Tragic Death of Perry County Couple in Fire

Special to the Telegraph
New Bloomfield, Pa., March 3.—Mr. and Mrs. David Stambaugh, who were burned to death in their home at Elliottsburg yesterday, were well known throughout the county. They were both about 70 years old. At the time of the fire, neighbors attempted to get into the house, but were driven back by the smoke and flames. It is believed that Mrs. Stambaugh went back into the bedroom to save her husband, who was partially deaf and had poor eyesight, and both were overcome by smoke. Mr. and Mrs. Stambaugh are survived by two sons, Charles, on the home farm, and John, in the West, and a daughter, Mrs. James Stambaugh, living near Elliottsburg.

War Veteran Only Survivor of Salisbury Prison Pens

Special to the Telegraph
Marietta, March 3.—Edward W. McElroy, the veteran auctioneer and Civil War veteran, is the last of the men who returned to Marietta in 1865, after having been prisoners in the Salisbury prison pens. When the "boys" came home not one of them was in good health and were given up as ready for the grave, there being seventeen in all. Mr. McElroy is heartily to-day, but sixteen of his comrades have died, the majority living to reach the age of 70 years. Mr. McElroy is 77 years of age.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

DIES AT PHILADELPHIA

Special to the Telegraph

Panama Lighthouses

The Panama Canal is provided with an adequate supply of the most up-to-date aids to navigation. The chances of accident have been so reduced that practically none have taken place. As the distances which make tall lighthouses necessary along the sea coast are not a factor in navigating the canal, most of these lighthouses are only fifteen or twenty feet high and are surmounted by a single high-power lamp which flashes and winks at regular intervals.

They are brilliant white in color, so that in daylight, among the tropical verdure, they look like new pieces of chalk set up in a lawn, while at night their winking lights are visible for many miles. They are set at every turn in the course through the lake, and are so arranged that vessels going in opposite directions, steered by the lights, will be sure of passing each other at safe distance. For there are often a number of ships from all parts of the world passing through Gatun at one time, and it is no unusual sight to see a great number of ocean-going vessels anchored among the tropical islands of this greatest of artificial lakes.

If you want to know all the facts about the building and operation of the great Isthmian waterway, as well as the story in detail of the working side of the entire federal government, you should read the two great patriotic books, "The Panama Canal" and "The American Government," both by Frederick J. Haskin. Read the offer in the Telegraph to its readers in the coupon printed elsewhere in to-day's issue.

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growth without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered danderrine and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine danderrine.

Coal Situation

There is plenty of good coal to be had now, but the supply of the future is uncertain owing to controversy between miners and operators. Even if there shouldn't be a strike, the granting of concessions demanded by the miners will mean still higher coal.

Let Kelley fill your bins now and be sure of your supply of good coal for at least another winter.

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED AFTER TAKING QUAKER HERB EXTRACT

Her name is Esther Hickenell; lives at 155 Susquehanna street, Middletown, Pa. For over two years this young lady suffered from the tortures of a tapeworm. Treatment obtained locally and outside cities failed to produce results. Doctors admitted their failure in the successful treatment of this particular case. Finally it was resolved to call at Keller's Drug Store and learn what the Health Teacher had to say. He recommended the Quaker treatment and so sure was he that this treatment would produce the required results that he said: If this Quaker treatment does not produce the required results within a day no charge will be made for it. Could any living person suggest more honest or liberal terms?

Miss Hickenell took the treatment carefully following directions and lo behold in less than 3 hours afterwards she expelled the monster tapeworm complete with head. It was indeed a monster. At that moment her life was saved. This cure spread like wildfire and created much excitement in Middletown. She is now being congratulated on all sides for her narrow escape from death. She and all her people at home will also testify that her cure is due to the Quaker treatment and nothing else. What do all the great cures mean? Why are they published? They mean that the Quaker remedies can be relied upon that they actually give results ever after all other remedies have failed. These cures in other words create confidence in the remedies. Therefore act quickly. So call to-day at Keller's Drug Store, 465 Market Street, where the genuine Quaker Herb Extract, $1.00 per bottle, three for $2.50 or six bottles for $5.00. Oil of Balm 25 and 50 cents a bottle. Kidney Pills 50 cents a box can be obtained at all times.—Advertisement.
