ONLY CASES WITH MERIT NEED APPLY

Lieutenant-Governor McClain Lays Down the Law Regarding Pardon Board Work

Only applications which have a basis of merit and which are worthy of the serious consideration of the State Board of Pardons will get by the board now. The members of the State's tribunal last night finished their March work, recommending ten pardons, refusing two and holding over half a dozen more to investigate. Lieutenant-Governor McClain, chairman of the board, in commenting upon the decisions, said that the number of pardons recommended was due to the character of the arguments advanced and the merit in the cases. "This is the shortest list to come before the board as at present constituted and is due to the fact that the board has consistently urged upon attorneys that they refrain from presentation of cases without merit," said he. "The number of pardons recommended to-day is due to the fact that the applications were of the kind that could properly come before the board." The board granted a rehearing to Stanislof Wocoshowski, Beaver, sentenced to be electrocuted, but refused a rehearing to Gaspar Marturana and Thomas Chickarelli, Cambria, to be electrocuted next month. Three cases were continued with orders for attorneys to appear next month or the applications would be stricken from the list. The board recommended pardons in the following cases: Robert Moody, second degree murder, Philadelphia; Levi Seeds, rape, Philadelphia; Steve Cross, manslaughter, Beaver; Albert William Hugo, perjury, bigamy, Erie; Alexander Stivers, robbery, Luzerne; Angelo Terranova, manslaughter, Bedford; Walter Herod, larceny, Chester; Charles Rodgers, felonious entry, Dauphin; James C. Rowles, sodomy, Franklin; John Buono, burglary, Northampton. The board refused Addison Allison, pandering, Philadelphia, and Joseph Mapleson, felonious entry, Allegheny. C. Miller, forgery, Chester, was granted a rehearing. CURIOUS TOBACCO PIPE-BORER Travelers among the Sioux Indians are very much impressed with the perfect smoothness of the bore in their pipe-stems. Without the use of a tool of any kind, they make a perfect bore in the twigs of ash trees, which they use for musical instruments and for pipes. To accomplish this end, they employ the larva of a butterfly which inhabits the ash tree. The Indians remove the pitch for about three inches from the stem they wish bored. Into this cavity they place one of the larvae of a brown butterfly, which gradually eats its way down through the pith until the bore is completed. A little heat applied to the wood expedites the work of the larvae. The Indians consider both the tube made in this way and the larva as sacred as their idols. — Popular Science Monthly.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medical treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acid is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.—Advertisement.
