Annville, Pa., Peb. 19. — Under the direction of "Jack" Ozar, Lebanon Valley's Greek grappler, the final matches of the interclass wrestling bouts were held last evening in the college gymnasium. Ralph Crabill, a Dillsburg boy, and the school's starwrestler in the 132-pound class, assisted Ozar in refereeing.

In the heavy weight division, Von Bereghy, former Harrisburg Tech athlete and now weight record holder in the intercollegiates, had an easy time with Gonders, throwing the latter man with a reverse body-lock. Swartz, last season's captain of the football team; vanquished Wenrich in eight minutes. The best match of the evening was between Donahue and De-Huff, both men going the limit of 15 minutes without gaining Ozar's decision. In the 145-pound class, Garver of Mt. "Scow" Garner, former Tech star, is playing a great game at forward for the Bucknell University five. The collegians have one of the best teams since the days of George Cockill, when the latter played at center. Recently, Bucknell trimmed Albright, Ursinus, and Muhlenberg on successive nights, a feat not accomplished by any team this season. In these contests Garner tallied 51 points. Boyles of Steelton is playing a great game at guard on the same team.

When it comes to real basketball stars local athletes hold prominent positions on many college teams. Lebanon Valley College has "Bill' Swartz of Middletown as captain, Loomis of Tech and Atticks of Steelton. The Reserves also include Harrisburg and Steelton stars.

Chances for Central landing the Pennsylvania Interscholastic hooses the real season are good. Central's victory at Steelton was the first in eight years on Felton hall floor. The maplaying a great game at forward for clude home contests, one with Steel-
