Druggists everywhere can tell of this experience in their sale of Mi-o-na, the well-known stomach remedy.

It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when customers come in afterward and tell you how much good it has done them.

Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at any drug store and take home a box of Mi-o-na and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money.

This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since it was introduced in Harrisburg shows that it does what it is claimed to do—relieves dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables those who use it to eat just what they want with no fear of trouble after.

NEGRO FOLKSONGS ON THE PROGRAM

Unusual Group of Songs and Piano Numbers at Wednesday Club Musicales

A most interesting and out-of-the-ordinary program will be heard at the seventh working musicale of the Wednesday Club to-morrow morning.

Never has a group of songs of the Negro race been so seriously considered as at the present time. In the music of this people have been found melodies of deep pathos and of great joy, which are favored with and oftentimes surpass the folk-songs of those nations which stand for the best in the realm of music.

As Liszt used the folk-songs and dances of the Hungarian peasant in his immortal rhapsodies, so Coleridge-Taylor, the most representative musician of his race, has used the quaint the wail, the plaintive, the warlike, and the barbaric melodies of the South, East and West African, of the Negro of the West Indies, of the North American Negro, whose songs were conceived in slavery, and therefore tinged with the gloom of that undying hope of freedom.

"Spirituels" which are not found in the music of any other race. The lighter songs of the "negro nation" is ably expressed in the "bamboula," an African dance, indigenous to the West Indies. This is danced to a melody composed by David White, who puts to shame the rag-time effusions to which society lends willing ears and obedient feet.

The program, arranged by Edwin J. Deane, of Harrisburg Conservatory of Music, is here given as it will be presented to-morrow morning at Fahnstock Hall: (a) "The Ballad of Warrior's Song," S. Coleridge-Taylor; (b) "The Negro American, Emancipation songs," "Many Thousands Go," and "Done Wid Dribin," Spiritual song, Deep River, harmonized by Edwin J. Deane; (c) "Sweet Little Woman o' Mine," Bartlett; (d) "Nuttin'," Carpenter; (e) "Stolen Wings," Wiley; (f) "The Gypsy Daisier," (g) "My Desire," (h) "Necklace of Love," Nevin; Mrs. Drumgold; (i) "Meditation," from "Thais," Massenet; Mr. Froehlich; (j) "Stolen Wings," Wiley; (k) "The Gypsy Daisier," (l) "A Birthday," Woodman; Mrs. Drumgold; vocal, "To the Moon," Lovedy; Mr. Froehlich; (m) "Stolen Wings," Wiley; (n) "The Gypsy Daisier," (o) "My Desire," (p) "Necklace of Love," Nevin; Mrs. Drumgold; (q) "Meditation," from "Thais," Massenet; Mr. Froehlich; (r) "Stolen Wings," Wiley; (s) "The Gypsy Daisier," (t) "A Birthday," Woodman; Mrs. Drumgold; vocal, "To the Moon," Lovedy; Mr. Froehlich; (u) "Stolen Wings," Wiley; (v) "The Gypsy Daisier," (w) "My Desire," (x) "Necklace of Love," Nevin; Mrs. Drumgold; (y) "Meditation," from "Thais," Massenet; Mr. Froehlich; (z) "Stolen Wings," Wiley.
