WHAT THE SHOPS ARE SHOWING

St. Patrick would smile happily if he could see the beautiful green perfumes shown by the Gorgas Drug Store, 16 N. Third street. They are however, more than pleasing to the eye of St. Patrick, more than beautiful in color, for they are the genuine extracts of flowers, and the woman who uses them can best appreciate them. The Harmony Company of Boston make the Intense Violet, Lily off the Valley, white rose offered by Gorgas' and their fragrance is not only lasting, but delightful as well. The Jacqueminot of Coty, is a French extract of unique and fascinating fragrance, and this too is a lovely shade of green which is most attractive on Milady's dressing table.

Distinctiveness

Smartness is in every line of the new covert suit just shown by the waistline in the mode most approved by the Paris couriers at their openings, and at the hips flares decidedly. The cutaway front, with smart button trimming, the triangular panel in the skirt, and the brilliant green collar and narrow cuffs are features which add distinctiveness to beauty of line. This suit is offered for just $25 — a remarkably low price for a finelytailored covert suit of this excellent quality.

The New Shades in Footwear

Just the boots to wear with the new Spring suits are those shown by the Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, and particularly attractive are the soft, dull green kid boots just rescieved. They are especially smart when worn with any of the new shades of gray, tan, covert cloths, and fancy checked weaves. The model is
