BUSY WEEK FOR SCHOOL TOSSERS

Central and Tech Clash To-morrow Night; Greenawalt Quits York Five

Central and Tech basketball teams will clash in the first of the series between the two schools to-morrow evening, on Auditorium floor. The contest will be played under the management of the Maroon school, as the first game which was originally to be played on the Tech floor, was transferred to Chestnut street because of the cramped quarters in the Tech gymnasium.

This contest will by far be the most important to be played in this vicinity or in the Central Pennsylvania league during the week. Next in importance will be the struggle between the Reserve fives of the two institutions, which will be staged on the same night as a preliminary to the big fight.

Central will follow up this contest by traveling to Tyrone Friday night where it will line up against the High school quintet of that place. On the following day they will play the annual game with the York School College Freshmen on the latter's floor.

Tech has Big Week Tech will follow up its strenuous night when it clashes with Central by preparing for the Sunbury high game at that place Friday night. Central co-eds will also journey to Tyrone on Friday to play the girls' team of that school.

On the same evening in the Central Pennsylvania league, Lebanon high visits Steelton, while Reading goes to York. The latter team will be without the services of Greenawalt, who has left the York School to compare for an appointment to West Point.

Following the game at York, Reading will go to Lancaster for the return contest with the Red Rose. Saturday night Camp Hill High school will play at York with the Collegiate Institute team.

Middletown High school and the Harrisburg Academy have completed successful schedules in the cage. In each case the team has finished with practically the same number of games won as lost.

In the Central Pennsylvania league the schedules will continue during the month of March, although the results of this week's contests are expected to definitely decide the pennant winner in the league.

WELLY'S CORNER

International League baseball last season is responsible for the present clamor on the part of local fans for a fast game this year.

The general impression prevails among local supporters that independent baseball would not be a success in Harrisburg.

The Atlantic League with a bunch of youngsters, it is believed, would furnish interesting sport and attract large crowds. There are doubts, however, that any better game would be forthcoming than is furnished each season by local amateur and semiprofessional teams.

No players have been signed by the Atlantic League as yet and it is still a question as to what class of baseball may be expected.

Mark Adams, a Dauphin county pitching product, who was a star in Tri-State days, is coming back. He will play this season with the Wheeling, W. Va., team. Adams' arm went bad, but is again in good shape.

He has been working in the Pennsylvania Railroad blacksmith shops in this city and his pitching arm is stronger than ever. He is also taking daily gymnastic training and is anxious to make good.

Conie Mack has cut down his squad prior to taking his pitchers to Jacksonville. Three pitchers, Wilbur Davis, Harry Eccles and Walter Archer, are free to sign with any team.

Two infielders, Harry Douran and Harry Seabold, were also released. This means that "Red" Crane, of Harrisburg, and the rest of the squad are sure of work. Crane is to be a regular this season.

With the payment of debts amounting to $60,000 and approval of sales of players, the Federal League was to have officially quit business on Saturday at Chicago. However, there can be no surrender of charter until Baltimore owners come to the front with $10,000 as their share of the losses.

It is also said there will be a strike among players, and until all claims are settled the Federal League will exist.

Reports from Albany announce one J. Percy Stetter, of Williamsport, as being a bidder for the New York League franchise. He wants George Cockill to manage the team. It is also said that John K. Tener, president of the National League, is back of Manager Cockill and wants the franchise transferred to this city.

The only obstacle now in the way of a franchise for Harrisburg is said to be the price. Cockill expects to be in Harrisburg to-day or to-morrow. He hopes for a final answer by Thursday.

Local promoters were in communication to-day with President Farrell, Harrisburg's chances are still good.

Yale lost to Penn Saturday and the intercollegiate race is now said to be between the Philadelphia tossers, Cornell and Princeton. Games on this week's schedule may decide the race.

Yale has not given up by any means and may show a spurt similar to that of last season.

Rockland, Me., Feb. 28. — A speed three-quarters of a knot in excess of contract requirements was attained by the superdreadnaught Pennsylvania when she was pushed on the fastest mile of her standardization tests at the rate of 31.75 knots an hour.

Eleven runs were made to complete the tests halted by thick weather last Thursday. The average for five high-speed runs was 21.28 knots per hour. Three runs each were made at nineteen and twenty-one knots. In her record spurt the big ship, which has been hailed by American naval officers as the most powerful fighter afloat, was driven by her propellers at the rate of 216.4 revolutions a minute.
