PICKS RED CRANE AS REAL COMER

Eddie Zimmerman Praises Connie Mack for Signing Harrisburg Star Infielder

Eddie Zimmerman last season's manager of the Harrisburg International League team is breaking into print. He is a great admirer of young players and in a recent article in the Philadelphia Inquirer praises Connie Mack for signing Red Crane of Harrisburg; and Pat Moran for his good work. Manager Zimmerman who will be with Newark this year says:

"Crane doesn't knock down fences, but I don't see any shortstops doing that. Crane will hit hard enough to keep in the big show."

Zimmerman hasn't much praise for Pick, the third baseman. "He's not a star," declares Zimmerman. "and there were three or four third basemen in the International League last season who were his superiors."

"I see that Pat Moran will have to let out a lot of pitchers to get down to the twenty-one-player limit, but I think that Oeschger will escape the pruning knife. He looked better than any pitcher in the league last year. He had lots of stuff and was always a cool, confident performer."

"He fielded his position like a Mathewson and altogether he looked like a real pitcher. Oeschger rejoined the Phils near the end of the season, but didn't have much chance to show his wares. Keep your eye on him this year."

STATE HIGH SCHOOL MEET MAY 20 AT ISLAND PARK

Grammar School Event to Be Held June 2; Will Reduce Track; Name Seven New Members

The Harrisburg Track Athletic Committee at a meeting in the offices of the City Department of Parks last night fixed May 20 as the date for the annual State high school track meet, to be held on Island Park. The Harrisburg grammar school meet will be held June 2.

All schools associated with the P. I. A. A. will be invited to send athletes here to compete in the events and any school not in the association may join before the meet and then make entries. P. I. A. A. rules will be carried out at the meet, but the running track will be reduced from one-quarter to one-sixth of a mile this year. This year necessitate running the 220-yard dash on a curve, but the 100-yard dash will not be affected. No date has been announced for the next meeting of the association. Plans will be started soon for the annual event and the largest number of entries ever made is expected.

The Technical and Steel high school track men have been out for some time and the call for men at Central is expected in a few days. Last year the Technical high school team walked away with the meet, running up a record score. A number of the athletes who brought the honor to the local school are out again this year for the same events which they won last Spring.

Other minor business matters were discussed, after which the following were elected members of the committee: Howard G. Dibble, Harry Kane, E. Z. Gross, A. Carson Stamm, E. L. McColgin, Lew R. Palmer and Arthur E. Brown.

TEMPERANCE NOT IN JUDGE FIGHTS

Anti-Saloon League Man Attracts Attention by Speech in Pittsburgh

"Election of judges on the temperance issue does a great deal of damage in the selection of a competent and able court and this practice should be abandoned," said the Rev. E. J. Moore, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in an address before the weekly meeting of the United Presbyterian Ministerial Association in Pittsburgh Monday afternoon. Continuing, he said:

"To elect the judges on the temperance question interferes very much with the kind of a court the people get. There are many good judges who do not believe in local option. A judge should be elected for his ability as a judge and not on his personal opinion on the liquor question. The liquor question ought not to be considered in the selection of a man who is to decide questions of law and evidence. The large majority of judges in this state believe that the liquor question is a question for the Legislature to decide and not a question to be decided by the courts."

READING NEEDS ONE MORE GAME

Berks County Five Must Defeat Central or Steelton to Win League Race

With the drop of the curtain in sight in the Central Pennsylvania league of the High school basketball teams, interest has narrowed down to the contest which the Central High school will wage during the next few weeks to tie the Reading quintet for first place honors in the race.

Reading needs to win one more game to clinch first place honors. But Reading must play Central and Steelton away from home before the season closes.

Friday night the fray between the local five and the Berks county team will be staged at the Chestnut Street Auditorium, and promises to be one of the bitterest struggles ever staged in the annals of basketball history of the two schools.

Reading will play at Steelton on Saturday, and a number of people who have been watching the teams closely, claim that they will be evenly matched, promising another good game.

Central, however, by defeating Reading, still has a hard road to travel because Tech and Steelton are anxiously waiting a chance to get revenge for defeats administered by the Blue and Gray boys earlier in the season.

A comparison of playing and scoring work of the Central and Reading quintets, shows that the local five is the stronger of the two.

Steelton has five games to play and Tech, four more. The Central team is the only one with a chance to tie Reading, as York has but one more game to play, and is far behind the leaders.

The standing of the teams to date follows:

Table with 4 columns: Team, W., L., Pct. Reading: 9, 1, .900; Harrisburg Central: 6, 3, .667; York: 6, 5, .544; Lebanon: 4, 6, .400; Steelton: 2, 5, .286; Hbg. Technical: 2, 6, .250; Lancaster: 2, 6, .250

Green, 9; Kline, 9; Slesler, 8; A. Gross, 9; Cover, 9; Thompson, 9; A. Gross, 9; H. E. Green, 8; Nelson, 8; Leonard, 8; Fink, 7; Huff, 7; Bradley, 7; Riddle, 6; Howell, 6; George Gross, 5; Riegle, 5; Thomas Gross, 4.

MACK LOSES FERGUSON

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—Pitcher Charles Ferguson, of the Philadelphia Athletics, will not join the Athletics this season, but will continue to practice law at Wayne, W. Va., according to a letter he wrote to a friend here, which was made public to-day. Wayne is Ferguson's home town. Ferguson, next to Sisler, who is with the St. Louis Americans, was considered the star of the pitching corps of the University of Michigan for two seasons. President Navin, of the Detroit Americans, tried to obtain him last year, but the Athletics had a previous claim.

OUTLAW REDDON

WELLY'S CORNER

Plans are about completed for Harrisburg's second boxing show. The date announced is March 15. Local promoters promise another strong bill. Every effort is being made to have the boxers more evenly matched than the first exhibition. Local fans favor real fighters.

Coach Ike McCord is having some strenuous times with the Central High tossers. He is anxious to take the remaining three games, notwithstanding what Steelton may do with Reading. If Central's regular line-up is not broken up, there will be a tie-up for pennant honors in the Scholastic League.

Thomas, the Central High basketball star looks like a winner in scoring honors in the Central Pennsylvania scholastic League. His work has attracted attention throughout the circuit and he is now a strong contender. Greenawalt, the York tosser, was making a clean-up until he was obliged to quit the game.

Harrisburg is supplying many amateurs to minor leagues this season, and after the games get under way more material will be available. The West End A. C., Susquehanna, Belmont A. C., East End A. A., Stanley A. C., and other teams have many comers in their respective line-ups.

The weather is making indoor training necessary for local High School relay teams. With the big carnival in Philadelphia but six weeks off, there is hard work ahead for Central and Tech runners, while the latter are using the third floor for training, and also put lots of time in the gymnasium.

With the race in the Eastern Basketball League practically settled, the other teams are now arranging for games with teams in other leagues. During the balance of the season, Harrisburg will get many interesting games. Camden will be the attraction Saturday night.

THREE FOOTBALL MEN ARE LOST TO HARVARD SQUAD

Cambridge, Mass., March 8.—Harvard's football squad for next fall received a heavy blow to-day when three of its strongest candidates, the captain elect, J. A. Gilman, of Honolulu, a guard; Thomas H. Enright, of Fall River, and W. J. Boles, of Boston, both backfield stars, were asked by the college administrative board to withdraw from college because of failure to pass the midyear examinations. Under the faculty rules, if this means that Gilman and Boles, even if they are able to return to college, will not be allowed to represent Harvard on the gridiron. Both have been in scholarship difficulties before. Enright, whose preparatory school record as a powerful back and great drop kicker had led experts to pick him as the successor of Brickley and Mahan, still has a chance for reinstatement.

A Recommended List For the Home Flower Garden

Those who decide to grow old-fashioned flowers should not attempt too many kinds, but should rather have a chosen few. Nor should they hesitate to grow a quantity of the kinds selected, as exchanges may be readily made with neighbors. Perennials should be planted abundantly, as they will spread and practically take care of themselves. A few old favorites recommended by H. H. M. Hills, manager of greenhouses at the Pennsylvania State College, include the following: Single and double Hollyhocks, Larkspurs, Lupins, Canterbury Bells, Foxgloves, Sweet William, Columbine, Hardy Phlox, Anemones, Iris, Gypsophila (Bobby's Breath), Polyanthus, Clove-scented Pinks, Lillies, Sea Lavender, Lathyrus or Hardy Pea, Valerian, Wallflowers, Violas, Tulips, Hyacinths, Daffodils, Lily of the Valley, Rosemary Lavender and Ferns. The Geranium should always find a place in the old-fashioned flower garden. The one who is not acquainted with some of the new varieties of this flower does not know its possibilities.
