

ALMOST EVERYONE Takes S. S. S. IN THE SPRING

Almost everyone takes S. S. S. in the Spring because there are few systems which do not require a tonic at this season, and no other medicine is so valuable for building up the constitution.

We all feel badly in the Spring. Some have no particular sickness, but are debilitated, run-down and weak, and their systems are in a state of general disorder.

This is a condition which should not be neglected. If the impure blood is not purified and strengthened, the foundation may be laid for more serious physical disorders or diseases later on.

The healthful botanical ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, and the method of combining and preparing them, make it the best of all Spring tonics.

The value of S. S. S. as a tonic and blood purifier is universally recognized. It builds up the depleted system in the natural way, by purifying the blood and supplying an increased amount of nourishment to every portion of the body.

S. S. S. has been known as the greatest of all tonics for fifty years. Each year sees an increase in the number of persons using and recommending it until now almost everyone takes S. S. S. in the Spring.

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment.

THE other day a man said to us, "Great Scott, everybody in Harrisburg must read your Want Ad Page. About a week ago, I had some furniture in the house for which I had no further use and put a Want Ad in the TELEGRAPH to see if I couldn't sell some of it."

And this man is well known in Harrisburg—his name is withheld on request.

Hundreds of others are taking advantage of these little money-savers. Is your attic or basement overloaded with a lot of useless furniture, an old stove, or perhaps a carpet or two? Turn 'em into cash, the Want Ad way. Just call 4100 and let us help you word your ad. It'll cost but a penny a word. What this other man has done, you can do, with a TELEGRAPH Want Ad.

BANDITS FLEE; READ GUARD MEETS DEFEAT

There was absolute quiet in the State capital when they left, but that everywhere there was apparent a curious feeling of expectancy that important developments were imminent.

As has been the case for a week the whole Mexican situation seems at a standstill pending the outcome of the negotiations between Washington and Carranza.

Repeated intimations that the supply situation had reached an acute stage have received strong support by the statements made by soldiers returning from the front and by references in letters received here by relatives of the men and officers in General Pershing's advance columns.

Stories from the front of the expeditions adopted by the troops to repair worn-out garments, especially shoes, gives sharp point to this problem.

But the plight of the American soldiers faded into insignificance when compared with the stories reaching here through Mexican sources of the desperate conditions prevailing among the peasants in the bandit-ravaged regions of northern Mexico.

There is considerable interest in the persistent reports that General Gavia, the Carranza commander at Juarez is about to be superseded. One story published in a Mexican paper declares that General Pablo Gonzalez is on his way here from Mexico City and that when he arrives he will take supreme charge of all the Carranza soldiers in the field.

In the absence of any definite news from General Pershing the border again has been reduced to mere speculation as to the whereabouts of Villa and the status of the pursuit. What is regarded as the most hopeful sign is that no news has come from Carranza regarding the bandit. If he has not reached that town by this time it is argued that there is still a chance of blood and the cutting in between him and the south.

Details of Clashes With Mexicans Are Received by War Department

Washington, April 7.—American Consul Lecher at Chihuahua in a dispatch received at the War Department today through Major-General Funston, told of some of the results of the clashes between American troops and Villa forces at Aguascalientes on April 1, and the fight between the bandits and Carranza troops near Cieneguilla three days later.

Lecher reported a persistent rumor in Chihuahua that Villa has been wounded. He said the fight at Aguascalientes resulted in the killing of thirty or forty bandits by troops of the Tenth Cavalry under Colonel Brown. Brown's troops were reported as living for one week on beef and corn with supplies almost exhausted.

A mining company, Lecher said, had relieved the shortage by sending a special train with supplies and forage.

At the fight of Cieneguilla the Carranza force, under General Cavazos captured two bandits of the fifty engaged. Lecher reported that Carranza troops were co-operating with General Pershing and that General Gutierrez had informed the American authorities about Chihuahua.

A resume of a telegram dated April 6 from the American consul general at Monterey made public by the State Department today said:

Telegraphic and mail reports from Torreón and Durango indicate a marked improvement since the arrival of General Jacinto Trevino at Torreón and the establishment of his headquarters there. The reports from all interior consulates report good order and friendly feeling toward Americans.

The Mexican embassy announced receipt of a telegram from the Consul General at El Paso from General Gutierrez saying Villa bandits had been met and partly annihilated by the de facto government's force. The report stated that an American was wounded and his capture was imminent. The date of the fight mentioned was not reported.

Lansing Denies U. S. Will Recall Troopers From Hunt For Bandit Chief in Mexico

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Positive denial by Secretary Lansing late yesterday was the official answer to persistent reports that the American troops might be withdrawn from Mexico soon, regardless of developments in the hunt for Villa. Both Mr. Lansing and Secretary Lansing, the War Department indicated that there was no present intention of changing the original orders to General Funston.

Official comment was refused regarding statements credited to a representative of the de facto government at El Paso, who repudiated it, that the punitive expedition had accomplished its ends in dispersing the outlaws and that he would be glad to see it withdrawn. The matter was given scant consideration by high officials.

Straight Shooting of Troops Leaves Mexicans Stricken With Terror

Columbus, N. M., April 7.—Proof of the marksmanship of American soldiers has gone more than any other development of the campaign in Mexico to strike fear into the hearts of Villa's followers, according to reports seeping across the border.

The straight shooting done at Columbus, that of the little detachment that pursued the bandits across the line after the raid, and that at Guerrero and Aguascalientes was totally unexpected by the Mexicans. It was utterly different from shooting they had experienced in engagements between factional troops in the five years of civil strife, close followers of the situation assert.

Villa's followers had been taught that the Americans were weaklings, cowards, who are afraid to match their strength with Mexican forces. A naturalized Mexican living here said today. They believed, in their ignorance, implicitly in themselves and their ability to conquer any force they should encounter. I am convinced that before the Columbus raid their feeling was that of contempt of a larger man for a smaller one.

First Shock, 79 Dead. The first shock was given the Villa bandits when seventy-nine of their men were killed by half as many troopers of the Thirteenth Cavalry who made the sortie across the international line after the raid. But even then they did not realize their own weakness, soldiers and civilians returning from the front reporting that

In the towns through which the band passed in its flight its members boasted of their superiority over the "gringos" forces. It was at Guerrero that the contrast between the marksmanship of the two forces was demonstrated. There the troopers of the Seventh Cavalry shot the bandits coolly, sent almost every bullet to its mark, while General Hernandez's soldiers fired wildly as they ran, nearly all shooting above the heads of the Americans.

As a result, when the smoke of the engagement had cleared, it was learned that the Americans had killed fifteen men, while the number of Villa followers had been killed and as many were wounded. A similar demonstration of marksmanship at Aguascalientes confirmed the suspicion already growing in the minds of the bandits that the ability of the "gringos" had been misappreciated to them, according to arrivals here.

Army men here point out that, although important, the moral effect of Villa's command of the display of American marksmanship is a minor consideration as compared with the effect upon the neons of the district. The first held sway, and it is in Guerrero that many of the natives look upon Villa as an idol. Realizing this, General Pershing has taken every precaution to prevent outbreaks among the Villa adherents and has placed small detachments in towns along the American line of communication not far from Carranza's headquarters.

General Pershing believes that a wholesome respect for the ability of American soldiers will go a long way toward solving his problems with the natives, an officer said today.

Declares U. S. Can Render Greatest Service to World by Staying Out of War

London, April 7.—Friedrich Von Payer, of the Progressively Peoples party touched upon German-American relations in addresses in the Reichstag yesterday from which Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent quotes as follows:

"The political influence of America has risen with the duration of the war. Its growth lays the heaviest responsibility on those European states which have caused the war."

"We must have the right to live and to be of some account. We feel ourselves united with America by ties of blood and we hope the American people will give us justice."

"At the present moment America can perhaps render the world the greatest service by keeping out of reach of the flames of war."

"Common dangers and successes bind us to our allies. Co-operation in peace must follow comradeship in war."

Germany Willing to Meet U. S. Half Way if Sussex Was Torpedoed Erroneously

Berlin, April 6, via London.—James W. Gerard, the United States ambassador, held a conversation yesterday afternoon with Dr. Alfred F. M. Zimmerman, under secretary for foreign affairs regarding the submarine situation.

It is understood that the foreign office had no information to convey to the ambassador regarding the Sussex and the other steamship in which the United States Government has manifested an interest, but that there was an intimation that Germany is unwilling to discuss the matter in Dr. Zimmerman's statement of April 3 to the Associated Press, to meet the United States more than half way if it should develop that the Sussex was torpedoed erroneously.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—A total production of 495,000,000 bushels of winter wheat was forecast today by the Department of Agriculture basing its estimate on the condition of the crop and the general assumption of average abandonment of acreage and average influences on the crop of harvest. That compares with 655,045,000 bushels in 1915 and 684,990,000 bushels in 1914.

P. AND O. SIMLA SUNK

London, April 7.—The Daily Mail publishes a report that the Peninsula and Oriental line steamer Simla has been sunk in the Mediterranean. It is suggested that this may be the transport reported sunk in an earlier dispatch.

The Simla was 430 feet long. The last mention of her in the shipping records is dated November 22, 1915, and it is presumed that she has latterly been employed by the government service.

PRICES BREAK WITH VIOLENCE

Coppers and Metals Drop Two Points; Decline Partly Checked

New York, April 7.—Prices broke with some violence before the end of the first hour. Marines, United Fruit, Crucible, Mexican Petroleum and some of the coppers and motors declining one to over two points.

The selling was accompanied by various rumors dealing with the international situation and hinted strongly at a rupture of relations with Germany. Support was met at the lower levels and the decline was checked in part, but the undertone continued feverish. Public confidence in the government report on winter wheat had little effect on Grangers beyond some heaviness in St. Paul. Bonds were lower.
