Where Do You Sit To Enjoy Music Most?

Do you believe that it would contribute materially to your pleasure, and entertainment if by some miraculous power you were to gain instantly the ability to play on the piano any piece of music put before you?

If you could purchase to-day the manual dexterity that people are able to acquire only through years of practice, would you be interested in the proposition?

You will never get the greatest enjoyment from music until you can play it yourself, sitting at your own piano.

The piano you should own, and can afford, is more than a piano, it is a player piano.

Don't ever think of buying a Player Piano without first hearing the Apollo.

Father Time Slips Into Recorder's Office For Brief Visit Today

One of the oldest deeds that has been offered for recording in many months was included among the papers filed today, when the sale of the 107-acre farm west of Penbrook, by Edward G. Nisley, executor for the estate of Solomon Nisley, to H. A. Walmer was closed. The consideration, by the way, was $10,500. The deed in question is the original paper that figured in the concession from the heirs of William Penn and is dated January 25, 1820. Incidentally it might be added that the same farm which has just been sold for $10,500 was sold for the first time nearly a hundred years ago for $4,000. day included: John E. Gipple to F. J. Zudrel, 1921 Chestnut street, 41; Emma C. Merlin to A. G. Elyer, Paxtang, 41; N. Feldt heirs to Mary A. Cook, property in Washington township, $266, and Elizabethville, $316.

Wormleysburg Will Not Have to Pay For Use of Fire Plugs Prior to Jan. 1

Announcement was made to-day by Patrick Russ, president of the Riverton Consolidated Water Company, that the borough of Wormleysburg would not have to pay for fire plugs in use in the town prior to January 1, 1916. Within the next month the company will endeavor to make an agreement with the Borough Council to have the borough pay for all plugs in the town at the rate of $20 per year, to date from January 1, 1916.

About fifteen years ago, while Wormleysburg was in east Pennsboro township, the Riverton Company installed the plugs at the request of citizens, but when an effort was made to present the bill, no person would assume the responsibility. The plugs continued in place, however, and when the town was incorporated as a borough, a few years ago, bills were presented for rental of plugs. Council refused to make a settlement because there had been no agreement drawn up between the borough and the water company. Stories afloat to-day were to the effect that the water company intended removing the plugs, but Mr. Russ denied this and said that his company had cancelled all bills against the borough prior to January 1, this year, and that efforts would be made to have the company's attorney draw up an agreement to have the Council pay for the plugs from that date on.

AS THEY BUILDED BANK DAY BY DAY

Daily Reports of Mechanics' Trust Construction Superintendent Cryptic

If the language in which was concluded the daily construction reports of the new Mechanics' Trust Company building was not entirely the choicest of the king's English, it was concise and expressive nevertheless. The report figured in to-day's common pleas trial of Anast Behlah's trespass suit against the Charles McCaul Company, the builders, for damages to his shoe-shining parlor, adjoining the bank building. Anast claimed that every once in a while a hoist or something far up on the bank building slipped a cog and unloaded unceremoniously tons of bricks and things upon his little roof. On one occasion the bricks flopped through the skylight. The defense exhibited the superintendent's report of each day's progress, and here are a few of the entries (lawyers suspected a hint of sarcasm in them):

"Had a helluva time to-day with the concrete mixer."

"Everybody helped but the weather."

"We're being helped out in the work by two lawyers, a builder and a defunct magistrate!"

While Judge Rush Gillan conducted the Behlahs-McCaul case in No. 2 room, President Judge Kunkel heard the defense in the Belle Stephenson-Anna Motter will contest case in No. 1 room. Mrs. Stephenson, executrix for the estate of John Marquart, is endeavoring to show that the bequest of Marquart of a $1,000 life insurance policy to Mrs. Motter, his nurse, was made when Marquart was not in a proper mental condition to do so.

New Registrar Needed.—The County Commissioners were asked to-day to fill the vacancy in the registrarship in the First precinct of the Seventh ward. Herman Fehleisen, a Democrat, was suggested.

To-day's Petitions.—To-day's committee nominating petitions included these Republicans: County committee, Charles R. Shope, editor of the Halifax Gazette; city committee, Walter J. Hooper and Edward Haldeman, Second precinct, Fifth ward.

Ha! Payday.—Just $4,500 was paid out by the City to-day to the employees of the city executive and water departments on the semi-monthly payroll.

Transfer License.—Transfer of the hotel license held by Elbert Wilson, proprietor of the Loyd House, Middletown, to Eugene Barbusch was granted to-day by the Dauphin County Courts.

At Grocers — 15c the package.

American War veterans will be appointed within the next few days by the County Commissioners to serve on the committee of war veterans whose duty it will be to disburse and distribute the $50 allowances Dauphin county must make from time to time for the burial of the nation's heroes.

Inspect Pike Wednesday.—Unless weather interferes, an inspection of the "Horseshoe" pike, the long stretch of county road extending from Hummelstown to the Dauphin-Lebanon line, will be made by the County Commissioners next Wednesday with a view to awarding the repair contract. To-day had been set for the purpose, but the rain interfered.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED
Special to the Telegraph

Marietta, Pa., April 14.—The body of a man found near the McCall's Ferry dam in the Susquehanna river is so badly decomposed that identification is almost impossible. It may be that of Benjamin Rhoads, of Marietta, who disappeared December 27, or a man named Smith, who disappeared from near Long Level several months ago. A man was drowned in the Susquehanna river at Liverpool several weeks ago.
