Mexican Orchestra in Camp of U. S. Soldiers; Aviators Are Active

General Pershing's Camp at San Geronimo Ranch, by Aeroplane and Motor Courier to Columbus, N. M., April 8. - A Mexican peon four-piece orchestra gave an unexpected Sunday night concert in General Pershing's camp last night.

The planes have demonstrated the skill of the army aviators by daily adventures which they have pulled through safely. Two days ago an aviator was caught in a wind which blew off his goggles.

Whenever they are on the ground the aviators keep in mind General Pershing's orders to demonstrate the army's friendliness and they have had some startling opportunities in this line, laming among Mexicans who have never before seen any American military outfits.

Everywhere along this front the minds of the people seem to have been filled with suspicion against Americans. There is evidence that Villa himself not only told the Mexicans whom he passed in his retreat that he would return to punish them for having anything to do with Americans...

THE HASKIN LETTER

YOUR attention is invited to the daily letter by Frederic J. Haskin which is appearing regularly in this newspaper. The author of this feature is a newspaper correspondent whose special articles on current affairs, politics, social economy, travel and other subjects have been given wide publication throughout the United States in recent years.

In the course of his investigations he has been sent by the great newspapers into all parts of the world, and he has had the benefit of the most varied and extensive observation.

His work has invariably been notable for care in securing facts and for rare skill in narrating them. It has won him the confidence of presidents, statesmen, diplomats and party leaders.

Thousands of scrap books are stored with Mr. Haskin's articles, and he is the author of two of the most widely circulated books in the world—"The American Government" and "The Panama Canal"—as well as the successful moving picture production "Uncle Sam at Work."

Written for busy people to read, these letters are brief, accurate, instructive and entertaining. They deal in facts, rather than opinions, and leave the reader to draw his own conclusions.

The subjects embrace every phase of American national life, as well as foreign affairs in which the United States is interested. They are timely and are designed to give wider information concerning current topics than can be given in the news dispatches.

The boy or girl who will read these letters regularly, and who retains even a small portion of the information they contain, will soon have a fund of knowledge of general affairs which will prove a valuable addition to a scholastic education.

The man or woman who will keep a scrap-book of these letters will soon have a most valuable addition to a reference library.

Read These Articles for a While and You Will Get the Habit

The Haskin Letter has more Regular Readers than any other Daily Newspaper Feature in the United States
