PLAYS AND PLAYERS
Lenore Ulrich, who acts the Indian maiden in the Frohman-Belasco production of "The Heart of Wexona," is to recite a part in "Hawatha" at the next monthly meeting of the Theater Assembly.

Louise Huff, who has played in Lubin, Famous Players and other feature films, has been engaged by William Fox as one of the beautiful supporting players in the first Fox release starring Virginia Pearson, called "Blazing Love."

The recent uncertainty as to whether Mabel Normand would continue to inspire laughter with "Patty" Arbuckle for the Triangle Film Corporation has been dispelled. "Keystone Mabel" affixed her signature to contracts for the latter part of last week, and all is merry again.

Mary Miles Minter, one of the youngest film stars going, or coming, either for that matter, sweet fourteen, and a splendid boxer, to say nothing of a stealer of sleds from young men, who stand considerably in awe of her strength. She is not a precocious girl and apparently not spoiled. She loves coasting and is an ardent devotee of its joys.

Nat Goodwin believes he has already earned his salary on the stage. As for the screen he feels doubly sure about it. He wrote the following to a friend in the offices of the Mirror Films, about his work in "Hawatha," which is appearing in a farce for that company.

"This is a new experience for me, standing like a scarecrow on the corner of the street surrounded by all sorts of people, who gaze on me and contemplate a side show at a circus, and when I got back to the hotel to-night, I convinced myself that I had earned my salary for this one day, at least."

LOCAL THEATERS
"The Night Before"
Everybody who has seen and heard Harry Lauder—and what theatergoer has not—will enjoy his first offering as a playwright, "The Night Before," which, after strong endorsements by the press and public of Toronto, Montreal and Boston, comes to the Orpheum this evening.

"The New Henrietta"
The presentation of Bronson Howard's exultant comedy, "The Henrietta," with the added title "New," brings to mind pleasant thoughts of another occasion many years ago. Bronson and Crane were then the toast of the country, and their new play of American life has been the cause of saying goes, "like a train, are General 'Billy' Crane had a part to play in the comedy, and he was in the seventh heaven of satisfaction with his role. Joseph Brooks, their manager, and Andrew Clyde, Harry Morgan, Peter MacArthur and Harry Layden.

"The New Henrietta," now touring under the direction of Joseph Brooks—the original producer—has met with even greater success, and the critics of every mind and wide comparison accord this fact to the admirably fitting cast of famous stars. William H. Crane is again the Wall Street king, who gives substance to the plot; Thomas W. Ross, who has appeared at the theaters in this city. None of sufficient size or reputation have come to town in some years capable of holding forth on the theater boards. But now comes the combined Musical Clubs of the Pennsylvania State College, some sixty men, with their famous "State" quartet, and Glee Clubs, to render a concert on the night of the 7th of April, a Friday, at the Orpheum Theater.

State College Glee Club
It has been some time since a large college organization has appeared at the theaters in this city. None of sufficient size or reputation have come to town in some years capable of holding forth on the theater boards. But now comes the combined Musical Clubs of the Pennsylvania State College, some sixty men, with their famous "State" quartet, and Glee Clubs, to render a concert on the night of the 7th of April, a Friday, at the Orpheum Theater.

THE GREAT PAULINE, he who turned Harrisburg into a gay and lighter scene some three or four years ago, proved to be a really great entertainer as Majestic yesterday that he had lost none of his mid-production talents. Since this wizard of showmen and wonder-workers was the Orpheum's headliner, he has scattered laughter in his wake up and down the land as well as in every corner of the city, even to mystifying the crafty Hindoo, and it really doesn't seem to exaggerate things one bit to say that Pauline, like good wine, has improved with age. Pauline will be the Majestic's big headliner for one whole week. In presenting a clever artist as a management announces that he is easily the most noteworthy of the season's bookings thus far. Proof of this statement is readily borne out by the fact that Pauline is a metropolitan headliner, never appearing in the important vaudeville theaters of the larger cities, in any other capacity. A rattling comedy offering is booked about the Great Pauline, including Harry and Eva Puck, vaudeville's celebrated brother and sister team, who also were Orpheum favorites; Halbright and Bates, George F. Hall, and one or two others.

To-day witnesses the close of Billie Burke's engagement at the Colonial Theater in her charming picture "Peggy." With her comedy drama, Billie Burke, who thus far has had a very successful career, will have overlooked this master play, will do wisely to make a hurried call on the Colonial's box office. Unprecedented crowds have been on hand to see the return of this film at the popular theater. In fact, one would scarcely believe that it was anything but the initial showing of it in Harrisburg. A very funny, Charlie Chaplin comedy cartoon is shown on the same program with Billie Burke's play. Of the noteworthy achievements that are associated with the late Richard Mansfield, one of the greatest English-speaking actors that ever lived, is "The Parisian Romance," which has been splendidly produced by William Fox, and which will be the fine attraction at the Colonial to-morrow and Thursday. Chevalier, Mr. Mansfield's well-known role, is said to live again in this play. Baron Chevalier (H. Cooper Cliffe) is a wealthy Parisian, a fop, a prematurely aged fop. His whole interest in life centers in woman, or rather women, for his list of conquests is large.

Although the beautiful and charming Blanche Sweet will be seen as a girl of the slums in the new production of "The Ragamuffin," now appearing at the Regent.

The Essentials of a Good Corset

It should lace in front.
It should be of suitable size.
It should be as lightly boned as possible.
It should be equipped with garter straps.
Likewise, a corset that gives one proper poise, and requires the wearer to stand and sit as nature intended, that she should, has comfort, as well as style and beauty.
This is an exact description of "LaCamille" corsets.
Our corsetier has made a special study of the fitting of "LaCamille" corsets.

gent, many of the scenes are laid in fashionable New York society, and ample opportunity is given to display many of the latest gowns. Instead of wearing gowns, Miss Sweet makes her appearance in a lathered, heavy, battered, cheap skirt and a dilapidated boy's cap, much to the large for her.

MUSIC TRANSMITTED BY WIRELESS TELEPHONE
A young California inventor has designed an apparatus whereby selections played on a phonograph have been transmitted to several neighboring homes which are equipped with special receiving instruments. In some instances the instruments have been installed in the dining room and by this arrangement the neighbors were entertained at mealtime. A wireless-telephone apparatus upon which the inventor has been working several years is used at his central station. A phonograph, in which the horn is an integral part of the body of the instrument, is used in producing the selections. The slats are removed from the mouth of the horn and with them are placed two ordinary telephone transmitters, from which the sounds are carried by wires to the wireless-telephone which, after serving as an amplifier, sends the waves through a cable to the aerial on the roof, whence they are discharged into the air.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP
You can keep your hair at its very best by washing it with a teaspoonful of canthorin dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterward rinsing thoroughly with clear water. One finds that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and very fluffy, so fluffy in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. This simple, inexpensive shampoo cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all dandruff and dirt, and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. Any scalp irritation will disappear, and the hair will be brighter and glossier than ever before.

WHEN COMB IS FULL OF FALLEN HAIR
What To Do When Hair Comes Out Or Is Dry and Lifeless.
Loose hairs in your comb and brush is Nature's way of waving a red flag in your face to tell you that your hair and scalp are losing vitality and that it is high time you did something. Don't disregard the warning. A little attention now may mean long, thick, luxuriant hair for years to come. A little neglect and thin, dry, dull, lifeless brittle hair and finally baldness may result. To vitalize the scalp till it tingles with vibrant energy—to make every hair on your head healthy—get a package of Parisian Sage from H. C. Kennedy or at any good drug or toilet counter and rub a little right into your scalp with the finger tips.

Parisian Sage acts directly on the entire cell life of the hair—from root to tip—promoting healthy growth and stimulating a beautiful glossy texture and glorious luxuriance. You cannot help noticing how quickly your hair stops coming out—how much easier it is to dress and how all signs of itching or dandruff quickly disappear.
