THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR Backache, Rheumatism and Dropsy

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. Write Dr. Pierce at once, send 10 cents for large trial package, or 50 cents for full treatment of "Anuric" or ask your druggist for it. During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "Anuric," the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney trouble and Backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys, and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination—this is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Assisting Physicians will inform you truthfully.—Advertisement.

HARRISBURG ELKS ENTERTAIN EXALTED RULER NICHOLSON

Take Visitors to Elk Home, Capitol, and Detweiler Monument; Luncheon Follows Tour of the City

The visit to-day of grand lodge officers of the B. P. O. Elks, brought four leading "Bills" to Harrisburg. In the party were: Left to right, front row—O. K. Cowell, past exalted ruler, of Sunbury lodge, who is a candidate for president of the State Association; Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Iowa, grand secretary; James R. Nicholson, Springfield, Mass., grand exalted ruler. The rear picture is that of Edward Ritter, of New Orleans lodge, candidate for the office of grand exalted ruler, who will be nominated at the Baltimore convention next July.

Harrisburg Elks had as their guests for two hours to-day, James R. Nicholson, of Springfield, Mass., Grand Exalted Ruler, and other officials of the order from other States. They were here for a two hours' visit, stopping en route east. Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson is making a tour of the country.

The distinguished visitors arrived at 9:45 and were escorted to the Elks home, 216 North Second street, by the past exalted rulers of Harrisburg lodge. After a welcome by Benjamin W. Demming, exalted ruler of the local lodge, the visitors were taken to the Capitol.

The grave of Meade D. Detweiler in Harrisburg cemetery was next visited where a wreath was placed on the grave by Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson, and later the grand lodge officials were taken to Reservoir Park, where a wreath was also placed on the Meade Detweiler monument. A luncheon followed at the Elks home. The visitors were met by the following past exalted rulers: John K. Royal, William M. Hargest, Wellington G. Jones, Benjamin M. Nead, William K. Myers, Horace A. Segelbaum, Owen M. Copelin, Y. Hummel Brackenridge and Percy L. Grubb.

The reception committee included Benjamin W. Demming, Exalted Ruler, Jonas M. Rudy, Esteemed Leading Knight, James L. Carroll, Esteemed Loyal Knight, Michael E. Stroup, Esteemed Lecturing Knight, R. L. Schmidt, secretary; C. H. Sigler, treasurer and John A. Marshall, John E. Kelley, Joseph J. Weaver, trustees.

At the Elks monument Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson made a brief address eulogizing the late Meade D. Detweiler. By a strange coincidence the party reached the monument at 11 o'clock, a solemn hour known to all members in Elksdom. The visitors left at noon for Sunbury where they made a brief stop. To-night they will attend the dedication of the new home of the Wilkes-Barre Elks.

WELLESLEY COLLEGE GIRL DEFENDS BENEFACTOR

Boston, Mass., Feb. 7.—Miss Mary B. Elliott, a Senior in Wellesley College, who receives an annuity of $1,500 a year during her life under the will of William H. Storey, of South Boston, which is being contested by four cousins in the Supreme Court here, is staunch in the defense of her benefactor, who lived at her father's hotel in Plymouth, N. H., for eight years.

Testifying on the stand she said that Mr. Storey had treated her like a grandfather and said that "he was kindly, affectionate and interesting." She denied that he had ever kissed her.

She said that she was 12 or 14 years old when she first met Mr. Storey. He bought her a horse, which is in Plymouth and gave her two rings.

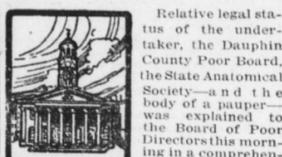

She said Mr. Storey paid her tuition and gave her money for incidental expenses at college. She introduced him to her friends in college. She did not remember saying that she refused to invite him to a party because he did not dress properly.

She said she saw him intoxicated only once; that was on a trip to Mt. Washington six years ago. He was partly under the influence of liquor four or five times.

On April 15, 1914, she received a telephone message that he was in Boston. He invited her to luncheon and told her that he had made his will and had remembered her and her brother and that he gave $10,000 to the Floating Hospital. He executed his will that day. He did not take a drink at the luncheon, she said.

GIVES OPINION ON PAUPER DEAD

Writes Opinion on Relation to Poor Board and Undertakers

Relative legal status of the undertaker, the Dauphin County Poor Board, the State Anatomical Society—a and the body of a pauper—was explained to the Board of Poor Directors this morning in a comprehensive opinion on the subject by Solicitor O. G. Wickersham.

Complaint has been made to the Poor Directors that in some instances undertakers do not ask the Anatomical Society whether it desires the bodies of paupers, but proceed with the burial of the bodies. The solicitor explained that the undertaker is bound by law to ask whether the society wishes the body for dissection. If it is refused, then the undertaker may proceed accordingly. If the society wishes possession of the body, the dead pauper may be turned over to it. But in any event inquiry must first be made to the State Anatomical Society. Furthermore, the Poor Board will require the undertaker to keep the board advised before disposing of the bodies.

Pale and Thin

The death of Margaret E. Shuman, the ex-police chauffeur's daughter, occurred August 27. The State charges that she died from the effects of kicks and blows of her father.

The accused man, pale and thin, stepped into the hushed courtroom a few minutes after 2 o'clock. Before he sat down he whispered to his attorney and the latter called quietly for "Mrs. Shuman." From out of the crowd of spectators a woman clad in deep mourning and heavily veiled stepped into the bar enclosure and sat down with Shuman.

The pair whispered a few moments and both wiped away tears. Then the trial began. Shuman pleaded "not guilty."

By 2:45 four talesmen had been examined but all were dismissed.

STEAM ENGINEERS TO HEAR TALK ON MODERN METHODS

An illustrated lecture by W. A. Hall, of the Yale and Towne Manufacturing Company, New Haven, will be a feature of this evening's session of Capital City Council No. 2, American Order of Steam Engineers. The talk will be given in the council's quarters, Odd Fellow's Hall, 321 Market street.

MRS. E. H. GARY

Mrs. E. H. Gary, wife of the chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, became tired of the customary prizes given at bridge whist parties. Her friends had won so many of the same kind that their homes were littered with duplicates. So she thought of the steel stock in the corporation of which her husband is the guiding spirit. Then she went out and brought seven silver-covered, each worth $117. Her friends who were lucky enough to win carried home these certificates. Now New York society has a new idea. Some members of it are going to dig down in their trunks for a lot of green and gold mining stock they bought several years ago

KUNKEL DECRIES SENTIMENTALITY

Carter. He doubted if a prison term would help as much. "We don't propose to sentence without mercy," declared the President Judge. He added that the Court's ways were tried to temper justice with mercy.

The Exception.—"This is the defendant's first step," explained the lawyer. The Court pointed out that Cow had been convicted on two other charges. "How many times," asked the judge, "should the man be permitted to commit crime?"

"That is the trouble to-day. A man may commit a crime and his sentence is suspended. He commits crime again and he is sent to the penitentiary. He commits crime again and he may be sent to the penitentiary for the remainder of his life. All this shows the extreme to which sentimentality governs those who have the jurisdiction of criminal punishment."

The Greater Stigma.—"Cow got a $5 and three months in jail."

Horse Deal Just a Trade, Not a Steal Declares a Jury

Twelve of Dauphin's good men and true believed that the horse-and-mule transaction between James Metrovick and Edward Farver, a Middletown horse dealer, was merely a "trade" and not a theft and this morning they indicated that belief when they returned a verdict of acquittal against Metrovick.

Charles S. Osman was sentenced to five months in jail on charge of passing forged checks on local banks. John W. Geiger, a former local branch manager of a leading type-writer company, was acquitted of charges of larceny as clerk. John Folan was convicted of a larceny charge.

BAD STREETS ON THE HILL, FIREMEN'S UNION HEARS

Poor street conditions in the Thirteenth ward were reported last night to the members of the Firemen's Union. Delegates from the Royal Fire Company told of dangerous conditions in Twenty-first and a Half street, and in other sections. Warning has been given to all fire companies to look out for bad streets in Allison Hill section.

The secretary was ordered to notify the Highway Department about the streets. The Union passed an amendment to the constitution giving the secretary-treasurer a yearly salary.

N. Y. JEWELERS STRIKE

New York, Feb. 9.—A general strike of the jewelry workers in New York city was called at a meeting early to-day attended by more than 1,000 members of the union. The jewelers demand an eight-hour day. They are all highly paid workers, some of them, the diamond setters, earning as high as $100 a week in busy periods, and the question of pay does not enter into the present trouble. The strike call affects about 200 shops and 2,500 employees. In some of the shops a demand is made for the abolition of the piece-work system.

MANDAMUS PITTSBURGH SEALER TO MAKE MONTHLY REPORTS

Because Murray G. Livingston, chief inspector of weights and measures of Pittsburgh, has refused since June, 1915, to file monthly reports of his bureau's activities with James Sweeney, chief of the State Bureau of Standards, this afternoon mandamus Livingston into the Dauphin county courts to explain why. The courts fixed 10 o'clock, February 28, to hear the matter.

Wrote a Song For Harrisburg

"Hear this," he cried removing the ever present pipe and running over the words in a low singing tone.

IN THE ROTARY

Once every week, every week in the year. A very fine bunch of good fellows appear. They are the liveliest of wires you could find. And so much ahead they are never behind.

Chorus

In the Rotary, in the Rotary, That's the place to find so- ciability. No worry, no care, from business right away. Having a smoke, cracking a pipe, With your Pals in the Rotary.

Once every week, every week in the year. Ever be sure of an hour of good cheer. An hour of good cheer is a tonic we're told. An hour of good cheer is worth barrels of gold.

"I wrote it ma'sel especially for these men to-day. Isn't it gude, now, and full of the gude cheer?" "But that is your business, to spread good cheer," was the answer. "Ah, gude cheer—and gold" was the characteristic reply of the sturdy little Scotchman.

The Luncheon

At the Senate Hotel Mr. Lauder was guest at the biggest luncheon the Rotary club has held this year. Daniel D. Handshel, secretary of the school board, was chairman and at Mr. Lauder's right sat Arthur D. Bacon, president of the club. During the luncheon Mr. Lauder introduced a sextette of local bassists and drum players who played Scotch airs to the delight of the members. Mr. Lauder made a speech and sang the song which he had written especially for Harrisburg. "I will leave the words with you and I would like you to print them in your song sheets. The music I will copy and send you in a few days."

The luncheon was a great success. Mr. Lauder told his stories and sang his songs as only Lauder can, and in a manner past description, but what most impressed those present was Lauder's very firm conviction that the force of Rotary is growing in the world, that it is becoming more and more influential in shaping business relations along right lines and that the time is fast coming that when

LAUDER WRITES SONG DEDICATED TO ROTARY CLUB

Sings It First Time For Rotarians at Luncheon and Makes Speech

HE LIKES HARRISBURG

Enthusiast on Rotary and Says Its Influence Goes Around the World

"Twas 'a wee bit man from o'er seas' who became the guest of honor at a luncheon in the Senate to-day given by the Harrisburg Rotary club. On his private car in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards he first held informal reception to the club's officers and then accompanied them by a tour of inspection about the city. It was here, also, he received a representative of the Telegraph.

"I am a Rotarian," said he, "and I have been this two and a half year. Across your land and back again have I traveled and visited all the biggest Rotary clubs along the way."

With the merry twinkle in his small blue eyes, his ruddy bare knees peeping out beneath his plaid skirt, Mr. Lauder looked for all the world like a mischievous boy who was taking stolen puffs of daddy's pipe.

"If I dinna smoke there is summat wrong with me throat," he chuckled. "I dinna see it hurts like the boys here. 'Just what is your line of work?' he was asked.

"Weel, I am a character singer. Fur an hour at a half I keep them busy. I sing him and I dance a bit. Sure, and I could keep it up three hours longer an' I would na' perspire a wee bit."

It takes a clever man to hold an audience alone, that long," he was told. The comedian smiled with a half-bashful air under the implied compliment.

"Weel, you ha' ne'er seen me?" he asked with naive assurance. "Do you write?" was the next question.

"That I do! All m' own songs and their tunes. So it is not travel this way. I would na' get the tune, else, many and many a song in Rotary I have done. I shall make the boys here o'er the coal to-day. Why? Weel, they have done na wrong yet, but they might. Ye can trust a man no further than I dance a bit. Sure, Mr. Lauder has visited Harrisburg several times before, but has never really seen the city until to-day. However, he was greatly impressed by the bustling and happy conditions of which he had heard, and with our paved streets and our public improvements.

"It's a real Rotary City," he said, "something for everybody. One can see that by the haze, the kind of air you have—factory smoke!" he commented.

"But, unlike Pittsburgh, we really have the sun, too," answered his interviewer.

"So, now! That is like at home! We are really really threatened with real sunshine now!" he burst out.

But always Mr. Lauder returned to Rotarism and his approval of the joy in it.

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awake in the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you went to bed, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refresh the tired brain. Overwork and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A sentence of anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50. Begin the treatment at once before your condition becomes worse.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

Rotary as a whole speaks its voice will be felt around the world.

"Go on in the conference are going," he said. "Leave your lights burning behind you, so that others coming after may benefit thereby. Perchance your boy or your girl, passing that way some day, may point the lantern you left and say, gratefully and with pride, 'My Dad left that light burning.'"

At the conclusion of the luncheon the Rotarians were all introduced to Mr. Lauder and to-night the club members and their wives will occupy an especially reserved row of seats at the Orpheum. Mr. Lauder is a member of the Edinburgh, Scotland, Rotary club.

Courtesy Card For Lauder

HARRY LAUDER, who was the guest of the Harrisburg Rotary Club at a noon luncheon, was given the seven-teenth courtesy card of the Harrisburg police department by Mayor E. S. Mead this morning. Mr. Lauder, with several Scotch musicians visited the Mayor and played for him on their bagpipes. Lester W. Murray was given a courtesy card by Angus Fraser Scott the twenty-third.

even declared in one unofficial quarter that the entente allies are preparing to take the offensive. The more definite statement is made in Athens, however, that the decision reached by the central powers is to maintain their entrenched positions at present, leaving mainly Bulgarians on guard, the Austrian troops for the most part being employed elsewhere.

Russians Repulsed

Constantinople advices report setbacks for the Russians in their Caucasian campaign and in Persia. Russian attacks have been repulsed in the former, and in the latter the forces of Erzerum has been the main Turkish base of defense, the Ottoman war office declares. In Persia tribesmen fighting against the Russian forces have, unofficially reported to have inflicted a severe defeat near Sandshulak.

Petrograd, while not reporting on the Persian operations, declares that the engagements in the Caucasus have continued to result in advantage to the Russians.

The British miners, in a resolution adopted at the conference in Lancaster yesterday, did not expressly declare themselves against the military service bill. The attitude adopted was one of opposition "to the spirit of conscription," with an expressed determination to scrutinize vigilantly "any proposed extension" of the military service law.

Capture French Positions

New gains for the Germans in the region between Lens and Arras, not far south of the Belgian border, were announced to-day by Berlin, which reports the capture of first line French positions along nearly a half-mile front on the east of Vimy.

In some quarters the recent German assault in this region are regarded as primarily defensive
