

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

STARTS TO CLEAN BUCKET SHOPS

Statement Issued

In connection with the announcement of the raids this statement was issued from the Attorney General's office:

"Early last year Governor Brumbaugh determined that Pennsylvania would be cleared of bucketshops. To that end, the Attorney General, in connection with the Federal authorities, has been working for months in preparation.

"Since the passage of the act of 1907 prohibiting bucketshops in this State, all such shops have affiliated either directly or as correspondents, with the so-called exchange in Pittsburgh for the purpose of giving a semblance of regularity and legality to their operation. This exchange was originally organized in 1901 for legitimate purposes, but shortly after the passage of the act its control was taken over for the purposes it has since been used for. This is the exchange with which bucketshops in Ohio, Kansas, New York and many other States are affiliated.

"The Attorney General is proceeding with a writ of quo warranto to have its charter annulled. The present raids have not included all of the bucketshops in Pennsylvania, as there are some which cannot properly be handled under this one raid. This work, however, will be pushed until this most vicious form of gambling and in many cases thievery is abolished in this State.

"In that the matter has been State-wide in its extent, it was deemed advisable to have all investigations and arrests under the control of the Attorney General's Department and the State police. The local officials, and particularly the district attorney in the counties in which these raids are made, however, will have charge of the prosecutions under direction of the Attorney General. The State will also co-operate with the Federal authorities in such action as they may take."

SOLDIER ASSERTS MOST FEAR COMES WHEN GUNS STOP

"Not Cool Enough to Feel Fear During Battle" He Says; Tells of Verdun

Paris, March 10. — "You are not cool enough to feel fear during a battle," said a captain of light infantry who in civil life is a professor of philosophy and who fought in the battle of Verdun, "but when the uproar ceases, when the cannon are silent, you have a sensation that something is going to happen, but what you do not know. You expect something. Those are the horrible moments and the feeling is an instance."

"The German attack was begun. In a little wood near Vaux we had made ourselves a hiding place, taking advantage of a hollow in the ground where the searchlights passed over us. All day and evening the German artillery searched out our lines around our shelter. Great shells tore craters, but our improvised trench remained untouched. Toward 2 o'clock in the morning the guns stopped. For nine hours my men had not moved nor spoken, for fear of revealing their presence. Their nerves were worn to rags. I could feel their powers of resistance falling and I was afraid every instant that some one would shout and bring down a shower of heavy shells upon us."

Mysterious Sounds
"Mysterious life filled the night, life which none of us understand full of strange lights and sounds. My men began to grit their teeth. This enveloping mystery tortured their nerves. Some closed their eyes, others gnawed their fists. Before us we saw crawling forms; they were certainly Germans. We waited for them with machine guns loaded and pointed, but our orders were to let the assailant approach and to shoot them down safely from our shelter. But the men could hold themselves in no longer. Those groping shadows, in the darkness pierced by mysterious flashes set them mad and they raged at not being able to understand why they were kept tied down in a hole."

"Suddenly before I could stop them they leaped from the hole, fell upon the Germans in the darkness. They should have perished to a man under the fire of the German machine guns, but luck was on their side and in a minute they were all back in the trench."

Father Still Has Some Rights, Court Asserts

Wilmington, Del. — "If every wife in Wilmington left her husband because he stayed out late at night, this courtroom would be packed to overflowing every day," declared Judge Churchman in City Court, when considering the case of Edwin S. Booth, charged with nonsupport by his wife, Edith Booth. She claimed her husband abused her, that he spent his evenings and Sundays at a club and also stayed out late at night.

"The father has not been deprived of all his rights under the nonsupport law," said Judge Churchman in dismissing Booth. "Before leaving her home the wife must have sufficient cause to bring a divorce action. The husband still has the right to name the domicile. This woman married this man for better or for worse. None of us are angels. There has not been sufficient cause here for nonsupport action."

Man Told He's Near Death Has Lots of Fun

Bicknell, Ind. — John York, of this city, was said to be dying. Physicians told him to prepare for death, as he could not possibly live until midnight. York dressed himself, went to town, borrowed money and hurried to a restaurant, where he ate an order of steak, eggs, potatoes and coffee. After his supper he went to the movies. Having money left, he next hired a taxicab and drove over the town. His friends became alarmed and searched for him. When he was found he said:

"If I have to die I am going to die where I want to and the way I want to."

Couple, 90 Years Old Each, Die Same Day

Brookfield, Mo. — James Campbell and his wife, both ninety years old, died at their home near here. The deaths were four hours apart, and the husband who died last, had not been told of his wife's death. They were stricken with the grip at the same time. They were natives of Indiana and had lived in Linn county sixty-four years. They had been married sixty-eight years.
