PENNSY FLYER CRASHES INTO FREIGHT TRAIN

here and rushed to the scene of the wreck with Dr. George E. Kunkel in charge, but it was not really needed. Wreckage Over Four Tracks. When the limited hit the draft, four cars were thrown against another train eastbound, wrecking a dozen freight cars and spreading the wreckage over four tracks. Train No. 18 due in Harrisburg at 11:05 last night was close to the wreck but was stopped by "the red" which flashed when wreckage broke the signal wires and set the danger signal. This east-bound train was made up of 18 cars including mail, express cars and empty coaches.

Fireman Crusher
When the big locomotive ploughed into the freight cars, it turned over and rolled down the embankment. Fireman Shope was crushed under one of the driving wheels. The engine was also pinned fast under the wreckage, but was released by members of the freight and passenger crews and sent to the Lewistown hospital.

None of the steel cars turned over. Every car was off the rails and bumped over the ties a distance of 100 yards. The passengers were helped to a place of safety, and as soon as possible their baggage was recovered and placed on a car and sent to Milton. Some of the passengers were thrown from their berths and received bruises and others were cut by flying glass.

Manhattan Limited known as train No. 23, left Harrisburg last night at 9:30. The train was made up of ten cars, including nine Pullman sleepers and one smoking car. The baggage car was in charge of the coaches. The crew included Fred C. Smith, 1514 North Sixth street, conductor; Norman G. Stoner, 100 South Seventh street, brakeman; and W. A. Kulp, 1826 North Sixth street, flagman.

The limited was running at a speed of 50 miles an hour. No flagman was back to signal the fast express according to reports. The officials will not state whether the signal was clear at a tower 300 feet east of Mexico.

The wreck took place in an unconscious condition, and until he is able to make a statement the blame for the wreck cannot be placed, it is believed by officials.

DECIDED 6 MONTHS AGO TO WAGE WARFARE

Villa and Mexican residents of Colonia Morelos, near El Tierr, Sonora, pledging mutual support in an effort to oust Mormons and other Americans, confiscate their property and operate their mines and farms.

The citizens, according to the alleged agreement, promised to take up arms with Villa to gain this end. Villa was to furnish the Mexicans of the district with liberal supplies of arms and ammunition, "after he had overcome Carranza and established himself as supreme chief in Mexico."

Another of the papers acknowledged receipt of $25,000 in gold from the Consolidated Cananea Copper Company, at Naco, Sonora, shortly after Villa's retreat from Agua Prieta. The receipt credited the money to export duties, but a notation showed that the money really was paid for the lives of three Americans held as prisoners and who at the time were reported to have been marked for execution.

Ready for Fresh Raids
With the first battalion of the Twentieth Infantry stationed at Victoria early today, Colonel Slocum has about 840 men under his command, prepared to meet any further advances by Villa on American soil.

"If the Mexicans will give him a worse whipping than we gave him yesterday," said Colonel Slocum. Armed civilians kept guard at the schoolhouse, where their wives and daughters were held. The Mexican quarter was closely guarded by patrols. The town was quiet and dark, except for the glowing embers of the ruins of the hotel.

GUESTS ESCAPE IN NIGHTDRESS

John C. Kindler sent in a second alarm. That the fire started in room No. 211, Fire Chief Kindler is positive, but how and when it started is a question which will probably remain unsolved. J. E. Maher, of Reading, who occupied the room during the night, left the hotel at 4:30 o'clock this morning, and said that he wanted to catch an early train.

Athens George, proprietor of the restaurant, slept in room No. 312 on the fourth floor, directly opposite the one on which the fire started and when called, aided in an effort to extinguish the flames.

The fire, however, had eaten its way through the partitions of the rooms on the west side of the fourth floor and before it was extinguished had gutted that section of the building.

Much of the damage on the second floor was done by smoke and water and on the third floor, by fire smoke and water. The damage to the restaurant on the first floor, according to Fire Chief Kindler will not reach $1,000.

Cigaret Cause?
K. Hemawel, proprietor of the hotel end of the firm, said that he believes the fire started from a lighted cigarette which had been thrown on the bed accidentally. Fire Chief Kindler after an investigation said he could not determine the cause, as everything in the room, except the brass bed and a steel telephone had been destroyed.

Overcome by Smoke
Harry Stantoss, employed in the restaurant, was overcome by smoke while carrying out furniture from the burning hotel, but was revived at the hospital. He was dragged from the building by Police Chauffeur Demma. The property is owned by William Jennings, and was leased by George and Hemawel. George lost practically all of the clothing he had in his room, but saved a valuable diamond stickpin, and a gold watch. Little of any value was lost by any of the persons in the room.

French Liner Is Sunk by Raiding Submarine

Paris, March 10.—A Havas dispatch from Havre says that the French Line steamship Louisiana sank last night at 11 o'clock. All the crew were saved. No passengers were aboard. It is presumed that the vessel was sunk by the same submarine that has been operating along the coast between Boulogne and Havre and which torpedoed the Hermatrice.

The Louisiana had arrived from New Orleans, which port she left on February 11, entering Newport News on February 17 and leaving on the following day. The vessel was owned by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. She had for many years been engaged in transatlantic passenger service, mostly to ports in the Gulf of Mexico.

HEREDITARY LUNG WEAKNESS

Serious and Fatal Results Can Often Be Avoided By Using Simple Precautions

Men and women who by inheritance or nature have a tendency to weak lungs and the easy acquirement of coughs and colds and who note with alarm the same symptoms developing in their growing children will be interested in the following letter from the wife of a prominent Methodist Minister, reported here in substance:

Westleyan Methodist Parsonage
V. H. Sibley, Pastor.
Both my parents died of Tuberculosis and it has been of constant alarm to Mr. Sibley and myself, lest in our boy the traces of this dread disease should develop. A double attack of pneumonia left his lungs weak, and he contracted a severe cold all through the winter he coughed incessantly. Our doctor said we must take our boy from school and give him absolute rest and the best of treatment, if we save him. Then we began to give him OXIDAZE and he soon began to eat and sleep naturally. His night sweats stopped entirely. In three weeks his cough was gone and his flesh and old time vigor returned. He kept on with school and completed his school year with his class in good shape. One mother, to whom I have since recommended Oxidaze, says she is sure it saved the life of her little girl.

Mrs. Grace V. Sibley, is a New England physician's prescription, a pleasant, powerful combination of antiseptic healing ingredients, contains no alcohol or habit forming drugs. Mingling with the saliva, its juices beat the inflamed membranes, soothe and promptly, not only stopping a dry, hoarse or tight cough but checking the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Its success has been so really remarkable even in cases of long standing that G. A. Gorges Co. and other leading local druggists say they have been authorized to return the purchase price if in any case Oxidaze fails to stop the cough. With a guarantee like this it is well to insist on Oxidaze; take nothing in its place, as a single bottle, taken now, may save many dollars in doctors bills in the future.—Advertisement.

WAY TO GAIN FLESH

Conductor Tells How He Gained Flesh and Strength.

So many cases like the following are continually coming to our attention we want everyone in Harrisburg to know that our offer still holds good to return money in every case where the Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, fails to create strength and build up weak, run-down, nervous, overworked men and women.
"I am a conductor on the Scranton Ry., and became run-down and tired out, lost my appetite, flesh and strength, so I had to lose a good deal of time from my work. A friend told me to try Vinol. I did so and rapidly regained health and strength, and yesterday I was weighed and it showed I had gained 26 pounds since taking Vinol. I can not say enough in praise of Vinol, for what it has done for me." G. B. Sorber, 1513 Vine St., Scranton, Pa.
About every other day we are publishing letters like this in Harrisburg newspapers, about Vinol. They are guaranteed to be truthful and genuine, and show the good, Vinol is doing all over the country.
