

Had Suffered For Over Eight Years

Doctors Advised An Operation But Simple Remedy Made It Unnecessary.

For over eight years Mr. U. S. G. Henry, 806 East 4th St., Oklahoma City, had suffered with stomach and liver trouble until finally he could no longer stand the pain. He says: "The doctors told me nothing but an operation would give me relief. I decided to first try Fruitola and Traxo, which relieved me of a quantity of gall stones and I have no further pain or trouble from my old complaint. I would not take $500.00 for what your remedies have done for me."

Fruitola, as the name implies, is a pure fruit oil, combined with certain harmless salts, and acts as a lubricant on the intestinal parts, softening the congested masses, disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the accumulation to the patient's great relief. Traxo acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation. It is a splendid tonic and serves to build up and restore the weakened run-down system.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Harrisburg they can be obtained at Gorgas, the Druggist; P. R. R. Station.

HELD FOR COURT MARTIAL

"I saw the battle of Loos and got sent to the base hospital at Etaples as a result of being buried in a shell crater. That was the Chicago American hospital unit under Dr. Roosevelt, the man who treated Roosevelt when he was shot. "All the time I was trying to get something out, but I found that everything I wrote was slashed. At last I found a man going to England and he agreed to take some of my stuff. I don't know whether they trapped him or whether he turned in-law. W. J. Davis, 624 Ross street, held for court martial. The rules are severe in such things, and death is usually the punishment. "I was put in prison at Westoutr, Belgium, in an old building that had been his by shell fire. It looked easy to escape, and as I saw nothing ahead but the firing squad I made the attempt. When the sentry was lounging in a corner out of sight, I slipped away. I could only travel by night, for I was hemmed in on all sides. At Bloegstreet, near the Belgian-French border, I got caught in the middle of a body of troops accidentally, and I

See the WHITTALL RUG on the Sidewalk

WANTED AT ONCE!!! 50,000 people to walk on this rug; we want the sun to shine—the dust to fly—we hope it rains and snows and freezes. We want this to be the most severe test possible for a floor covering. The rug on the sidewalk is a Whittall Anglo Persian, size 9x12.

We positively guarantee that this rug was taken from our regular stock and was not specially made for this sidewalk demonstration. You can always buy one like it right here in this store—any time. WHITTALL, WILTON and BODY BRUSSELS RUGS are made in many different grades and we have a very large stock from which to make your selection. It will pay you to pay this store a visit and inspect the many beautiful patterns we are showing. If you do not care to buy the best grade of the Whittall Rugs, buy the PEERLESS BODY BRUSSELS RUGS which have NO EQUAL for the price.

The Sidewalk Test What It Means to You

It is made for your benefit and for the benefit of every housewife who wants to know just what she is buying. The SIDEWALK TEST PROVES THE WORTH OF WHITTALL RUGS. Seeing is believing.

It allows the people in this community to see for themselves just what use and just what abuse a really good rug will stand. One might as well test glass with a hammer as to put an ordinary rug out on the sidewalk. This is where the weak must fall by the wayside and where Whittall quality Reigns Supreme.

What Becomes of the Rug

This rug will be left out on the sidewalk for seven days. Then it will be washed with ordinary soap and water just the same as you would wash a handkerchief. It will then be placed in our window so that everyone may examine it closely. It will then be sold to the highest bidder.

Examine it closely and then fill out your bid. Place it in a receptacle we have for it and we will tell you what the bid was that got the rug.

ESCAPED PRISON IN WAR PLANE

with his arrival in this country as a prisoner on the American liner, Philadelphia.

"I went over last May as a free lance," Mr. Price said when newspaper men who knew him recognized him leaving the pier. "But I soon found that I couldn't send that out unless they were willing. So I went to Kent and enlisted as a Canadian. I was sent to France about the first of July to a station at Kemmel, between Ypres and Messines, with the Second Divisional Ammunition Corps. I was made a dispatch rider, and I went all through the French and Belgian lines, under shell fire most of the time.

"I saw the battle of Loos and got sent to the base hospital at Etaples as a result of being buried in a shell crater. That was the Chicago American hospital unit under Dr. Roosevelt, the man who treated Roosevelt when he was shot. "All the time I was trying to get something out, but I found that everything I wrote was slashed. At last I found a man going to England and he agreed to take some of my stuff. I don't know whether they trapped him or whether he turned in-law. W. J. Davis, 624 Ross street, held for court martial. The rules are severe in such things, and death is usually the punishment. "I was put in prison at Westoutr, Belgium, in an old building that had been his by shell fire. It looked easy to escape, and as I saw nothing ahead but the firing squad I made the attempt. When the sentry was lounging in a corner out of sight, I slipped away. I could only travel by night, for I was hemmed in on all sides. At Bloegstreet, near the Belgian-French border, I got caught in the middle of a body of troops accidentally, and I had to hide in a haphack for four days without food or water before they moved on. I weighed 170 pounds when I started, and I'm down to 120 now. The whole trip was practically a continuous fast.

Saved by Aviator

"At last I got to an aviation hangar at Ballou, about eight miles across the French border. I hid near by, living on raw turnips from the fields and creeping in when no one was around to gather up the leavings from the soldiers' mess.

"At last one day I heard an American talking. I was hiding behind a hedge fence, and I managed to get him alone. I told him the whole yarn, and I begged him to get my memorandum book home to my folks. But this American—I don't dare to give his name—did more. He was starting with some dispatches across the Channel, and he put me on his machine, goggled and disguised as his helper. We were thirty-five miles from the Channel, the distance across was twenty miles, and he dropped me near Hendon, where he was going, sixty miles, inland—a distance of 115 miles in all. Then he gave me a pound note and left me. I made for my old quarters at London and got some clothes and enough money to take me to Liverpool.

"I reached the seaport the Thursday before the boat sailed on Saturday. I sneaked aboard and hid in the sand lockers until Sunday. I expected to be caught even then, for although I had my American passport I wouldn't have dared to show it, for it would have revealed me as Price, a deserter, with it."

A Word to the Public

From the

Penna. Reduction Co.

So many false impressions have been gained through incorrect statements in connection with the demands of our employes, that it is the desire of this company to set the public right in the matter.

The statements in to-day's Patriot to the effect that the men have been receiving $7 to $9 per week—that the men are required to work overtime without pay—and that the horses do not receive due care are untrue and misleading. The wage scale is from $8 to $10.50 per week—the regular hours are from 7 a. m. to 5.30 p. m., with an hour off for lunch—and when men are worked overtime as we sometimes deem necessary to render the best service to the public, they are paid extra for all overtime. So far as the horses are concerned, they are given an adequate amount of feed regularly, and are well stabled and provided for, as an investigation at any time will demonstrate.

We feel that the wages paid are consistent with the type of services rendered when compared with rates paid for labor of the same class. We have no desire to drag the people of Harrisburg into the controversy, but we do wish to let them know the true facts regarding our position in the matter, and in closing wish to assure them that the present controversy will in no way affect the collection of garbage and ashes, which work will go on uninterrupted.

BOMBARD GERMAN SUBMARINE BASE

One Belgian officer is reported seriously wounded.

All the British machines referred to were naval.

Raiders Brought Down

Nine persons were killed and 31 injured in a raid of four German seaplanes over the coast of Kent yesterday. It was announced officially to-night. Four towns, Dover, Deal, Ramsgate and Margate were bombarded.

A British airman brought down one raider flying back over the sea, the German observer being killed.

The official statement follows: "Four German seaplanes flew over East Kent to-day. The first pair appeared over Dover at a height of 5,000 to 6,000 feet, one at 1.57 p. m., the second at 2.02 p. m.

"The first dropped six bombs in the harbor, then went northwest, dropping bombs on the town. The other raider, after passing over Dover, appeared over Deal at 2.13 and dropped several bombs.

"The second pair appeared over Ramsgate at 2.10. They dropped bombs on the town. One of this pair went west, the other north, pursued by a British aeroplane. One bomb is reported to have been dropped on Margate.

"The second machine appeared over Westgate at 2.20. Here several of our aeroplanes went up in pursuit. No bombs were dropped on Westgate.

"The total casualties so far reported are: Killed, 3 men, 1 woman and 5 children; injured, 17 men, 5 women, 5 children.

"As far as ascertained, 48 bombs were dropped altogether. One bomb fell on the Canadian hospital, at Ramsgate, causing damage, but no casualties. Material damage was done. Several houses, the homes of artisans, and cottages were wrecked.

"Flight Commander Bone, Royal Naval Air Service, in a single-seater aeroplane, pursued one German seaplane 30 miles out to sea, where, after

Twenty-three Allied Planes on Raid Engaged in Greatest Aerial Battle of the War

Basel, Switzerland, March 20.—When twenty-three allied aeroplanes raided Mulhouse, Upper Alsace, the greatest aerial battle of the war took place. Accounts just reaching here declare that more than fifty machines were fighting at such close quarters that the German anti-air craft guns had to cease fire in order to avoid hitting their own machines.

One French airman rammed a German machine which fell in flames. Five German aeroplanes and three French fell, the occupants of all being killed. Even while the allied airmen were fighting they dropped a number of bombs upon military positions.

Many thousands of persons witnessed the combat.

FLEEING BANDITS, MOTHER HIDES IN MINE

mines, carrying whatever food we could snatch up. One of the men took my baby, and we crawled down an abandoned shaft by ladders until we reached the 1,000-foot level. Here we remained for twenty-four hours.

"Finally, as we heard no shooting, one of the men ventured to the surface. He reported everything quiet and we returned to our homes. We had hardly reached there, however, when we again heard that the bandits were coming. This time we went down to the 1,500-foot level where we remained another day. We were in a little slope about ten feet square.

"We had no lights of any kind, and I had only a couple of cans of condensed milk to feed my baby. We just sat there on the floor in the blackness and prayed. At last we could stand it no longer. I think we would have all gone mad if we had stayed there. We crawled up into the sunshine. There was no sign of bandits and we made our way safely to Cananea, where we got a train.

Mrs. Rogers declared that the Mexican bandits not only had no respect for the American flag, but that it actually incited them to outrages. The only flag that offered any protection at all, she said, was the British flag.

"I am bitterly ashamed to admit it," she said, "but whenever trouble started we began to hunt for a 'union jack.' It was by no means a bullet proof shield, but it was the only flag I ever saw that the Mexicans paid any deference to.

Deference to English

"There was a young Englishman who committed suicide where I was. The Mexicans thought he was an American and they hurriedly dug a shallow hole and were going to put him away without ceremony when the officer in command overheard someone say: 'I wish we knew where his mother is so we could notify her. She is somewhere in England, but I do not know where.'

"The officer stopped the burial and asked if the suicide was an Englishman. When he learned that he was he ordered the body preserved and tried for four days to get in touch with an English consul."
