MISS VIOLET E. ALBRIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Albright, 1327 Kittatinny street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vio-let E. Albright, to John A. Clarke, Easton, Pa., formerly of this city, at a 5 o'clock supper Monday evening.

Executive Mansion in Evidence in Refurnishings

It's quite a change from the privacy of home life to that of the mistress of the Executive Mansion, but, Mrs. Martin G. Brumbaugh, the "first lady of Pennsylvania" is going to be fully equal to the demands made on her by society. Of medium height, lots of soft brown hair, most becomingly arranged, expressive eyes, rich coloring and a manner both charming and gracious, she will attract and hold a wide circle of friends in her new home

Mome.

Mrs. Brumbaugh is a college woman, graduating first from Juniata College at Huntingdon, her home town, and afterward in the English course at Drexel. She is interested in literature and music, outdoor sports, especially golf and has always wanted a home in the country. The Governor says "she has rare commonsense" and this added to a great love of beauty has been useful to her in the remodeling and rearranging of the Executive Mansion, much of the work being done directly under her supervision.

being done directly under her supervision.

A lover of animals, Mrs. Brumbaugh has brought with her from Germantown her dog, Fritz, a St. Charles Spaniel, who is full of clever tricks and most kindly disposed toward all callers on his mistress.

The mansion, in its new garb, will be a delightful surprise to the people of the State, for it is more like a real home than a State exhibit. The large drawingroom with its tapestried walls in soft pastel shades and the furniture coverings to harmonize, in wistaria or plum brocades, is most beautiful and the chandeliers have tall crystal candles instead of the heavy ornate glass shades. The Colonial stairway, running the entire four floors is more attractive than the heavy woodwork used before and the State dinigroom with the dark mahogany wood and raftered ceiling is stately and dignified. New bedrooms have been added for the comfort of guests, hallways cut through on the third floor and passages from one room to another closed on the second, making Mrs. Brumbaugh's apartments more private and prettier. All the old furnishings have been utilized as far as possible and the arrangements through-closed on the second, making Mrs. Brumbaugh's apartments more private and prettier. All the old furnishing have been utilized as far as possible and the arrangements throughout the mansion are artistic and comfortable.

Of course, it is rather early to say anything definite about entertaining, but both the Governor and his wife want to make friends as early as possible with their Harrisburg neighbors and will do their full share in the way of getting acquainted.

Mrs. Brumbaugh will probably have two afternoon "At Homes" before Lent begins, the dates to be announced through the daily papers. No invitations will be issued for these events to which the women of the city are always welcome. Mrs. Brumbaugh loves to entertain in a quiet way, having in just a few friends to dinner or luncheon, but there will be the larger receptions and entertainments always demanded by society of the Chief Executive and his wife.

The Governor's lady says she has never declared for suffrage, although she is most interested in the cause and thinks it would benefit women largely. As for card playing, she has "never had time to learn bridge" and this has been the case with many other society diversions. She is largely interested in charities, usually contributing through associations, taking up the work as they have organized it.

Everyone is going to like Mrs. Brumbaugh for a neighbor, and Harrisburg folks, the friendliest in the country, are glad she has come here to live, even for the three remaining years of the Governor's term. Quite a number of the older residents of the city are arranging dinners complimentary to the Governor and his bride and they will attend dances and club events as guests of honor.

Taste of New Mistress of the Miss Violet E. Albright to Will Celebrate Washington's Birthday Next Tuesday With Marry John A. Clarke, of Exercises and Tea Easton

Harrisburg Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is planning one of the most interesting events of its history in celebration of Washington's Birthday, Tuesday afternoon, February 22, at 3 o'clock, in assembly hall of the Y. M. C. A., Second and Locust streets.

The regent, Miss Cora Lee Snyder, will preside and the program will include patriotic music, an address by the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, whose fame as an orator is widespread, the reading of Reginald Wright Kaufman's stirring war poem, "Daybreak," by Mrs. Maurice E. Finney, and songs by Mrs. William K. Bumbaugh, soprano, who will sing as one of her numbers the old-time "Sword of Bunker Hill."

After the meeting tea will be served with Mrs. Henry McCormick as hostess, who will pour with Mrs. Daniel Hartman Hastings, of Bellefonte, a former regent of the D. A. R. chapter of that place. Assisting will be some of the younger girls, including Miss Louise Carney, Miss Dora Wickersham Cee, Miss Elizabeth Ross, Miss Sara Denehey, Miss Mary Elizabeth Meyers and Miss Eleanor Neal Clark.

attitude that has been so noticeable ever since he first stood before the bar to answer for the crime.

The defense closed its testimony half an hour after court convened this atternoon and the Commonwealth offered but one witness in rebuttal. This was in reiteration of the Commonwealth's contention that Kotur had cursed the man he afterward slew.

Ex-Recorder O. G. Wickersham, who with S. Duncan Wylle, is counsel for Kotur, finished the final plea to the jury just before the noon adjournment. He pleaded that under no circumstances had the State made out its case of murder in the first degree, and that the jury was not justified in returning a verdict even of murder in the second degree.

With the reconvening of the session this afternoon, Assistant District Attorney Frank B. Wickersham summed up the Commonwealth's side of the case. In conclusion he vigorously demanded a verdict of murder in the first degree.
