New Passenger Engines

Special to the Telegraph

Reading, April 4.—Engine 112, designed by S. G. Thompson when superintendent of motive power and rolling equipment, previous to leaving the service, has been equipped with a a trailer similar to that of engine 111, now drawing the fast express on the Iteading division.

These engines are to be placed in a new class and the numbers changed to 350, 351, 352 and 353. The original number were 110, 111, 112 and 113. Considerable trouble was experienced with these locomotives at first because

St. Clairsville, O., April 4. — An engineer on the St. Clairsville branch of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad opened his mouth to laugh and lost his false teeth, as the engine was passing over a bridge yesterday. In his excitement he stopped the train suddenly, joiting the passengers severely. The train waited while he left the engine to search for his teeth, which had fallen into a creek. He found them.

PARENT OF TRUANT FINED

Because his daughter Edith, aged 14, stayed out of school to work, missing 73% days in the school year, Joseph W. Riley, 1310 Herr street, was fined $2 and costs at a hearing this morning before Alderman S. Brady Caveny. Two other truancy cases were heard late this afternoon.

Dry District in Michigan Increased by Elections

Detroit, April 4.—Late returns from the 13 counties which voted on the local option issue yesterday made certain that prohibition forces increased the area of dry territory in Michigan. Garaga and Clare counties shifted from wet to dry. The Prohibitionists retained all their counties where the question was before the people.

Ingham county remains dry. It contains Lansing, the State capital, and was considered the storm center o. election.

What Others Say About Us:

BARD & COMPANY, Charles E.—Incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania capitalization $100,000. Officers: Charles E. Bard, president and general manager: Samuel S. Fackler, vice-president; Albert Alleg, treasurer: Dr. Thomas A. Thorley, secretary. These with Jos. W. Pomraining constitute the board of directors. Manufactures the Bard single and double actions for player pianos and the Bard adaptable action which can be installed in any upright piano. This company has a large, well-equipped factory at 921-23-25 Hemlock street, Harrisburg, Pa. The Bard adaptable action is designed particularly for installation in second-hand upright pianos, and a large market has been found among retail dealers who appreciate the opportunity thus offered to meet the "trade-in" feature of the business. Mr. Bard is a thoroughly practical man, having been actively connected with the piano business for thirty years, the latter part of which he has devoted exclusively to the making of player actions. He has invented a number of important features which are incorporated in the Bard actions. These actions are being used in many well-known makes of pianos. They have attracted attention because of their reliability, responsiveness and simplicity of construction. Associated with Mr. Bard in the manufacturing and experimental departments is Mrs. Bard, who is a player expert and authority on the subject of pneumatic player actions. THE PIANO AND ORGAN PURCHASER'S GUIDE FOR 1916.

This Is the Nature of Our Business:

This company manufacturers Pneumatic Player Actions - an instrument which changes an ordinary straight piano into a full 88-note Player Just stop to consider the field open here. Of the ten million pianos in this country alone, six million are seldom used. Why? Because this is the day of the Player Piano! Think a minute. How many pianos here in Harrisburg homes do YOU know of that are seldom used, the owners of which would be only too glad to have them converted into player pianos if they but knew how. We'll tell them

The player actions made and installed by this company go into any piano without changing the case-ANY piano can be so converted.

Then again, this company manufactures player actions for piano manufacturers-that is, this company makes the player actions that go on the market as player pianos, and at present the factory is busy making sample actions which will mean manufac-
