Week's Schedule For

BUSY WEEK FOR LOCAL TOSSERS

High School Games Feature of This Week's Schedule; Central Meets Wilkes-Barre

Scholastic basketball for teams in this vicinity and in the Pennsylvania League will be a feature of the week. Most important of these will be the return game to be played on the Tech floor Friday night by the Reading High The Central team will entertain Wilkes-Barre High team at the Auditorium on the same evening, while the Camp Hill High School girls' team will play the Central co-eds between the halves.

Next Saturday Central will go to Lebanon for the final contest between these two teams. Because of Lebanon's these two teams. Because of Lebanon's strenuous protest it is likely that Central will play without the services of Captain Rote.

Tech will go to Danville next Saturday. Little is known of Danville High, but Tech will not take any chances in order to win. The Danville High, but Tech will not take any chances in order to win. The Danville team will come to Harrisburg in two weeks for the return match.

Reading Plays Camp Hill

After Reading has competed against Tech Friday night they will cross the river to play with Camp Hill. The cross-river boys are members of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic League.

The York County Academy team will entertain the Harrisburg Academy next Saturday, and with the disadvantage of playing on a small floor the local team will have to play hard to make a creditable showing. In the Central Pennsylvania League, York will go to Steelton Friday night and on the following night will be entertained by Lancaster High. Until the White Roses finish these two games away from home they will be lucky to have much more than a fifty-fifty percentage. The York team discovered in their game with Central last Thursday that playing away from home is a different proposition than playing at home. ing away from home is a different proposition than playing at home. In the Tech interclass league the Juniors and Seniors will meet next Friday. There will be numerous local games, as the schedule shows.

CENTRAL WINS AT MILTON

At Milton Saturday Central High defeated the High School tossers of that place, score 44 to 40. Central played an easy game until the Milton boys moved up close, when the locals had a spurt. Wallower. Thomas, Houtz and Rapp were local point winners, and Townsend. Wirely and Frymiller excelled for Milton.

COAL FROM Mammoth Veins

The reason there is so much slate in some coal is because the vein being worked is thin and the operation too close to the edge of earth and other matter surround-

Kelley's Coal comes from socalled mammoth veins, from 10 to 12 feet thick, which yield nothing but coal.

Naturally there is less slate in Kelley's Coal than any other fuel that comes to this city — and that is the reason Kelley's Coal burns so satisfactorily.

BARNARD COLLEGE GIRLS EXPERTS IN JIUJITSU ART

New York, Feb. 7.—Barnard College girls, those alluring damsels whose gymnasium and campus enclosures have long held mysteries interesting as much for the mystery as for the charm of the girls, are learning to take care of themselves.

The girls are learning how to protect themselves with their own pretty hands, no matter what sort of surroundings they may happen to encounter. Every day those who are lucky enough to see them at work may find perfectly harmless looking belies acquiring knowledge concerning the most just way to twist a "guy's" arm until he screams with pain, or to deftly trip an unwelcome intruder so that he measures his length in the justly celebrated New York gutters.

The girls have gone in for jiu-jitsu. This ancient sport and defense from the land of flowers and the empire of the Most Eminent Favorite Child of the Harvest Moon is being taught by Miss Grace Gerard, the directress of physical culture.
