any Explanation

Brookville, Pa., Feb. 4.—Jefferson county, on order of Judge Charles Corbet, in an opinion handed down yesterday, refused to grant a liquor license to any of the 44 applicants, four of whom sought permits to conduct breweries and two to operate wholesale houses. There were 42 licensed houses in Jefferson county last year.

Judge Corbet was elected here in a bitter fight against his brother-in-law, Judge J. W. Reed, who was seeking reelection. Mr. Corbet was backed by the Jefferson County No-Licenses League. He did not run on a no-licenses platform, but it was generally believed he had anti-liquor leanings.

Two brewery applicants and one wholesale applicant foresaw his action and withdrew their applications a few days ago.

Judge Corbet's opinion was short and gave no reason for his decision, basing his action on a ruling of the Supreme Court, which held that a Judge is not bound to set forth his reasons as long as he has them.

NEW YORK STARS ON JASPER TEAM

Will Play Independents Tomorrow Night; Only One Game Here

With the Jasper Eastern League team, which plays the Harrisburg Independents Saturday night, will be three former New York State League basketball stars.

Sodran, Fox and Friedman last season were members of the Utica team, but at the beginning of this season were signed by the Jasper management.

The New Yorkers found some difficulty at the start of the season in becoming accustomed to the style of play in the Eastern League.

They have now mastered the game, as is shown by their record of the last three weeks. The Jaspers won five of their last seven games and are now pushing De Neri for fifth place in the league standing.

The locals will strain every effort to defeat Jasper in this game, for this is the only chance they will have this season. Jasper playing but the one game in Harrisburg. In this week's practices Captain McCord gave special attention to the offensive, for the Jasper players are noted for the close guarding game they play.

Couple Married 71 Years Tell How to Be Happy

Frederick, Md., Feb. 4.—"Live a clean, honorable and upright life. Let your word be as good as your bond and your existence will be long, happy and prosperous," said Mr. and Mrs. Greenberry J. House, aged 90 and 87 years, respectively, of Burkittsville, this county, yesterday, after having celebrated the seventy-first anniversary of their marriage at their home.

At the anniversary celebration there were, in addition to scores of guests, five children, eight grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. House were married in 1845, when the bridegroom was 19 years of age and the bride was 16 years old. "We were very much in love when we were married and we are just as much in love with each other now as we were 71 years ago," they declared. Both Mr. and Mrs. House, in spite of their age, have excellent sight and hearing, and are not troubled with "the infirmities of age."

The former believes that after a man has passed the half century mark he should be allowed some privileges and therefore he revels in the luxury of using a snuff tobacco as he wishes. He never touched tobacco in any form before he was 50 years old.

May Not Spend Tips of President and His Wife

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 4.—Two waitresses tipped $5 each by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and two messenger boys tipped 50 and 10 cents, respectively, by the President during the executive's stay here Tuesday, will have to regard the money as souvenirs or return it to the donors, according to orders issued by the Des Moines police to-day.

The orders followed a statement by Attorney General George P. Fosson that if the recipients of the tips spent the money it would constitute a violation of the Iowa anti-tipping laws. This law makes the donor and the recipient punishable for the act.

WELLY'S CORNER

Harry Sinclair, according to a dispatch from Oklahoma, will quit baseball. When asked if he intended to purchase the Cardinals, Sinclair said he had enough of the sport.

He was the angel for the Federal League and lost a small fortune. He will give his entire time to looking after the oil business.

Announcement was made to-day in a dispatch from New York that there would be a reduction in the price of golf balls from 10 to 15 cents each. This, it is said, is due to the approaching expiration of the Haskell patent, which passes out April 11.

The cut, however, applies only to the medium grades. The cheapest balls, it is said, will remain the same.

Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, is again earning money by giving out interviews. A recent issue of the People's Journal, published at Glasgow, Scotland, prints a story from Johnson. The former champion says he gave up to Willard in order to better his financial condition.

He also claims that the American people persecuted him and forced the fight at a time when he was not able to go to the expense of training.

HENRY G. BOWERS DIES

Marietta, Feb. 4.—Henry G. Bowers, of Lancaster township, died yesterday afternoon, in his 73rd year. He was a carpet weaver by trade and is survived by several children.

It fell to the Central High tossers to hand the first defeat to York. If the local team shows the same form of foreign floors as was in evidence last night, this year's scholastic championship will come to Harrisburg. Central's work was of the class that counts, every player figuring in the victory.

McCord is the best scorer on the Harrisburg Independent five. In 13 games he has hung up 136 points. Rote is second with a total of 106. The latter leads in field goals, having 52 to his credit. McCord's record includes 102 foul goals, which he made out of 142 chances. The Independents have won 10 games and lost 3.

In 21 games Chrismer, of the Puritan team of the Casino Independents scored a total of 3,937 points. His average is 176. Fletcher, of the same team, is the nearest competitor with an average of 167. The Lancers lead in total score with 25,884 and an average of 157. The Recruits and Puritans have similar averages, but less points.

An interesting game is promised to night when the Hassett five will meet the Y. M. A. five of Altoona. The game will be played in Cathedral Hall and starts at 8 o'clock. A short time ago Hassett was defeated at Altoona by a small margin. With a better floor, conditions to-night will be most favorable.

York, Pa., Feb. 4.—Six hundred men and girls employed in the York mill, one of three in this city, operated by the Pennsylvania Textile Company, went on strike to-day because of the resignation of their superintendent, W. No effort was made to operate the mill and there was no order. A conference between officials and a committee of the strikers is being held.
