FALSE PHOPHET DAY

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Senator Charles A. Snyder, of Pottsville, late yesterday entered the first nominating petition to be a candidate for a State-wide nomination at the coming primary. The Pottsville Senator, who is a native of Dauphin county, filed a dozen or more large petitions advocating his candidacy for the Republican nomination for auditor petitions advocating his candidacy for the Republican nomination for auditor general and stated that there would be more to follow.

In the petitions were papers numerously signed by Dauphin, Erle, Perry, Adams, Columbia, Luzerne, Butler, Elk and Schuylkill counties. It is said that inside of a week papers from practically every county in the State will be on file for Snyder.

The filing of the papers disposes of any possibility of the Schuylkill man withdrawing from the race for the nomination.

—Senator Boies Penrose is expected to pay a visit to Pittsburgh within a few days. He has been invited to make an address before the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and will meet Western leaders.

—State Chairman Crow's declaration for party harmony has not only been backed up by most of the Republican Congressmen, but by many county leaders and considerable quiet work to get things straightened out is under way. Much, however, depends upon how things shape up in Philadelphia. The rest of the State appears to be ready for burial of differences.

--Philadelphia's much - troubled transit situation has quieted down a bit. Mayor Smith yesterday just before starting for Augusta, Ga., turned the rapid transit situation over to Director Twining, with several recommendations which the director' will incorporate into the report. This voluminous and comprehensive document will be whipped into shape for the printer, and should be ready for the public within four days at the outside. The Mayor yesterday gave official authority to Director Twining to make the report public, as soon as it was returned to him by the printer.

ONE EFFECT OF THE WAR

ONE effect of the war in Europe has been an increase in the demand for meats which are needed to feed the European armics, and to supply markets which would have been otherwise supplied but for the conflict which so unexpectedly broke out on that Continent. Our exports of meats in 1914 were only $137,000,000, while in 1915 they amounted to $259,000,000, an increase of nearly 100 per cent.

a few remarks in regards our Honorable Dauphin County Court. Early in February a case involving a jitney driver and a well-to-do citizen, who holds a responsible position at the Capitol, and who brought suit against the driver for running down his aged mother in Third near Boas street, who deliberately stepped out off the curb (not at the crossing) came up in court. The case was tried, witnesses heard, and in about ten minutes the jury came in with a verdict, clearing the defendant and putting the entire costs of the suit on the prosecutor. Up to this date not one of the witnesses has received a cent of heir witness money, notwithstanding they have frequently called. The prosecutor is worth considerable money, and should be made pay. The District Attorney should see to it that the bill spald, and we await an explanation why such has not been done. Thanking you for the space, I am, Respectfully.

Examples such as these are not cited as in any way typical. If they were, dealing with the three hundred thousand Moros would be a job for a continental army. If they were, the only way to handle the department would be either to wage a war of extermination, or to withdraw and consign it to its own devices. As a matter of fact, the Governor of Mindana and Sulu reports that there is no disorder. The constabulary is preservin the public peace. Outlaws are being hunted down with the assistance of their relatives. The Moro and the Filipino are going to school together. But the juramentados and similar cases have their significance. They are not typical, but they exist. The recent disastrous fire in Madison township at the Truitt school, which resulted in a $2,500 loss, might have proven fatal to many of the small children had it not been for the plucky action of Miss Anna McGregory, the school teacher, who used brain work and physical might to prevent the panic that would otherwise have ensued.

That headlines lie as well as per ple and figures is well evidenced to the double column top of a new article on a certain charity proposition in a nearby city. It read as follows: "Charity society will hold feeble-minded exhibit in this city."

The death of "Slivers," the famous and popular clown, who is well known in many cities of the State as Frank Oakley, has caused much regret. "Slivers" wore constantly the mask of comedy, and it is a shock to even imagine that he may have committed suicide.

Johnstown milk dealers estimate that their loss from unreturned bottles runs well into $100 a month. Complaints of thefts have been received and the losers are going after the matter strongly.

Capitol Park squirrels, which have been making a practice of promenading on the roof of the State Museum, occasionally getting into the attic of the big white building and even turning up among the stored literature up under the roof and also falling every now and then from the roof, are to be barred out. This is the first of the buildings on Capitol Hill to be closed to the frisky gray residents of the park, but the State has been literally forced to provide some regulations for control of its pests. It was noticed that the squirrels had a habit of reaching the top of the building by way of some of the telephone cables which enter the park from the east side and which pass over the roof of the museum. Complaints about the squirrels had come from the museum and as the traffic on the wires was becoming quite extensive the garden force hit upon the plan of erecting a barrier. They showed it to Superintendent S. B. Rambo and it has just been erected for a trial. The barrier looks like the head of a bass drum or a huge dishpan. It is a great round contrivance which is fastened to the wire or cable and which extends for about a yard all around it. No squirrel can jump it and the foxy mechanics fashioned it concave so that the squirrels could not climb over the surface and then continue their travels. The capitol policemen say that it works.

Demands for brown trout to be planted in streams which have been deserted by the brook trout because the disappearance of brush along banks has made them too warm are being made at the State Fisheries Department at a lively rate. It is expected that because of the reawakening of interest in the brown trout that some successful "planting" will be done. Thousands of such trout will soon be put out.

James Scarlet, the Danville lawyer who took such a prominent part in the investigation of the frauds attending the furnishing of the Capitol and in the subsequent trials, was here yesterday on a visit to the State House, "Harrisburg is living up to its usual March weather," said he, "I have been a good many times in March, but here a good many times in March, but the weather has always been atro-cious."

Getting Ready For

House-Cleaning

House-cleaning time used to be a season of dreariness, work and woe.

Now, labor-saving devices have lessened its burdens.

To the woman equipped with all the modern household helps, that range from pneumatic cleaners down, home renovation is merely an incident.

And the woman who is not equipped — who still relies on "elbow grease" is looking with longing eyes towards the stores.

A glance trough the advertising columns the Telegraph will give a store things needed in house-cleaning may be obtained.
