

The Globe Says.

We're Splendidly Ready For Easter—Are You?

Open Saturdays Till 10 P. M.

Easter is the one day on which everybody blossoms forth with something new.

The "Easter Man" is a faultlessly dressed man—hereabouts he will wear GLOBE CLOTHES.

We've prepared for a "bumper season" and the men who rely upon this Big, Live, Progressive Clothing Institution for their new-season apparel will be numbered among the best dressed men in the country. WHY NOT BE ONE OF THEM?

This week has brought us many new Fashion Park stylings for Easter—fabrics ordered specially many months ago, so exclusive in design that everyone will go into raptures about them. These fabrics were ordered to link up with this week's special advertising of Fashion Park Clothes in the Saturday Evening Post and other publications.

THE GLOBE is the Harrisburg home of Fashion Park Clothes.

THEATRICAL DIRECTORY ORPHEUM—To-night, "The Frolics of 1915" (burlesque); to-morrow, matinee and night, "Walk This Way"; Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, next week, with matinee Monday and Wednesday, "The Magician"; MAJESTIC—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures. Motion Picture Houses COLONIAL—"The Moral Fabric." REGENT—"The Precious Packet." VICTORIA—"The Battle Cry of Peace."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS Jane Cowll will be a star next season when A. H. Woods will send four companies to carry over the country the cleaving moral, "Common Clay," a Harvard Prize play.

Edith Wynn Mathison will appear next season in "The Lib of the Woman," written by her husband, Charles Rann Kennedy.

Mae Murray, the beautiful Laskey star, was somewhat perturbed as to whether or not to appear at the British Red Cross Benefit in Lexington, and wants it to be understood that she is just as willing to appear for the Germans, as she is perfectly neutral.

Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid will begin rehearsals shortly on an original scenario by Cecil De Mille and Jeanie Macpherson, entitled "Behind the Mask," a Paramount picture.

Fritzi Brunette loves trouble. "No gaiety for me," says dainty Fritzi, "the more unhappy I am the better I like it. Some people enjoy going through life with a smile and a song, tears and sorrow for me—on the screen."

LOCAL THEATERS

Thurston, the Magician

For expertness of work, elaboration of illusion and artistic effect, Thurston's new program of mysteries which he brings to the Orpheum for three days, beginning Monday, April 17, has never been excelled in any theatre which he more agreeable than that of Keller. He is gifted with an unusually likeable personality, and immediately establishes intimate relations with his audience. The magic of many countries is combined in his performance, and the entire entertainment moves with a smoothness and a precision which gives warrant to his assertion that in addition to his many inventions he has absorbed the best points of magic of many nations.

Novelty From War Zone

The "Louverne Ladies' Brass Band," who are traveling this season with the Billy "Single" Clifford Company, playing "Walk This Way," are made up of all French women whose headquarters are at Paris, France. They have been playing for years in their native country, but owing to the war, they were secured by Mr. Clifford's foreign agent, and everywhere they have been heard they have been a big feature for the show. At Spokane, Washington, they headed one section of the great Labor Day parade and received rounds of applause over the whole line of march. The band paraded in the city streets at noon and plays a concert following the parade. "Walk This Way" is at the Orpheum Theater to-morrow, matinee and night.

"The Precious Packet," by Fred Jackson, featuring Ralph Kellard and Lois Meredith in the lead-merit roles, will be in "The Precious Packet" the Regent. The story is that of a young Englishman who is disappointed in love, leaves the home of his father and joins an organization composed of patriots who are engaged in an important message in the service of his country.

Many of the scenes were taken in the woods of Canada and fairly breathe of the great outdoors. The running of the deer, the hunt of a wild animal, the horse, and the overturning of an automobile add excitement to the production. Edith Tarkington's clever serial story, "The Flirt," which ran for several issues in the Saturday Evening Post, will be the attraction to-morrow. The plot deals with the caprice of a girl whose one desire in life seems to be the ensnaring of men's hearts, only to lightly cast them off when her unhappy work is accomplished.

Wholesome, unadulterated humor is the keynote of the bill at the Majestic Theater to-day and to-morrow. "Miss Hamlet" and "Laughing Hit at Majestic" are a clever and uproarious comedy.

"Miss Hamlet" is a burlesque written around Shakespeare's famous tragedy. Here and there lines of the big classic are brought out by the clever players of the piece, but are immediately offset by some ridiculous funny remark made by another member. Costumes and stage settings after the time depicted heighten the comedy effects as the realism of the tragedy itself. To go into detail on this attraction is next to impossible, but suffice it to say that the ten players who are required in the piece, are quite capable. Around this big comedy number is a variety bill of comedy, including the Exposition Jubilee Four, trilliers and comedians, who score the applause hit of the bill with their harmony and tomfoolery. Three other Keith acts of importance on the same bill will include: Ford and Hewitt, song and dance artists; Naldy and Naldy, a clever pair of singing comedians, and the Mitchells, man and woman, offering a novelty in the way of a comedy equilibristic turn.

To-day and to-morrow the management of the Victoria Theater provide the opportunity for witnessing the photo-play of "The Battle Cry of Peace" today and tomorrow. This drama, that has shaken thousands to a realization that in order to preserve peace we must be prepared. "The Battle Cry of Peace" will be shown here only for these two days.

"The Battle Cry of Peace," an inspired revelation by J. Stewart Blackton, shows America's defenselessness. You see the most beautiful sky line in the world in flames. The metropolis of the western hemisphere, New York, is devastated; the enemy approaching. The defeat of the meager American forces. The landing of the invaders. Our forts destroyed. Our fleet is beaten in battle.

STATE LIMITED ON HIGHWAY WORK

Opinion Given to Commissioner Cunningham by Mr. Keller Lays Down Law

An opinion was given to-day by the State Highway Department by Deputy Attorney General Keller to the effect that existing legislation does not authorize the Highway Commissioner to build State-aid highways in townships on State highway routes; that townships and counties may, under the act of 1913, contribute to the cost of reconstruction and improvement of State highways in townships in the same manner as provided for State-aid highways; that the entire cost of maintenance and repair of such State highways reconstructed by the aid of townships and counties must be paid by the State, and that the State's share of such reconstruction and maintenance must be paid out of State highway, as distinguished from State-aid highway, funds. This opinion supplements that given a few days ago in regard to State reconstruction and maintenance of State highways within boroughs and establishes a line of procedure which will be followed for the remainder of the appropriation year. Birthday Greetings. The office of Governor Brumbaugh received many birthday greetings to-day. The attaches of his department sent him fifty-four roses. Telegrams of congratulation were also sent to Lieutenant-Governor McClain, who has the same birthday. Compensation Board.—The Compensation Board will meet here next Wednesday. Several local cases come up then. On the Fishway.—Commissioner Buller and Chief Clerk Featonby went to McCall's Ferry to-day to inspect the big dam and to consult about fishways. Corbett Chosen.—A. G. Corbett, of Clarion, has been elected chairman of the new board of trustees of the State Normal School at Clarion. The State is now in control. Attending Meetings.—Superintendent N. C. Schaeffer, Deputy Dietrich, Secretary Becht, Director M. B. King and others connected with the State educational departments are in Philadelphia attending "schoolmen's week" at the University of Pennsylvania. Ready for Trout.—The State fish wardens are all ready for the opening of the trout season to-morrow. Conditions are reported good in spite of the weather. Stewart at Erie.—Adjutant General Stewart was at Erie for the meeting of the trustees of the State Home. Discussed Accidents.—Anthracite mine inspectors were at Wilkes-Barre yesterday and to-day in conference with Chief Roderick regarding mine accidents. The chief wants them reduced in number immediately. Kephart Here.—Harmon M. Kephart, chief clerk of the Senate and candidate for State Treasurer, was here to-day. He is looking after nominating matters and says he is very much a candidate despite rumors to the contrary. Look at Site.—Second Brigade officers were at Ebensburg looking over a camp site which had been suggested for the Second Brigade. It is somewhat in advance of the usual time for talking of such things. To List Case.—The Hummelstown water complaints which have been filed lately with the Public Service Commission will be given hearings in May, in all probability. The other
