

STATE LIVE BIRD SHOOTERS SEEK HONORS HERE TODAY---TECH PLAYS ROSEWOOD

SCHOLASTIC RACE IS NEAR FINISH

Greenawalt Is Star Scorer; Central High Has Good Chance to Win

Scoring six goals from field and 11 fouls in the game played against Tech at the Auditorium last Thursday night for a total of 23 points, Greenawalt, York High's star pivot man took the lead in the Central Pennsylvania basketball league as chief scorer. He displaced Snyder, the Reading forward, who has held the lead since the opening of the season.

The York star has amassed a total of 184 points for eight games, leading in total points scored as well as points per game. Reading still continues to lead the league in both defensive and offensive play. The "bunch" have averaged slightly less than 35 points per game, while their opponents were held to 25 tallies on an average for each contest.

Rote, the Central captain, has made more field goals per contest than any other guard in the league. However, he has missed several contests with his team.

Want Central to Win

With Tech practically eliminated from the race, because of the York and Reading defeats in this city, local followers are looking for Central to cop the pennant. This is how they figure. Coach McCord's proteges have five more games to play, four of which will be on their own floor. The only game to be played away is at Lancaster next Saturday night. If Rote plays for Central the local team runs good prospects of winning the game and the pennant.

Both contests with Tech are on the Auditorium floor, while Steelton and Reading come to this city for return games. This would allow Central to end the season, providing it wins its home games, with nine victories and three defeats, with York and Reading tied for second place with eight wins and four defeats.

Steelton Must Help

For this to happen Steelton will have to defeat Reading at Steelton, and Lebanon will be compelled to win at home in its remaining games. With the season six weeks off and the teams closely bunched, one slip will "spill the beans" for any pennant contender. With Central playing four of its remaining five games at home, and Rote in the game at Lancaster next Saturday local devotees of the indoor game look for Central to clean up five straight games.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Reading	6	1	.857
York	2	2	.500
Central	4	3	.556
Lebanon	3	3	.500
Lancaster	2	4	.333
Tech	2	5	.286
Steelton	1	5	.167

Ad Wolgast Lands Match With Lightweight Champion

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Ad Wolgast will clash with Lightweight Champion Freddie Welsh in a 10-round bout at Milwaukee, Wis., March 6, it was announced yesterday.

Larney Lichenstein, Wolgast's manager, announced the matching of Joe Welling against Frankie Burns, of Oakland, Cal., at Kansas City for February 21, and Benny Palmer, at Milwaukee, February 25.

Lichenstein says he has an offer from St. Paul (Minn.) promoters to pit Welling against Johnny O'Leary, of Canada, about March 1.

Child's Welfare Exhibit to Be Held March 15-22

The Child's Welfare Exhibit will be held at the Bowman and Company department store, Market street, March 15 to 22. On Sunday, March 12, special exercises will be held in the local churches. Mrs. Frank Hall is chairman of the general committee and John Yates of the Associated Charities, is chairman of the executive committee in charge of this exhibit.

LOCAL TOSSERS TO START BUSY WEEK

Tech Meets All-Star Five Tonight; Two Hard Games For Central High

Harrisburg basketball fans will have plenty of sport to their liking this week. To-night the Tech varsity five will meet the Rosewood-Thespians aggregation. The game will be played on the Chestnut Street Auditorium floor. There will be a big dance program after the contest. This is one of a series of eliminative games between local amateur teams. In the Rosewood line-up will be scheduled stars including Krout, of Steelton; Kent, formerly captain of Milton High School; Tittle, a former Tech star; Killinger, of Tech; and Zeigler, Central. There will also be a wrestling match between Fitzpatrick, of Tech, and Roth, of the Harrisburg Academy.

Central Meets Tyrone

On Friday night Central will meet the Tyrone High tossers. This game, while not a league contest, promises much interest. Tyrone has a strong team and is expected to give the locals a hard chase. Central's next game in the scholastic league will be at Lancaster, Saturday night, with the Lancaster High. With the exception of Rote, all the regulars will be in these games. The Central High girls will journey to Chambersburg Saturday for a contest with the co-eds of that place. The Harrisburg Independents have scheduled the Trenton team of the Eastern League as the Saturday night attraction. To-night the Harrisburg Telegraph tossers will visit Elizabethtown for a game with the all-star team of that place.

Champion Willard Better; Ready to Start Training

Chicago, Feb. 22.—"Jess Willard is not only nearly recovered from his cold, but is in fine physical trim," said his manager, Tom Jones yesterday. The champion went for a long walk in Rogers Park, the first outdoor exercise he has taken since he broke off training ten days ago.

"All these stories about Willard are pure bunk," said Jones. "They have been spread by some soreheads in Chicago who formerly helped train him. Jess is feeling so much better that I would not be at all surprised if we started for New York before the end of the week. He will do a bit of training here two or three days, perhaps—before starting East."

"Right now all that is the matter with Willard is the hang over from a cold. It has really helped him in one way. He weighed about 255 pounds when he stopped training. Now he weighs around 250."

CHAMPION DEFENDS HIS STATE TITLE

Members of Harrisburg's Sportsmen's Association to-day held their twenty-ninth annual Pennsylvania Livebird Championship Shoot. This event brought to Harrisburg many shooters from all over Pennsylvania, including Joseph Graves, of Delaware Water Gap. He is the present holder of the State title. A close contender for honors to-day was John G. Martin, president of the local association, and a former State champion. There is no more active shooter in the State than the local leader. To-day's contests started at 10 o'clock this morning and was expected to end at 4:30 this afternoon.

JOHN G. MARTIN

Tommy Livingston Wins From Harrisburg Fighter

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 22.—The opening show of the new boxing club conducted by Frankie Erne was held last night with a large crowd in attendance. A program of six bouts was presented. Julie Ritchie, Lancaster, knocked out Jess Gilbert, of Williamsport, in the fifth round.

In the semi-final, Tommy Livingston, of Philadelphia, outclassed Willie Green, of Harrisburg, and gave him a severe lacing. Billy Waltz outfought Young McGinnis in a hard battle. Park Hensel and Dick Gottwald, of York, drew in six rounds.

GOLF CLUB PLANS FOR BUSY SEASON

Harrisburg Park Members Elect Officers and Arrange For Contests

WILLIAM F. DARBY

President Harrisburg Park Golf Club.

Plans for another big season were discussed last night by the members of the Harrisburg Park Golf Club. The annual meeting was presided over by William F. Darby. The club decided to have the usual number of local contests and to accept challenges from other clubs if dates are satisfactory. W. F. Darby will arrange all matches.

The Harrisburg club will continue its membership in the United States Golf Association. Reports presented last night were interesting and showed a successful season last year. The total receipts were $1,201. There is a balance in the treasury of $195. The following officers were elected: President, William F. Darby, Steelton; vice-president, T. J. Devine, secretary-treasurer, G. W. Vint; executive committee, Messrs. Gilbert, Pavord, Wirt, Sauer and Hollinger.

Two new members were elected, Commissioner E. Z. Gross and V. Grant Forrer.

ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD UNION MEETING THURSDAY

Odd Fellows of the lodges in the city and vicinity will hold a union meeting Thursday evening in the hall of Dauphin lodge, No. 160, Past Grand Louis K. White, of Pittsburgh, president of the Wayside Inn home for aged Odd Fellows, will speak.

On Friday night the Past Grand's Association will meet in the hall of Steelton lodge. William M. Robison, president of the association, has outlined a special program for each meeting this year. Past Grand C. V. Myers will speak at the meeting Friday evening on "A Great Fraternity; its Organization." Mr. White will speak at this meeting also.

CITY MINISTERS MEET

Three ministerial associations of the city met yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. The Methodist pastors, in session in the morning, made a complaint that the funds donated to the home missionary work in the East Pennsylvania Conference, which are turned into the general conference treasury, should be used in local conference. The principal speakers were the Rev. A. S. Williams, pastor of the Camp Curtin Memorial Methodist Church, and Dr. A. S. Eslick, district superintendent.

The Rev. A. R. Ayres, of New Cumberland, addressed the United Brethren ministers yesterday on "The Strength and Weakness of Our Denominational Policy."

At the meeting of the Lutheran pastors in the afternoon the Rev. Dr. E. D. Weigle, of Camp Hill, spoke on "The Bible: Its Best Interpreter."

DRAGER-BARD WEDDING

Special to the Telegraph
Mountville, Pa., Feb. 22.—Miss Mary Bard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Bard, of Ironville, was married yesterday to Walter Drager at the parsonage of the United Brethren Church, the Rev. R. R. Butterwick officiating.

WELLY'S CORNER

Students at Central high have started a boost for baseball. A committee has presented a proposition to Professor Dibble and a reply is awaited. There is good baseball material at Central, and as Tech has been in this sport for several seasons, a local series would prove interesting. It is understood that the only obstacle is the necessary cash.

During furloughs from duty at the front English fighters got into the boxing game. Bombardier Wells, holder of the British heavyweight title, came back to London long enough to win a victory from Dick Smith. Pat O'Keefe, the middleweight champion, defeated Jim Sullivan. Both fights were hard battles.

Benny Leonard, of New York, last night put it all over Jimmy Murphy, of Philadelphia, knocking the Quaker out in the sixth round. It was a clean victory. The New York boy after his victory wanted it understood that he needs no bandages on his hands when he fights.

In order to have the public understand who is playing, G. Butler Sutton, champion billiardist, will write his name in full in the future. He has been mixed up in publicity with George Sutton, the handless wonder. "G. B. S." has invented a new play which he will introduce and does not want to have someone else get the honors.

"Red" Crane, the local infelder, is ready to move South for practice with the Mack team. The local player has been keeping in shape by daily practice at the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. He told his friends yesterday that he was going after good averages this year and intended to give Connie Mack his best efforts. He will be in the regular line-up and is anxious to move up with the stars.

The Harrisburg Independents were given a hard battle last night by the Tyrone Y. M. C. A. five. The game was played at Tyrone and the score was 25 to 20. Harrisburg was without the services of Geisel and McConnell, but put up a great game. McCord and Rote were stars. Benson led for Tyrone.

The Wharton School tossers at Tower City Saturday night defeated the all-star basketball team of that place; score, 40 to 25. The Wharton five has been a big factor in victories and games played in surrounding towns have shown the Harrisburgers strong contenders for the season honors. Himes, Wolfe, Killinger, Storey and Miller represented Wharton and played a star game. Updegrave was Tower City's honor man.

YALE MAN TO BE "LADY"

Douglas Moore to Take Feminine Role in "An Ideal Husband"

New York, Feb. 22.—Douglas S. Moore, one of the most widely known and most popular men at Yale and composer of the famous "Good Night, Harvard" song, which has been sung by thousands of Ell rooters, is learning to become a perfect lady. He has had a complete wardrobe of feminine apparel sent to New Haven and is spending all his spare time cultivating delicate feminine airs and a dainty walk. For Moore is going to be the leading woman in the Dramatic Association's production of Oscar Wilde's "An Ideal Husband" at the Waldorf on March 4. He takes the part of Mabel Chiltern, a young London society woman.

Moore, who comes from Brooklyn, has had some very alluring offers from "big time" managers.

PANHANDLERS BUSY

American Rescue Mission officials have issued a warning to the public that a number of panhandlers have arrived in the city and are soliciting from house to house. The men, it is said, beg clothes and then sell them for small sums, to secondhand dealers. Organizations distributing clothing to needy persons have been advised to investigate all applications.

GOES TO SCRANTON

Attorney Earl E. Renn was in Scranton yesterday on business pertaining to the federal court.

Civic League to Meet in St. Paul's Church

The Booker T. Washington Civic League of Harrisburg and Steelton, will hold its regular monthly meeting to-night at St. Paul's Baptist Church, State and Cameron streets. Archdeacon E. L. Hendrickson will preside. The meeting will start at 8:30 and the speakers will be Robert Nemmet, Steelton; and Harry Burris, Harrisburg.
