The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; us ally fever is present, your head jars with every cough and your chest may ache. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to confaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

Says Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we cructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start,

Clearest Light in World War Shed by the Bible; Studies in Faith

The International Sunday School Lesson For March 12 Is "Heroes and Martyrs of Faith."—Hebrews 11:1; 12:2.

(By William T. Ellis)

The timeliness of the present Sun It could not be more appropriate if it had been planned verterders clearest light on the world war is shed by this old book which is eternally contemporaneous. None of the many utterances on the present Armassacres can match this passage from the Book of Hebrews. hour when the church most needs a tonic for faith we have this sublime study, re-enforced by the daily news from the churches in Asia.

Every nation in Europe is at the present moment giving the world a lesson in faith, and in the reality and supremacy of the invisible They live in faith, the faith of their people in the spiritual qualities of their country. Mr. Materialist says to the young lover, "You are only chasing a dream."

Yet that "dream," that intangible, inexplicable spiritual quality called love, has glorifed existence and wrought more wonders than science. To the statesmen 'Mr. Materialist says, "Be practical: idealism is all well enough to talk about at election time, but it is practical self-interest that rules the world." To the patriot he says, "Governments are controlled only by economic causes. All this talk about world." To the patriot he says, "Governments are controlled only by economic causes. All this talk about the flag is sheer-buncombe." And to the sociologist he says, "Altruism is absurd. Human nature is human nature and will be to the end."

"You poor blind fool," answers the man of faith, "can you not look around you and behind you, and see that it is faith, and only faith, that has given us all withst is great in human life." Or, as a better answer, let us quote the wonderful analysis and vindication of faith, with its appeal to history, which constitutes the present lesson:

"Now faith is the substance of things not seen. And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Sampson, and of Jephthah; of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets: Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fre, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were fortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection; and others had trial of cruel mockings and sourselves and sourselves and others had trial of cruel mockings and sourselves and others had trial of cruel mockings and sourselves and sourselves and sourselves and sourselves and others had trial of cruel mockings and sourselves obtain a better resurrection; and others had trial of cruel mockings others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment; they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword; they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented; of whom the world was not worthy; they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in gen and caves of the earth. in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth. And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise: God having provided some better things for us, that they without us should not be made perfect. Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, dispising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."
