LOCAL OPTION FIGHT IN EVERY COUNTY

Pennsylvania and the Anti-Saloon League, which have been working together on the preliminaries to the campaign, united last night and the November general election was launched at an open meeting in the Board of Trade at which ringing speeches were made and resolutions adopted calling upon the citizenship of Pennsylvania to stand back of Governor Brumbaugh in his local option efforts.

Work Well in Hand

As a matter of fact the work is well in hand. For weeks the men in charge have been getting reports on districts and over three-fourths of the districts of the State have been covered by pre-emptions of the name Local Option. The names of hundreds of men available as legislative candidates have been obtained and when the petitions are all filed the committee in charge will decide which men to endorse and will tell the people why.

The meetings yesterday were to acquaint all of the members with what is going on and the reports were extended to the afternoon of the afternoon to hear. Then the men in charge got together and outlined their fighting plans.

I am very well pleased with the manner in which reports have come in and with the aroused public sentiment. The newspapers have given great aid and many organizations are solidly lined up for local option," declared State Chairman J. Denny O'Neil today.

Governor For Local Option

The meeting last night at which Governor Brumbaugh spoke was notable for the vigor of the address. Governor Brumbaugh declared that he was firm for local option. "I am as thoroughly for local option now as I ever was," he said. "I can do for it what I want to do."

The Governor received a notable reception, the audience standing when he came in and his remarks were punctuated with applause. His declaration was well received and the audience listened with marked attention to his clear, logical argument for local option as local self government at the local level.

Governor's Speech

The address of the Governor was much commented upon to-day among visitors to the city. The Governor said: "This is a government in which the will of the people rules. The majority will be expressed in terms of law and guidance and direction to all the people. When that will is recorded it is the duty of all to yield to it ready obedience. The essence of our democracy is reliance upon the citizenry. To educate that citizenry and fit it to do its part in enacting, enforcing and obeying law is the greatest program of service to which the nation can devote itself."

"There is conclusive evidence that local government can be given increased powers as the people become increasingly trained and informed on all matters that have to do with conduct and procedure under law. To deny local control is to deny one's confidence in our democracy. I for one believe in the people and am willing to give them full opportunity to register their will upon all issues that affect them locally. The same confidence which the Commonwealth shows in giving the people the right to license for the sale of alcoholic beverages shall be granted in their several counties. I am as strongly for local option now as I ever was and am anxious to see a law enacted at the coming session of the Legislature. Surely if the people in the several counties can legislate upon any subject of moment that is peculiarly and specifically their own problem, it is fair to allow them to legislate upon local option. Let the will of the people in the counties be the law in this matter."

Take Licensing From Judges "We ought, as a solemn duty, to take the issuing of licenses from the judiciary. It is not a judicial function and it is not a duty which the judges do not wish to assume. The bar has protected against its continuance. It is our right to relieve the courts of an obligation they should never have assumed. To ensure contests for judicial position in some parts of the Commonwealth should cease. I earnestly ask all thoughtful citizens to help strengthen our judiciary in every way we can. To ensure a local option law will contribute to this vital service to the judiciary and to all the people. It will be a dignifying of our great tribunals of justice."

Let us join in an earnest, honest effort to secure a local option law to do all we honorably can to help elect men to the next general assembly who will favor such a law. It is incumbent upon us to elect the most capable to office, to the end that in all matters that arise for legislative attention we may do so with courage, integrity, independence and character to represent the people in the great work of enacting laws that promote human welfare and advance human rights in Pennsylvania.

Ovation for Governor

At the open meeting last night Governor Brumbaugh received an ovation which declared that he was as much in favor of local option as he ever was in his life and urged his hearers to work for it with might and main, and speakers who followed him denounced Senators Penrose and Oliver. The Governor made no reference to anything but local option, but the later speakers appeared to have other things on their minds.

When the Governor had finished and left the hall the Rev. Dr. C. F. Swift, a former legislator from Beaver and superintendent of the Pittsburgh district of the Anti-Saloon League, took the floor and declared that so long as the church people pray for local option at the altar and then go out on election day and vote the Penrose-boozie ticket, just so long will the cause of local option meet with defeat in this State. Dr. Swift declared that if he ever saw a pulpit again—he is an ordained minister—he will throw out of his church any person he finds "praying for local option at the Wednesday evening prayer service and voting for the boozie machine on the second Tuesday in November."

ATTACK SUBSIDES AFTER HARD FIGHTING

A large section of the territory west of the Meuse, but the Paris communication says the French prevented the execution of this plan. The principal German effort since the general Verdun offensive was begun Sunday has been the attempt to force a passage between Dead Man's Hill and Cuimieres for the purpose of enveloping the hill. Following the evacuation of the Bethincourt salient the Germans were compelled to make frontal attacks, except at Dead Man's Hill, where they attempted to advance through the ravines. Elsewhere on the western front, as well as along the Russian and Italian battle lines, no operations of importance are recorded. The Russian attacks have not seriously shaken the German lines, and although spirited fighting is still in progress at various points, the offensive movement, apparently, is subsiding.

than offset any loss in grain sales to the farmers. Resolutions Passed The following resolutions were adopted: First. We are pleased with the situation throughout the State, as touching the next Legislature, as indicated by the exceedingly optimistic reports coming from all parts of the State, and by the highly representative attendance in Harrisburg to-day. The people of our State are awakened as never before. The right-thinking citizens are coming to realize their opportunity and their duty in expressing themselves at the polls on questions touching the public welfare. We call upon every good citizen to vote. Second. That we call upon the citizenship of Pennsylvania who believe in the fundamental principle of home rule to support only such candidates for both houses of the Legislature as favoring unqualifiedly county local option.

Third. That we express our high appreciation of the valuable aid to the local option cause rendered by the newspapers which have favored it and also to all those members of the Legislature and others giving their support to the local option cause. Fourth. Whereas Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh has given his aggressive support to the cause of local option since he assumed the high office of Governor of this Commonwealth, in keeping with his pledges and inaugural address. Be It Resolved, That the Local Option Committee of Pennsylvania, the federated local option forces of the State, including the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania State Grange, the No-License League, the W. C. T. U., the Catholic Prohibition League and kindred organizations hereby pledge their continued unqualified support to Governor Brumbaugh in his endeavor to place on the Statute Books of Pennsylvania a county local option measure.
