ALLISON HILL FIRST ON DECORATION

(Continued From First Page.) street, has interested herself in the work of beautifying that portion of State street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, where the style of architecture is particularly well adapted to floral treatment.

Mrs. Jean, in speaking of the movement, said: "I have read everything the Telegraph has had to say on the subject. I think the beautification of the city is something in which everybody ought to be interested. I am sure I am ready to do my part and I feel sure that there are hundreds of others who have been awaiting just such an opportunity for civic service. We all owe our city something, and here is a way in which everybody may participate."

Mrs. Demming is also much interested in the movement. Said she: "Oh, yes, I have been keeping track of the subject. We love Harrisburg and as the capital city of the State it ought to be a model in every way. Think of what an attractive city we should have if everybody entered into this window and porch box movement, as I believe they will. A beautiful house is made more beautiful by floral decorations and even an unattractive building may be transformed thereby into a thing of beauty."

POLITICAL STATUS NEARING CRISIS

(Continued From First Page.) to him that Governor Brumbaugh is utterly indifferent to his own tentative candidacy for presidency. He has declared to friends who have discussed the matter with him that he is ready at any time to detach himself from the situation and do everything possible to restore harmony within the party. It is also known that he is fretting somewhat over the fact that the injection of political matters during the few weeks has in a measure so engrossed his attention as to divert him from the constructive work of his administration.

Statement Coming Soon
The Governor is expected this afternoon to indicate in no uncertain way whether he will permit the further use of his name in an effort to reunite the factions upon the lines set forth in his recent letter to Henry C. Wasson, the present member of the Republican National committee. Rumors have been flying thick and fast during the day and that in the way of a definite decision is looked for. Executives in the frequent telegrams which have come from Philadelphia inquiring as to the situation here.

Governor Brumbaugh went to his office at the Capitol this morning and after noon met Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown. After being closed a few minutes the Governor and the chief law officer of the Commonwealth were seen to emerge from the Mansions where they went into consultation and declined to see any one. While no one was in position to tell the nature of their discussion, all available news items indicate that the final determination of the Governor's course was under consideration.

Disaster In Contest
It has been pointed out by the Governor that only general demoralization in the party and in his administration as well would follow a factional contest, which would be as prolonged as it would be bitter. Rumors of reprisals of all sorts have been fung far and wide and these rumors give added interest to the situation which has aroused a Capital Hill to an extent never known before and which has stirred up the big cities of the State.

From every direction to-day as a result of the reported harmony negotiations in the morning newspapers, came excited requests for further information, the trend of these inquiries indicating a general desire for peace and a widespread feeling over the outlook for harmony.

It has been suggested more than once during the last few weeks that the Governor might have invited a controversy over party control, but was simply looking to the use of his name in the preferential primary as a means to restore harmony. He had been invited to do so by several prominent men who have already been mentioned. Most of these men would be acceptable to both sides.

Governor to Retire?
Among the interesting bits of political gossip from Philadelphia to-day is the making up of a list of delegates-at-large to the national convention which would include such persons as Colonel John Gribbel, of the Governor's staff and president of the Union League; Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works; Col. The Elverson, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and other prominent men who have already been mentioned.

Whether Governor Brumbaugh will be among the list of delegates-at-large, according to the political gossip, depends upon himself. There seems to be no doubt that he can go to Chicago as he desires.

While the trenches about the Executive Mansions were closely guarded and outsiders could not get near them late this afternoon, there seemed to be a well-founded impression that Governor Brumbaugh was about to separate himself from the big political war.

Meat Will Be by Card in Bavaria and Saxony

By Associated Press
Berlin, April 6, via London.—Meat cards will be introduced in Bavaria and Saxony on April 15, permitting consumption of 150 grams (one-third pound) per capita daily except on two meatless days each week. Bavaria has forbidden sale of canned meats, whole hams, whole sausages, etc., to individuals to prevent the accumulation of stocks in advance. Individual meat cards probably will not be issued in Berlin. Regulation of distribution will be effected by limiting the supply for each retailer.

Hagerstown, Md., April 6.—Mrs. John Finucan yesterday celebrated her hundredth birthday at her home at Martinsburg. She is still enjoying good health and eats and sleeps well. She was born in Ireland in 1816.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Says New York Physician
A New York Physician who has made a special study of stomach and intestinal diseases says that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, are directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach. This is true about nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach but may cause gastritis and dangerous stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines, and practically all medical treatments that are designed to act upon the stomach lining, stating that the best results are obtained by the use of a simple antacid which acts upon the contents of the stomach and neutralizes the acidity of the food thus removing its source of the trouble. As an antacid he prescribes ordinary bisulphated magnesia. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub his foot on the tack without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach will irritate and remove the acidity and there will be no need for medicine, for it will heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach and heartburn should get a small bottle of bisulphated magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water in the morning and evening after each meal, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the time for the doctor to find most efficacious in all cases.—Advertisement.

A REAL FLESH BUILDER FOR THIN PEOPLE

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed into the air as smoke, through an open grate. The material was there but your food doesn't work. You are thin, and you are hungry. You hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true for thin folks the year over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need some attention. Cut out the foolish foods and funny savant diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Let the best fat-producing element, fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixed with your food, will prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds, while taking Sargol, and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant harmless and inexpensive, and G. A. Gorges and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money back as found in every large package.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.
