

HAZLETON'S CHAMPION LEAGUE TEAM HERE SATURDAY--WILLARD NEEDS TRAINING

TECH TRACK MEN PRACTICE DAILY

Many Young Athletes Work Hard For Coming Spring Events

Candidates for the track team that will represent the Technical High school this Spring are hard at work preparing for the track well as the field events. Coach Peet has a squad of 20 getting into condition on the third floor of the Technical High school building, while candidates for the weight events are in charge of Coach Hill, who started outdoor work with a squad of 12 last evening on the vacant lot opposite the Walnut street institution.

While most of the lads who will try out for the weight events are inexperienced, it is expected that several stars will be developed before the close of the season. Those who responded for the weights are William Wagner, Haehelen, Demming, Howard Wagner, Karl Beck, Hempt Crist, Little, Wallace, McKay, Winward and Musser Miller.

The baseball season on the Pennsylvania railroad system circuit will start May 6. Games will be played on Saturdays and holidays. There are eight teams in the league this year, and the local Motive Power nine will start at Island Park May 13 with Philadelphia. The local team plays at home every two weeks.

HAZLETON NEXT ON LOCAL BILL

State League Tossers Meet Independents Saturday Night; Role in Line-up

The Hazleton basketball team, of the Pennsylvania State League, will be the opponents of the Harrisburg Independents Saturday night. This is the only State league team which will play in Harrisburg this season. Hazleton is among the leaders in the State League race, which is very close this season. The article of ball played is about the same as that displayed in the Eastern league. Many former stars tempted by the large salaries paid, are now in the new league, and have brought the game up to a high standard.

The Independents will have their regular line-up to oppose the coal region boys, and hope for a victory. Rote, who played with Central High at Lancaster last week, will again play his regular position, while Ford will be moved back to his old position at guard.

Fred Cooper With Trenton New Life For Big Leaguers

Trenton, March 2.—Fred Cooper, one of the brainiest basketball men in the country, is to lead Trenton's 1916-17 Eastern League team. This bit of news was uncovered yesterday by E. C. Kuser, who recently returned from a fishing trip to the South. Cooper may even take hold of the club for the rest of the present season.

The return of Mr. Kuser caused an upheaval in the ranks of the Trenton Club, for in addition to the fact that Cooper will be secured to handle the club, it will not be surprising if Joe Fogarty is resigned, if he can be secured from Greystock. Another youngster will be given a trial on the Trenton team, too. This was announced last night by Mr. Kuser after he had seen Billy Lloyd perform in the Lantz-Greystock Reserve preliminary game on Monday. The new owner of the Trenton team believes that Lloyd is worthy of a good trial and will very likely have him in action next Monday night.

Bits From Sportland

AMATEURS—The Belmont A. C. will meet tomorrow night for reorganization. Plans were discussed at a preliminary meeting and with the election of officers and signing of players this team will be ready for business after tomorrow.

The Galahad Recreation Club held its annual banquet last night and discussed plans. A strong baseball team will enter the field. The officers elected are:

GALBRAITH VISITS LENTZ
Bertram Galbraith, tax receiver, of Milton, Pa., was a guest at the courthouse yesterday. He dropped in to visit James E. Lentz, county recorder.

GLOBE TEAM WINS GAME
The Globe Right Posture five last night won from the Y. M. C. A., score 25 to 19. Miller, Moore, Richards and Lingle played the best game for the Globe quintet and Kline lead for Y. M. C. A.

HOSE CO. ELECTS
The Washington Hose Company of the Firemen's League met last night and elected William Bamford, manager, and J. H. Chenoweth, captain.

Frank Moran Keeps His Famous Smile

Despite the fact that he is to meet Champion Jess Willard in the prize ring on March 25, Frank Moran still has the courage to smile when the photographer took this picture at Frank's training camp at Saratoga Lake, N. Y. Perhaps the $20,000 that the big blond Pittsburgher will receive for his night's work is the cause of his smile.

HARD TRAINING WILLARD'S NEED

Champion's Weight Worries Manager; Sparring Partners Are Too Tame

Special to the Telegraph
New York, March 2.—After five days of training Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world, has decided that he is not getting rid of his surplus avoirdupois as rapidly as he expected. In fact Willard weighed just about as much yesterday as he did when he first came to town. The champion and his manager, Tom Jones, realized that the course of training that Willard has been following is not strenuous enough. Willard extended the distance of his road work and ran around Central Park until he had covered about eight miles. In the afternoon when he went to the Pioneer A. C. for his gymnasium work, Jones, the champion's manager, decided that his road work had been so hard that the champion would have to cut short his work in the ring. He boxed two short rounds with Jack Hemple and two shorter ones with Walter Monahan. Then Willard was tired and willingly hurried to his room to be rubbed down. The chairman of the Boxing Commission ventured the opinion that Willard needs some rough and ready sparring partners, as his exhibitions with Hemple and Monahan are too tame.

Joe Wood Loses Out With Boston Manager

Special to the Telegraph
Boston, March 2.—The Boston American League baseball club announced yesterday that all American and National League clubs had waived claim to Forest Cady and Chester Thomas, catchers, and to Ray Collins and Joe Wood, pitchers. Ray Collins was let out by the Red Sox because of trouble over his contract, the "southpaw" objecting to having his salary cut. Collins two years ago signed a three-year contract calling for $7,500 per season. Wood has been having trouble with his arm for a couple of years. Last season he made a good start, but his arm again went back on him and he did not get into the world series. Recently Wood has been working out with Tom Seaton in the gymnasium of Columbia University. He believes that his arm will be strong enough for regular work this year, but with an excellent pitching staff the management of the Red Sox did not believe that Joe was worth the risk of a large salary. Wood's stipend was said to have been $10,000 per year.

HUMMELSTOWN TEAMS WIN

The Hummelstown quintet last night defeated the Penns Yard Board five, score 30 to 21. The Monarchs defeated the Hamilton Grammar school five of Harrisburg, score 25 to 17. Both games were fast.

WELLY'S CORNER

The only hope for Harrisburg getting a New York League franchise is to buy out one of the present franchisees, or make a strenuous move to have Reading join, and have a ten team circuit. The option of Al W. Lawson on Lauer's Park at Reading expired yesterday. Local promoters are awaiting word from Jimmy Sheekard as to prospects.

The sale of the Albany franchise to local interests has not yet been approved officially. An opinion prevails that it is a ruse to make Harrisburg come across with a higher price than was offered. The Albany franchise is not worth $4,000. Should Harrisburg get the franchise it would be necessary to sign up an entirely new team. The players under contract with Albany are not worth more than $1,500.

The Motive Power Athletic Association of the Pennsylvania Railroad is showing great activity. Mike Friel who knows how to develop ball players has a squad that means the strongest team that has ever represented Harrisburg in P. R. R. System series. The players who are likely to shine this season have been working with the railroad company for seven months and will be eligible for a place on the team.

The Board of Governors of the Motor Club of Harrisburg will meet tomorrow night. There will be something doing according to reports. A number of questions are on the calendar for discussion and J. Clyde Myton the secretary, expects to take up plans for the Spring and summer events.

The Central Pennsylvania League is not likely to get a start this season. Middletown was a financial loser last season, and it is not certain what the association in that place will do for baseball. There will be a team, but it is the general opinion that independent baseball will prove more profitable.

Steelton and New Cumberland are the only towns that would prove a success financially. Highspire is out of the league game for some time to come. Lebanon is after an Atlantic League franchise and Hershey lost money last season, and will also play independent baseball.

The local amateur teams are getting busy. The Galahads, Belmont A. C. and Washington Hose Company teams met last night and discussed plans for the season. Officers were elected and players will be signed up for an early start.

The Harrisburg Academy will add shooting to its list of sports. Prof. Allen is in charge and will drill a squad of 20 prospective crack shots two and three times each week. The Harrisburg Sportsmen's Association has granted the use of its grounds at Second and Division streets for practice shoots.
