Gerry smiled and waited. Soon Alix became quiet. Her eyes closed. She drew a long, quivering breath and then she opened her eyes again and the smile of an opening flower. "I am tired-tired." she said, "but I believe I'm almost hungrier than I am tired.'

"I'm glad you said it first," replied Gerry, giving serious thought to the fact that he was faint with hunger himself. "Ever since some funny Johnny wrote, 'Feed the brute,' we men have been shy about echoing our stomachs. It's four o'clock. Hours after lunch time."

"Really?" said Alix, nestling down closer to his arm and letting her smil-ing eyes wander over him. "How well this suit fits you. There's something about it- It isn't, is it?"

Gerry nodded. "Same old suit. By way, when I came in John said you told him to telephone to the club and say you wished to see me. What made you think I would go to the club first?"

Alix looked puzzled. "I didn't. didn't tell John to telephone." paused, still puzzling, then her face "Why-poor old John-he's getting very old, you know, Gerry. That was three years ago I told him to telephone—the day you never came back. It must have been the suit. He saw you standing there in the same suit and three years became as one day to the old fellow."

Gerry sighed. "Alix, do you want those three years to become as a day

ANCIENT JEWISH PASSOVER FEAST

Celebrate First Festival of Emancipation in History of Race

The Jewish Fast, or Passover, Beins on Monday evening, April 17, and will be observed for seven days by Reform and eight days by Orthodox congregations.

congregations.

It is the first festival of emancipation in the history of civilization. Its commemoration is based on the Biblical narrative which tells how the people of Israel enslaved in Egypt were led from bondage to freedom by the great leader Moses.

The Passover festival speaks for the sanctity of the home as well as for self-respect and liberty. The Jews accordingly assemble in their homes on this festival, and signalize it by a solemn service in which the story of the ancient struggle for emancipation is recounted with pious fervor. yellow curls and chubby legs, and left the bundle on Red Hill." Gerry nodded but he was grave and silent. Not in a day nor a month could emancipation is recounted with pious fervor.

It is customary to remove all leaven out of the household in preparation for the feast. Leaven is the symbol of the sordid, and refers to those who are unemancipated from the commonplace things. During the feast, only matzoth and not bread, are eaten. The distinctive spirit of the feast finds expression even in the specific food.

The Haggadah, the order of the domestic service, read on the night when the family gathers about the common table, comprises the narrative of the exodus from Egypt, the account of the oppression which the ancient Israelites endured, and is not without its covert allusions to the pathetic story of Israel in more recent times in the midst of the unkind nations. The Haggadah also includes a special group of psalms (CXIII-CXVIII) and anumber of medieval poems.

Set Your Alarm Clock For 6--Ladies 5:45!--A. M. Is Dr. Smucker's Tip

That the fairer portion of the congregation of Stevens Memorial Church will likely require a little more time than the mere men folks to get "ready for church" Easter morning is tactfully remembered by the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker, the pastor, in his cards to the members about the early morning Easter service.

At the top of the card is this significant tip:

Set your alarm clock for 6 (ladies 5.45) a. m. Easter Sunday, April 23.

The early meeting will be "surprise" praise service and will be in charge of the Epworth League. It will begin promptly at 6.30 o'clock. Miss Helen Rohrer will be in charge. Dr. and Mrs. Smucker will extend Easter greetings and there will be splendid Easter singing by a girls' ohorus and Ross K. Bergstresser, the leader.
