ANNUAL MEETING CAMP HILL CLUB

All Old Officers Are Elected and Civic Work Is Flourishing

The annual meeting of the Camp Hill Civic Club was held yesterday afternoon in the fire company house with a goodly attendance of members. Owing to the steady growth of the organization, the offices of secretary and treasurer, which were merged in one since the club started, have been separated, and at the annual election the following officers, who have done such excellent work, were re-elected: President, Mrs. James W. Millhouse; first vice-president, Mrs. Charles W. Harding; second vice-president, Mrs. George Kehr; secretary, Mrs. W. G. Siegmund; treasurer, Mrs. John Armstrong; directors, Mrs. Robert L. Myers and Mrs. W. Fred Kendall.

At the request of the president, the heads of departments remain unchanged with the exception of the educational department, from which Mrs. Howard Sigler has resigned, her place being taken by Mrs. Henry T. Shetron, who so capably filled the position once before. Mrs. Guert W. Ensign heads the municipal department; Mrs. Shetron, the educational; Mrs. L. H. Dennis, out of doors; Mrs. Elsie V. Middleton, charities; Mrs. Howard W. Goodman, press.

Following the business session Mrs. Charles E. Ryder, of this city, talked to the ladies on "Preparedness," making many good arguments for the women of the nation to be prepared for war, disaster or whatever may come in the future to the country.

WHAT THE SHOPS ARE SHOWING

To dress well is expensive, but a clever woman can be smartly dressed at the minimum expense, for new things are constantly being shown in the shops which help to solve her problem. Never has footwear been so extreme in styles, so high in price, nor so fascinatingly attractive as it is this season, and to have different footwear for each costume is a delightful impossibility for many. However the new pumps of soft gray kid, shown by the Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street are a smart novelty in footwear which are not only most attractive, but practical as well to wear with almost any costume. They are shown in a beautiful Swiss model, with narrow straps crossed over the instep and fastened on each side with a single button.

A Hint From Paris
"Taffeta, of course for suits and frocks" says all Paris, and "taffeta, smartly combined with serge of contrasting color" is the very last word of the creators of Fashion. Astich's, Fourth and Market streets, are showing these stunning suits, and several strikingly attractive models are especially priced at just $25. One is of crisp black taffeta, with a broad band of navy serge giving a smart finish at the bottom of the skirt. The jacket is banded and belted with serge which also appears at collar and cuffs. The double advantage of serge for early wear, and the chic coolness of taffeta for all summer use, makes these suits an especially good selection for the woman who wishes one suit to serve for both Spring and summer.

Coloring For Easter Eggs
Have you ever outgrown your fondness for the multi-colored eggs of Easter time? Just as surely as spruce and pine, holly and mistletoe, belong to the Christmas season, so do colored eggs and chocolate candies, belong to Easter time, and the Gorgas Drug Store, 15 North Third street, is already offering a splendid assortment of Easter egg dyes, which are very simple and easy to use, brilliantly beautiful in color and just as cheap as the ordinary kind, for they sell for just 5c and 10c a package. Gorgas' also offer some specially fine chocolates, which are always enjoyed by those who appreciate the best of "sweets," though they are especially welcome at Easter.

Easter Eggs
At last eggs are popularly priced, and the wise housewife will take full advantage of her opportunity and use quantities of eggs, often allowing them to take the place of vegetable or expensive meats. Especially for the Easter season are eggs in demand and the Studebaker Grocery Store, Second street at the crossing of State, offers, specially selected fine white eggs, whose freshness is assured. They make the most tempting of Easter baskets, not only for children, but to give the invalid a friendly Easter greeting, as well, and charming baskets of various kinds may be obtained at Studebaker's which they are glad to arrange with eggs, or sweetmeats, for Easter giving.

Easter Egg Cooking and Other Things
Of course if your cooking is simply a matter of boiling water for the Easter eggs, most any kind of stove will do, but if you want a kitchen range which will cook your meals successfully for many years—one which is economical to operate, easy to clean and to regulate, and equipped with a dependable oven which bakes evenly and well—then you will choose your range with care, compare it with others, investigate its reputation, and after doing that, you will no doubt decide, as so many others have done—to buy one of the splendid Penn Es-ther ranges sold exclusively in Harrisburg by the Himes Hardware Store, 10 North Market Square.

New Things--at the Walk-Over Shop
