

CENTRAL TRIMS TECH--LOCAL FANS IN DEEP GLOOM

LADIES DAY FOR CHAMPION JESS

Big Fellow to Entertain Fair Sex Every Friday Afternoon; Enthusiastic Fans

Special to the Telegraph.
New York, March 1.—The presence of a dozen or more women at Jess Willard's training quarters at the Pioneer A. C. yesterday has caused Willard to set aside every Friday afternoon as "ladies' day" at his camp. The first "ladies' day" will be on Friday afternoon of this week. Not only will Willard go through his training routine, but also will Johnny Ertle, the bantamweight champion.

Since it was announced that a section could be reserved for women and their escorts at the Willard-Moran fight contest, which is to be held at Madison Square Garden on March 25, the interest shown in boxing by women has been surprising, according to the ticket sellers.

Women Fans Increase
A few months ago the presence of women at the ticket office of the Garden looking for pasteborders was unheard of. Every day now women step right up to the window and buy seats for the bout. Few women have attended boxing bouts in New York, but the Willard-Moran bout may establish a fad.

The women who saw Willard box at the Pioneer Club were the most enthusiastic spectators in the hall. When the champion and Walter Monahan started to mix it up and slam each other for all they were worth it was the women spectators who led the applause. The champion and his sparring partner went about their work with a vengeance.

GIRLS PLAY FAST GAME
In the girls' interclass series at Central high school, the Juniors yesterday won from the Freshmen; score 15 to 7; and the Seniors defeated the Sophomores, score 14 to 19. Both games were closely contested.

Deaths and Funerals
MRS. ELLA B. FLEGEAL
Mrs. Ella B. Flegeal, aged 51, wife of F. F. Flegeal, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 1516 Penn street, from a complication of diseases. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Maude E. Fessler, two grandchildren; her father, Morris E. Lewis; one sister, Mrs. Annie Griffith, and three brothers, Joseph, Romus and Titus Lewis. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, the Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler, pastor of the Second Reformed church, officiating. Burial will be made at the East Harrisburg cemetery.

MRS. CAROLINE ETTER
Mrs. Caroline Etter, aged 70, a resident of this city for many years, widow of Daniel Etter, died last evening at the home of her son, William H. Etter, 1924 Penn street, after an illness of eight weeks. She is survived by one son, five grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, the Rev. Jesse Guy Smith, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of Christ officiating.

SALE OF ALBANY FRANCHISE BRINGS GLOOM TO LOCAL FANS

No Official Word From President Farrell or Manager George Cockill; Will Await Further Information

The announcement from Albany that Dr. F. N. Tate of that city had purchased the Albany franchise in the New York State League, was a body blow to local fans. It was known that Charles M. Winchester, the owner, was negotiating with local interests, but assurance was given that if Harrisburg would come to terms the transfer would be made. Dr. Tate says he will continue the team at Albany.

Local promoters were not in a talkative mood to-day. They could not say what yesterday's sale would mean, or would vouch for its accuracy. Manager George Cockill held the option, and it is understood his offer was better than the price paid by Dr. Tate. Until an official report is received from President Farrell approving the sale, local boosters will continue playing the waiting game.

Harrisburg Wrestlers Win at Lebanon Valley College

Harrisburgers were victorious last night in the first of a series of wrestling matches at Lebanon Valley College. Howard Kreider, the Harrisburg Academy star, won a quick decision over "Red" Donahue of Lebanon Valley College. Von Bereghy, the start athlete, also a Harrisburger, won over Machen, a classmate. The fall was made in seven minutes. "Jack" Ozar, the Greek wrestler, of Lebanon Valley College, threw "Tom" Draak, the Holland champion, after 42 minutes of whirlwind effort. The fall came with such crushing force as to cause Draak to suffer a dislocation of his left shoulder. Because of a difference in weight, Ozar at 165 and Draak at 210, the latter was under contract to throw Ozar twice in an hour. "Jack" Brown gained two falls over "Johnny" Green, both being Lebanon boys.

Weeks Declares Democrats Lead in Extravagances

Philadelphia, March 1.—Attacking the record of the present Democratic administration as inconsistent with the national platform upon which President Wilson was elected, Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, last night delivered an address on "The Finances of the United States," at a reception given in his honor in the Union League building. He declared that after the platform makers had taken a spectacular stand for economies in government there was no practical evidence to show the declaration has been given any consideration. Instead its extravagances have exceeded any in the history of the nation, he stated.

Bits From Sportland

The St. Matthew's five last night defeated the Eagle A. C., score 26 to 21. Holland was a big star for the Tech Reserves in last night's game against Central.

Milburn Saylor the lightweight boxer, who has been ill, is recovering. The Parthenon Reserves of New Cumberland last night lost to the O'Leary five, score 14 to 14.7. The Harrisburg Y. M. H. A., quintet lost last night to the Invincibles, score 32 to 2.

FORCES OF CROWN PRINCE ARE HALTED

In explaining the budget, said it was expected to realize more than 500,000,000 rubles from new sources of revenue created by the state of war. He had such confidence in the spirit of the Russian people to make permanent the advantages gained by temperance, he added, that he was loading himself with the heavy responsibility of drafting urgent legislation and devising taxes to cover the diminution of receipts caused by cessation of the sale of liquor so as to avoid all temptation to return to the past.

CENTRAL WINS IN GAME WITH TECH

Thomas Is Big Scoring Star; Harris Prominent in Good Work

Central High tilters last night secured a stronger grip on the Central Pennsylvania interscholastic championship chances by defeating Tech five; score, 38 to 24. The Reserves evened up, Tech's squad winning from Central; score, 26 to 35.

The big game was fast. Both teams showed special work near the finish. Central had the lead, but at times fell down in tossing and other work, and had Tech shown any kind of team work at these stages the score would have been different.

Central's goal shooting was an interesting feature. Thomas was leader for the victors, scoring 22 points. Rote and Hilton did good work. Harris was Tech's star, scoring 20 of the 24 points. Horace Geisel was referee and his work was very satisfactory. The lineup and summary follow:

Table with 2 columns: Player Name, Points. Includes Wallower, Harris, Thomas, Houtz, Rote, Hilton, Beck, Miller, Polleck, Yoffee, Totals, Fouls called.

Pick Penn State Athletes For Big Indoor Track Meet

State College, Pa., March 1.—Final trials were held at Kaufman State yesterday to select the athletes who will wear the Blue and White at the intercollegiate games to be held Saturday at Madison Square Garden. Track Coach Martin is elated over the results of the time trials and he expects to have Penn State represented by three teams that will duplicate last year's showing when State's sprinters won the short distance relay race from Cornell, Harvard, Yale, Massachusetts Tech and Pennsylvania.

W. M. Worcester Goes to the Kaufman Store

W. M. Worcester, a well-known resident of this city, who for many years has been identified with local business institutions has accepted a position with the Kaufman Undersealing Store as manager of five new departments which will shortly be opened at the Kaufman store, announcement of which will be made at a later date.

French Are Confident of Ability to Hurl Back Any New Assaults by Germans

Paris, March 1.—That the situation around Verdun is now well in hand and considered quite satisfactory from the French point of view is freely stated by the military experts. To the northeastern part of the stronghold the chief effort of the Germans seems to be directed to the rescue of the Brandenburgers who remain cooped up in the ruined casemates of Fort Douaumont.

DECRY LICENSING OF LENNOX HOTEL

traveling public. Furthermore, he said, he had never heard anyone ask for hotel accommodations at the Lennox.

What the Public Avoids
The fact that the north side of Market street was more generally traveled by people en route to and from their homes on the Hill was attributed by Mr. Barker to the presence of so many hotels on the south side. They used the upper side of the street, he said, because they were not so subject to insult and inconvenience due to the liquor emporiums on the lower side.

Mr. Affleck's objection was equally drastic. Enough hotels exist, he said, for the accommodation of the public. Nor was a license necessary, he added, and referred to the Commonwealth as an unprosperous place which "seems to be doing very well." Furthermore, Mr. Affleck doesn't believe that German, French and other people who have been accustomed to having their beer and wine would suffer for the lack of it.

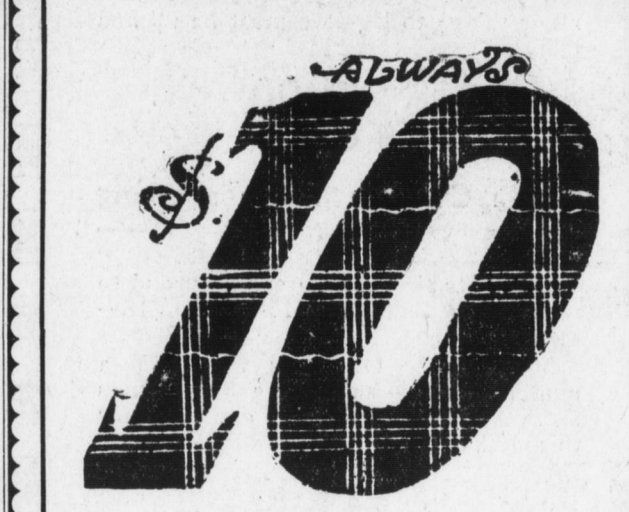

The Business Man's Viewpoint
"Men who are employed as traveling salesmen are not being given the same consideration if they are drinking men. Firms are cutting out the drinking men entirely, and more. The number of drinking men who are employed to-day is much smaller than the number employed twenty years ago."

Naughty Newspapers
"Do you believe anything you see in the newspapers. Mr. Affleck?" he asked, "or are you like myself—believe nothing you read in the papers?"

S. C. Boyer said he thinks there are enough hotels and that he had never heard any demand for anything else than sleeping accommodations. And he had been dealing, he said, with traveling salesmen for twenty years.

Charles L. Boyer, an ex-poor director, followed. He, too, thinks there are enough hotels in the city. "Why," smilingly inquired Mr. Boyer, "surely you are not opposed to the sale of liquor?"

WELLY'S CORNER

Central's victory over Tech last night brought many expressions of satisfaction from local basketball fans. Much credit for the good work belongs to Coach McCord. He has worked hard to get a winning team.

Waynesboro is making elaborate preparations for the game Friday night, when the Harrisburg Telegraph tilters meet the champion five of that place, the Alphas. Here is how they announce the game: "The Harrisburgers are crack players, most of them are ex-college stars, but the Alpha club members are not uneasy, as they expect to come off the floor victorious."

William C. Bruce, the big, red-haired center of the Academy basketball squad, was yesterday unanimously elected captain of the 1917 basketball team. Bruce, who is one of the most popular fellows in the school, will have a large remainder of this year's team to form next season's. With Moore,

Phillips, Shaw, Ross and several of the substitutes besides himself, he will have quite an aggregation to start the season with.

The Boston Nationals have been insured against accident. A total of $500,000 has been placed on the Braves. Every player on the team is included and there are special clauses in the policies covering star players against accidents of any kind.

Man said he had tried to conduct the place without a license, but that on July 1 he had to quit, as it didn't pay. He had to work on the roads to help pay his expenses.
