BOOK TELLS HOW TO BUILD REAL HOUSE FOR BIRDS

Audubon Society Pamphlet Gives Complete Directions For Homes

New York, Feb. 10.—When Johnnie builds a birdhouse for a wren, why does he find it occupied by a chickadee? What bird demands an apartment house and which one will be content to live in an old tin can? How do you build a birdhouse, anyhow? These and many other questions are answered in a pamphlet on the building of birdhouses, just issued for the boys and girls of America by the National Association of Audubon Societies, of this city. The little book tells the fraction of an inch the size of entrance to houses required for different species of birds, the proper floor space, depth, the height of the entrance above the floor and the height the birdhouse should be placed above the ground.

GIRLS--DO YOU KNOW WHY YOUR HAIR IS UGLY?

Abigail Moore, the noted beauty authority, says, "The hair is a register of the physical condition. Cleanliness and massage, as well as careful combing and brushing are most important. Many women do not realize the necessity of keeping the hair and scalp absolutely clean in order to look their best at all times. Any yet, with only a few minutes of tonic massage, the hair may be brought to a beautiful, thick, lustrous luxuriance, and that at very little cost.

Just try these few simple directions to-day: Into the palm of the hand pour a little Parisian Sage, a rigidly guaranteed, inexpensive and most beneficial preparation to be had at any drug store; thoroughly wet the hair near the scalp with it and then rub vigorously until a soft tingling sensation comes stealing over the head. Do this regularly for a few days and occasionally wet your brush with the tonic and gently brush out the hair—you will surely be surprised and delighted with the results.

The genuine Parisian Sage is obtainable from H. C. Kennedy who always sells it with an absolute guarantee of perfect satisfaction to the user or the money paid will be returned.—Advertisement.

PAPERS HIS SIDEWALK RED

Town Thinks Man Crazy, but It Was Only to Prevent Slipping

Special to the Telegraph

Racine, Wis., Feb. 11.—Albert H. Broden, when the streets became slippery, amazed the town by getting out with his paste and paper from his wallpaper store and plastering the sidewalk near his store with bright red wallpaper. He was promptly arrested under suspicion that he had become insane. In court, however, he said that he could think of no better way to prevent accidents by slipping on his walk than by pasting some antiquated styles of paper until the weather moderated. He said that the paper acted better than sand in preventing accident and agreed to take off the papers as soon as the weather became warm enough for him to remove the ice.

S. P. C. A. Notes

The bird protection movement which has grown to great proportions in the past few years has certain drawbacks according to a cat-lover. Cat license bills have been introduced in several States, some giving a bounty on cats, which naturally is a strong temptation to the theft and killing of pet cats. It is calculated that bird-literary schools is certain to arouse enmity to the cat in the minds of children, who are often at a loss to know why to save the birds the poor pussy must suffer.

of Philadelphia every rat costs the public one dollar per year. In farming districts this estimate is increased as rats and mice revel in young poultry, eggs, corn in the milk stage, and other vegetables and grain, both in the fields and in the bins. Much fruit and vegetables are lost from rodents during transportation. Every wholesale produce dealer is a firm friend of the cat and many a stray animal finds a home in fruit establishments, storage buildings, canaries and freight warehouses.

Many nervous mothers fear the cat as a child's pet because of germs. The Chinese feel very differently. In China "official cats" are kept to keep rats from spreading the plague. As the danger is greatest in coast towns the government has recently ordered that the number of cats kept in them should be greatly increased. In Hong Kong, a cat is compulsory for every house, and for some of the larger homes three must be kept.

The usefulness of the cat is not fully appreciated. As one writer puts it: "Cats are Nature's expert destroyer of rats and mice, acknowledged to be unexcelled, because they seek them where nothing else could reach." According to the health department

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
