Little Known Here of Tri-State Project; Activity in Reading

Harrisburg baseball promoters have heard nothing regarding the proposed reorganization of the Tri-State League. It was reported here that Al Lawson had opposition in a project to reorganize the Pennsylvania State League.

Bits From Sportland

Penn is out with the announcement that the tie for Intercollegiate honors will not be played off with Princeton.

The Macks were late in reaching Charleston, S. C., yesterday and practice will not start until today.

The Alpha A. C. five last night won from Monarchs yesterday, score 30 to 28.

Camp Hill school baseball team has organized with Harry Cooper as manager.

Baseball at Millersburg last summer was a losing proposition.

The Oberlin high school girls won last night from Steelton high school co-eds, score 50 to 4.

Harrisburg Academy shooters were out at practice this afternoon.

In the final game last night Middletown high won from Hanover high, score 42 to 24.

The Vicome A. C. last night won from Hershey Monarchs on Tech gymnasium floor, score 50 to 22.

LONG IS WRESTLING CAPTAIN

State College, Pa., March 11.—M. M. Long, of Lebanon, was to-day elected captain of Penn State's wrestling team for next season.

He wrestled in the 135-pound class this season, winning every bout in which he participated as a member of the varsity team.

Captain Long was awarded the varsity "S" for his work, being the second man to be honored for defeating all his opponents during the year.

W. L. Kirk, also a 135-pounder, was similarly rewarded last season.

STEELTON WINS FROM TECH

Steelton handed Tech a big basketball surprise last night, winning by a score of 41 to 30.

Steelton led throughout the game. Dayhoff and Coleman were the best scorers for the victors. Harris and Killinger starred for Tech.

PICKS WILLARD TO WIN BATTLE

Joe Choyinski Does Not Look For Knockout; No Real Champion

JOE CHOYINSKI

Pittsburgh, March 11.—Joe Choyinski, contender for the heavyweight championship from 1884 to 1904, and the only man aside from Willard who knocked out Jack Johnson, says Willard should beat Moran, decisively in their coming fight.

"I don't look for a knockout," says Choyinski, "ten rounds is a short distance. Still I believe that Willard will pile up such a big score on points as to leave no room for dispute.

Moran is earnest and ambitious. He is as game as any man that ever followed the glove game for a livelihood. He is a hard hitter and is always trying hard, but he lacks the finish of a champion.

"Willard is so big that Moran will not be able to reach the champion with any kind of a blow that would be effective. I don't think he can even shake up Jess. I don't want to create the impression that I consider Willard a wonder, or an unbeatable champion, or anything of that sort. For I do not. Far from it. Every time I look over the crowd of present-day heavyweights, and compare them with the men who fought in that class in the old days, I have to turn away in disgust. They're a huge joke, the whole pack of them. Willard is not a real champion nor a great fighter."

OLD WARSHIPS CALLED USELESS

Predreadnaughts Badly Constructed, Committee Is Told

Washington, D. C., March 11.—America's predreadnaught fleet would go over like ninespins if pitted against British or other craft of the same age, Captain W. S. Sims, commander of the new superdreadnaught Nevada, told the House naval committee in his campaign to have the old ships scrapped.

Illustrating his point, Captain Sims, who as a lieutenant went over the heads of his superiors to obtain President Roosevelt's support in his campaign to improve methods of target practice in the navy, said the old building the navy of the battleship Oregon, probably was the worst naval design ever put afloat. Her unbalanced turret bases heeled the ship down on broadside, he said, until her skin below the armor belt, no thicker than a man's hand, was exposed to gunfire.

The turrets of the Kentucky and the Kearsarge were so designed, he declared, that they were in such a position that the gun ports at one time; the sloping roofs of the Connecticut class turrets were built to withstand short range direct fire, and were no better than paper against modern plunging fire; the turrets of the Oregon class had a gap in the armor at the back of the turret six to eight feet wide directly in line with the ammunition hoists inside.

ANTHRACITE MINING MOVIES

The retail coal merchants of Harrisburg have procured from the United States Bureau of Mines a series of motion-picture films illustrating the process of mining, manufacturing, handling and transporting anthracite coal from the time it is loosened from its bed in the mine until ready for delivery to the consumer.

These pictures will be exhibited to the public free at the Technical high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 14, at 8 o'clock. The exhibition will be accompanied by an extensive lecture by Robert H. Seip, of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Central High Wins in Game With Reading; Now Close to Leaders

Central high won from Reading tossers last night, score 45 to 25. This victory give the local quintet a hold on pennant chances. Reading is leading the Central Pennsylvania League with nine games won and two lost. Central has seven victories and three defeats. The local five has two more games to play.

In last night's game Central played the best game. Thomas was a big scoring star, having 25 of the 45 points scored. Other players were in evidence, every man scoring. Stueber and Dietrich played a fine game for Reading. Between the halves the Central high girls defeated the Chambersburg high girls, score 14 to 8.

Miss H. Rote and Miss Richards led in the scoring for Central; and Miss Baker was given honors for Chambersburg.

Amateur Billiard Title Goes to New York Star

New York, March 11.—Edward W. Gardner, of this city, won the national amateur billiard championship for the fifth time when he defeated Morris D. Brown, 400 to 251, in the deciding game of the tournament here last night.

Frank S. Appleby, Edgar T. Appleby of this city, and Charles Heddon of Dayton, Ohio, are tied for third place, with J. Ferd Poggerburg and Jacob Klingner, of Austria, tied for sixth place. As Heddon already has left for his home, the Appleby brothers will play off the third place tie to-night.

DYSPORT SIGNS WITH HAGERSTOWN

Hagerstown, Md., March 11.—President C. W. Boyer of the Blue Ridge League and owner of the Hagerstown team has signed five players as the nucleus for this season's team, including Dysport, of Harrisburg, a fast outfielder.

Bert Weeden, the new player-manager of the Hagerstown team, writes that he will bring a string of the best players from the Blue Ridge League to the Colonial League.

FRESHMEN GIRLS WIN

The Freshmen girls won last night's interclass series defeating the Sophomores, score 5 to 3. Miss Shupp and Miss Downes were stars for the winners. Miss Hollenbaugh led for the losers.

HASSETT GIRLS BIG WINNERS

The Girls' Division five of the Hassetts club won last night from the Yorktown girls, score 24 to 6. The visitors were far outclassed by the local tossers. Miss Sweeney and Miss McCarthy were big point winners for the Hassetts.

ANNVILLE TWELFTH VICTORY

Anville, Pa., March 11.—The Anville high school basketball team won from Yorktown girls, score 24 to 6. The score of 39 to 14. This is Anville's twelfth victory. Light, McClure, and Morris put up the best game for Oberlin.

Greeks Defeat Romans in Preparedness Debate

Greek and Roman met in the debating forum of the Harrisburg Academy last evening, when two teams argued on the question of preparedness. Earle E. Bortell won a gold medal for presenting the best individual argument. The Greek team, consisting of Chester A. Good, P. Boyd Rutherford, Earle E. Bortell, and Paul Zimmerman, won out, having upheld the affirmative side. The negative end was argued by a team consisting of John S. Waller, Lane S. Hart, Gilbert Spanzenberg and Nathan W. Stroup.

In addition to the debate an interesting musical and literary program was observed in the main room of the Academy. The numbers included a piano solo by Dunbar A. Eberts, an Irish song by John W. Phillips, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Eberts, and by the Academy double quartet. These singers were Lane S. Hart, 3d, John Froehlich, Gilbert Spanzenberg, Robert Shreiner, Francis Hickman, Paul Zimmerman, Dunbar Eberts and Max McLaughlin.

The prizes were awarded by ex-Deputy Attorney General J. E. B. Cunningham. Mercer B. Tate, Jr., was chairman.

Mine Rescue Party Is Halted by Flames

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 11.—Fire is raging in the Hollenback mine of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, in which six men lost their lives Thursday. James E. Roderick, chief of the State Bureau of Mines, and several inspectors and company officials are on the scene directing the light against the flames.

The known dead are George Horney, miner; Gabriel Nemonka, laborer; Leo Kazenski, miner; Edwin Joles, doorman; John Kiskin, driver. One unidentified laborer is listed among the victims.

It is believed it probably will take several days to get the fire under control.

The cause of the accident is unknown, but Chief Roderick has demanded a thorough investigation. Company officials still maintain there was no explosion, but employees are directly in the line of fire from explosions and that the mine was fired in that way.

Abandoned Steel Plants to Be Put in Commission

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 11.—The old Moorhead steel plant in Sharpsburg, which has not been in operation for two years, and the plant owned by the Carbon Steel Company, and as soon as equipment is installed will be put in operation. The plant has been partly dismantled for many years. The plant has puddling furnaces, two bar mills and three rolling mills, and will give employment to 1,500 men.

The Puntstutney steel hoop plant, which has been idle for several years, will again be the scene of industrial activity in a few days. William Kakin, Chicago, has bought the plant. The new company will double the capacity of the plant and begin the manufacture of bar and rod iron rounds.

Benson Leads Maurer by 3,000 in Socialist Primary

Chicago, Ill., March 11.—Incomplete returns of the national primary election of the Socialist party showed the closest race for President in the history of the party.

With California, Washington and Oregon yet to be heard from, Allan L. Benson, of Yonkers, N. Y., magazine writer and newspaperman, led James H. Maurer, of Reading, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, by 3,000 votes. In the event that neither Benson nor Maurer receives a majority, their names will be submitted for another vote.

FINAL GAMES FOR LOCAL QUINTETS

High School Tossers to Be Busy on St. Patrick's Day; League Windup

With the basketball season on the wane, local basketball teams will celebrate St. Patrick's day by playing championship contests. Tech and Central will line up on the Auditorium floor in the second game of their series for local as well as honors in the Central-Penn Basketball League. The Central boys will go into the game the favorites, although the Tech boys may spring a surprise. The second game of the two institutions will also play in an inter-class game in the Tech gymnasium. Other contests that are scheduled to be played by the two local High Schools are as follows:

March 24 Sunday will play its return game at Tech. Two weeks ago the Red Sox defeated the Tech by a score of 27 to 25. The following day Tech will visit Lancaster. The locals have a good chance to repeat their victory over the Red Sox that was won in this city in January. March 31 will see each team's reserve quintets in their final contest at Steelton.

Central has three more contests to play in addition to the Tech game. On March 21 Steelton visits Central. Central will start a two-day trip March 31, playing on that date at Wilkes-Barre while on the 1st of April they will cross over to Nanticoke for the final game of the season. The game will be a more game game scheduled with Camp Hill co-eds at that place, March 31.

Third Strike Called at Big York Silk Mill

York, Pa., March 11.—Fifty employees of the Diamond Silk Mill of the Pennsylvania Textile Company went on strike yesterday when refused an increase in wages. The spinners and reelers want 1 cent more a pound for their work, while the handers seek one-quarter of a cent more a pound.

This is the third strike at the mills in a short time.

STEEL COMPANY MEN'S TRIAL SET FOR APRIL 3

Youngstown, Ohio, March 11.—Trials of the conspiracy charges against six local steel companies and Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, will be started Monday, April 3, according to present plans of Prosecutor A. M. Henderson.

Indictments were returned against Gary and the steel companies Wednesday. The defendants have until March 13 in which to file demurrers to the charges.

BREWERS' FILES FRUITFUL

Yield Hundreds of Letters to Be Used in Contempt Proceedings

Pittsburgh, March 11.—Nearing the end in examination of the confidential files of the United States Brewers' Association, United States Attorney E. Lowry Humes last night made it clear that his week's work has been fruitful.

Hundreds of letters have been laid aside for next Wednesday, when, on the contempt proceedings in federal court, the government will use them to refute statements that the United States and Pennsylvania Brewers' Association destroyed all records prior to January 1.

WELLY'S CORNER

Benny Kauff is no longer a holdout. He signed a contract yesterday to play with the New York Giants and it is understood he will go south at once. Kauff claimed he was not being treated fairly as to salary. It is understood he will get what he asked for.

Bowlers who enter the Atlantic City tournament starting at Washington, D. C., March 25, will have a chance for good cash prizes. To date big bowling classic totals $26,350. This is looked upon as a juicy prize for division among United States bowling stars.

Penn-State has had a record wrestling season. The blue and white wrestlers won five out of six contests. The Navy matmen scored the only victory against Penn-State. Since 1910 when wrestling was started at this institution Penn-State has won 28 out of 35 matches.

Fight fans will have a busy week commencing Monday. The Lancaster Athletic Club announces a big bill for Monday night with Leo Houck and K. O. Sullivan in the windup. At Norristown Tuesday night, Joe Morell will meet Jack McCarron. This is a title match and much interest is manifested here in the outcome. The second big show in Harrisburg takes place at the Orpheum Wednesday night. The local management announces a bill extraordinary.

The West Branch Baseball League of Williamsport, in some organization. Plans for this season indicate some real sport. It has the backing of the leading business and newspapermen in Billtown. Every club is on a strong financial footing. Official umpires and scorers have been appointed and the season will open April 22. There are six clubs in the league, each having an enclosed field. Elmer E. Schuyler, managing editor of the Gazette-Bulletin, Williamsport, and a former member of the Harrisburg Telegraph staff, is vice-president of this league and one of the official scorers.

The Independent baseball team of Middletown is again in the field. The manager, H. E. Derrick, is arranging a schedule and games will be played with Harrisburg teams, Enola, Lemoyne, Wormleysburg and New Cumberland.

At the first annual convention of the National Baseball Federation, which opened at Cincinnati yesterday, thirty cities are represented. Harrisburg will make application for membership within the next two weeks. Plans have been completed for a meeting of amateur teams in Harrisburg and vicinity as soon as managers arrange for representation.

The Federation was formed in Louisville, Ky., February 12, last year, following a rupture in relation to delegates attending a meeting of the National Amateur Baseball Association of Service. The new Federation will enable every team, no matter what age players may be, to have a chance in State and national championships.
