RUMMAGE SALE NETTED $4,000

Big Hospital Benefit Great Success From All View-points

AN APPRECIATION

The executive committee of the rummage sale for the benefit of the Harrisburg Hospital desires to thank all those who aided so generously in making the sale a success. To the public, which has given so freely of its goods and money; to the many kind-hearted merchants who readily and liberally donated their merchandise and stores; to the generous businesswoman who contributed the use of her central dressing room; to the citizens and corporations furnishing heat, light, automobiles and special service; to the workers on collecting and the selling branches of the committee; to the police and to the press, does the executive committee desire to express its appreciation for all they have done to aid the hospital.

(Signed) Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, Chairman. Mrs. Mary C. Hester, Vice-Chairman. Miss Anne McCormick.

Gone is "Minnie-Ha-Ha," gone is the one-year-old "shot," gone are the piano and organs and automobiles and carriages and dresses, gone is the fine $70 overcoat which the owner never intended should be sold; gone, in short, are all the thousands of bargains the mere transfer of which would mean a fortune to the dealer; four thousand dollars for the Harrisburg Hospital at the big three-day rummage sale which closed Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

The money has been turned over, together with whatever may accrue from the disposition of odds and ends that were not auctioned off at the round-up Saturday night to the Women's Aid Society of the hospital, which buys all the household materials and accessories and pays the salary of the directress.

At 8 o'clock sharp on the last evening the auctioning sale began, and continued steadily for two hours, while the busy cries used up their willing followers. Little "Rummage," the live pig which had been all "dolled up" for the occasion, was quickly sold for $19, while the little bronze Indian maiden, which was brought $33. The total amount received for the day was about $1,000, which just equaled the previous day's sales.

Sale Most Successful Without question the "rummage sale" was the most successfully managed and profitable of the kind that Harrisburg has ever seen. The hearty co-operation of all who were present gave powerful momentum to the three-day campaign which will considerably lighten the burden of the support of merchants, businessmen and private citizens who, unstinted and like a mantle the spirit of giving spread over every operation in connection with the sale. To the many "dolls" that spent themselves in their untiring efforts to make "big" sales in the interest of the hospital must go the credit of carrying which they were and well a task to the executive committee, acting in the capacity of commanders-in-chief, reached the pinnacle of efficiency and dispatch in the management of the rummage activities appeal to Harrisburgers.

REAL ESTATE WHITMAN HOLDING IS PURCHASED BY MARKET ST. STORE

Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart Buy Additional Frontage in Walnut Street

One of the most important real estate deals negotiated in the city's business section this Spring, has just been closed by J. F. Rohrer and Son, in the sale of the Mary C. Whitman property at the southeast corner of Walnut and Dewberry streets to Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart.

The price was "a dollar and other considerations" according to Mr. Rohrer although in reality circles it is said that the figure was 25,500. With the purchase of the Whitman property the big department store now owns a frontage of 52 feet in Walnut street and a depth of 210 feet to Strawberry street—or practically half a block extending from the majestic theater to Dewberry street. The whole deal was swung by Rohrer and Son, although the purchase of the Whitman property was made direct.

William A. McIlhenny to Build Eight More New Houses on Hill

In addition to the row of houses William A. McIlhenny, prison warden will erect at Eighteenth and State streets, another half a dozen cozy little homes in Reorgan street near Seventeenth and a couple of equally attractive dwellings in Market near Nineteenth street, are also planned by the contractor, according to news given by Excavations which has been started on two Market street dwellings which will be numbers 1840-42. They will cost about $9,000 apiece. The other six are to be constructed on the open lot near McIlhenny's present office and J. G. Schaeffer, who conducts a coffee and tea store, will remain in the Swab building.

Swab Building on Hill Bought by Harry Hess

Ownership of the Swab building, Thirteenth and Market streets, one of the big store room and office buildings of the Hill, was bought Saturday afternoon when Harry Hess bought the structure from the Allison Hill Trust company. The consideration was not made public, but Mr. Hess admitted that his present building on 1284 Market street in which he now conducts a cigar store and pool room, and two smaller properties in the rear in Thomas street, were included in the deal.

While the Swab building is well known as a business center, it is just as widely known by hundreds of younger folks for the famous dance party which was given on the top floor. Mr. Hess says he has decided what disposition will be made of the top floor. The cigar store will be moved into the corner store room now occupied by E. F. Deitcher. Mr. Deitcher expects to retire from business. The Columbia Electric company will move to 1253 Market street, and William D. Barletto will remove from 1253 to the location now occupied by Mr. Hess. The Hirsch office of J. G. Schaeffer, who conducts a coffee and tea store, will remain in the Swab building.

TO-DAY'S REALTY TRANSFERS

Realty transactions included the following in city and county: Wash Shaffer to William S. Harris, 404 North Second street; James K. Klipp to Lizzie Davidson, 341-43 Brook street; L. W. Geesey to J. Zukerman, 627 Boyd; F. H. Himes to James E. Garrett, 32 South Sixth; H. A. Baer to William Thomas, 2048 Millifin; H. C. Koons to C. Longenecker, Penhook; all for $1; George A. Wolf to C. Leiter, High street, $60; Harry E. Hershey to J. F. Bowers, Swatara township, $1,300; W. H. Cumber to S. Simich, Steelton, $1,275.

ADD $5,000 TO APRIL RECORD

Further indications of the extraordinary total that April 1916 is bound to produce in building operations was demonstrated to-day when Harry C. Shupp took out a permit to build two-story dwellings on Boas street, 129 east end of Seventeenth. They will cost $5,500.

NICHOLSON APPOINTMENT AS ASST. SECRETARY DOUBTFUL

Washington, D. C., April 17.—After a conference to-day with Secretary Baker, Senator Kern, of Indiana, said the prospects of appointment of Meredith Nicholson, of Indiana, as fourth assistant secretary of war were very doubtful. Secretary Baker has not reached a final decision, but if the appointment goes to Indiana, Senator Kern said, Nicholson would receive it.

R. I. ELECTING DELEGATES

Providence, R. I., April 17.—The Republicans of Rhode Island met in delegates-at-large and four alternatives to the national convention at Chicago. The conventions to choose district delegates also were held to-day. Senator E. Earl Graves, of Ohio, came here to-day to address the State convention.

THE PLAYS: THE THING Theatrical Attractions Present and Future

THEATRICAL DIRECTORY ORPHEUM—To-night, to-morrow and Wednesday, with matinee on Wednesday, Thurston, the Magician. MAJESTIC—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures. Motion Picture Houses COLONIAL—"Hoodoo Ann." REGENT—"He Fell in Love With His Girl." VICTORIA—"The Soul Market." ROYAL—"Defense, or Tribute?" NATIONAL—"Defense, or Tribute?"

part Metro wonderplay, produced by Popular Players and by "The Soul Market" at Victoria Today. The actress in the role of the Regent, Mrs. F. F. Jones, presented upon the screen at the Victoria Theater to-day only. "The Soul Market" deals with life along the Great White Way and behind the scenes of a big Broadway theater. There are scores of interesting scenes in this production, decidedly novel and unusual.

LOCAL THEATERS Thurston the Magician Nail down the shutters, take in the family wash, and hold onto your hats. Thurston, the magician, is at the Orpheum for three days, beginning to-day, with matinee on Wednesday. Local theatergoers will have an opportunity to witness one of the great magicians of the world. The popularity of Thurston is attested by the fact that he is in the city for the first time in his career. He is bringing with him a program of magical acts that are so different from the one preceding it, for while one astounds and amazes, the rest may be of such an amusing character as to win the audience into a state of laughter. Thurston is conceded to be the peer of entertainers in his class. His magic, which has become a part of the various tricks and illusions and the great amount of humor he brings into his acts, has made his delightful patter adds to the general excellence of the program.

"Defense or Tribute" to be Shown in 2 Theaters Today The splendid preparedness film, "Defense or Tribute," showing how unready is our country to repel a foreign invasion, will be shown to-day at the Royal and National theaters. The former is located in Third street above Cumberland and the latter at Sixth and Dauphin streets. One third of the receipts from today's showing by arrangements with the Public Service Film Company and the New York Tribune, will be turned over to the Marjorie Sterrett Battleship fund, the total amount of collection for which has been $10,000 in this city. The film is well worth seeing and will be shown along with additional features at the two theaters.

BRUMBAUGH WILL FILE HIS PAPERS COURT HEARS WHY CLAYTON LOST JOB

Capitol Expects the Governor to Throw Hat Into Ring Tomorrow The nominating petitions for the delegates-at-large in the interest of Governor Brumbaugh will be filed tomorrow according to Attorney General Brown, who said that a few of the papers were yet to come in. Mr. Brown declined to take seriously the suggestion that Mayor Thomas P. Smith of Philadelphia, would not run for delegate.

The Governor's own nominating petition is due to-night or to-morrow in spite of rumors that his name will not go in. The Henry Ford petitions have not appeared up to date. Considerable interest has been aroused by the presence of so many men more or less in sympathy with the Roosevelt movement on the Brumbaugh papers. This is being freely commented upon and while administrative officials in the course of the Governor not running and declaring for Roosevelt is not well founded, there are many who profess to see some underground connection.

Philadelphia inquirer to-day prints the following dispatch from Pittsburgh: "Party harmony, but not through Governor Brumbaugh, is in sight in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county as that there will be national delegate contests in only one of the four Congressional districts, the Twenty-ninth, the big North Side district, where R. R. Quay and R. H. Hendrickson, insurrectionary Brumbaugh, will be the eleven-hour entries against ex-Lieutenant-Governor Walter Lyon and R. B. Scandrett. The Penrose forces are setting the pace for harmony and on their terms. Four Penrose candidates, though running unopposed, will be unopposed by the Brumbaugh people. These four are George H. Flinn, in the Thirtieth district; P. Alexander Moore, in the Thirty-first, and Myles Eryan and John A. Bell, in the Thirty-second. Reports continued to-day that Frank J. Lanan, Editor Moore's running mate in the Thirty-first, may retire, which would leave ex-Mayor William A. Magee, leader of the Governor's forces here, unopposed. Magee is pledged to support the Governor's forces, and would be the one delegate out of eight elected from this county pledged to Brumbaugh. Seven of this county's eight delegates to the national convention will be unopposed. Either E. P. Douglas, George Flinn's running mate in the Thirtieth district, or R. J. Black, pledged to Brumbaugh, may withdraw, leaving a fight there. Republican leaders, seeking harmony and a united party in November, are leaving no stone unturned to eliminate friction. It is agreed the Allegheny county delegate will vote at Chicago for a Pennsylvanian, but this will be Knox instead of Brumbaugh, and if the Pennsylvanian is eliminated, then for a man upon whom the Republicans and Progressives can unite.

Supreme Court Sustains Board of Censors Appeal

Philadelphia, Pa., April 17.—The State Supreme court to-day sustained the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors in their appeal from a decision of the lower court in the case of a photograph. The common pleas courts, reads the opinion, can only interfere with the action of the board when it shows arbitrary or oppressive abuse of discretion. The higher court, after reviewing the appeal of the censor, brought by Joseph L. Kun, deputy attorney general in behalf of the board, reversed common pleas court No. 2 of Philadelphia.

EVANGELIST DAVIS AT HARRIS STREET CHURCH

Large congregations yesterday greeted Evangelist W. M. Davis in the Harris Street United Evangelical Church, in the initial meetings of the campaign being conducted there. The evangelist greeted his audiences and won a favorable hearing from the very beginning. The Rev. G. F. Schaum, the pastor of the church, is serving as chorister during the campaign. The Rev. Mr. Schaum has had a wide experience in leading congregational singing at campmeetings and conventions. He has refused a number of calls to do this work in connection with evangelistic parties. Services begin at 7:45 p. m. the sermon to-night will be on the subject, "Personal Evangelism."

Killed Two Does, Charge Against Mt. Alto Man

One of the most dastardly violations of the game laws in Pennsylvania yet noted by the Pennsylvania State Game Commission, was unearthed Saturday, according to two State game protectors, Charles B. Baum, of this city, and W. C. Bowman of Lemoyne, who arrested B. F. Carbaugh, a farmer residing near Mt. Alto. Carbaugh was taken before Justice of the Peace Small at Mt. Alto and held under $600 bail for a hearing next Saturday. The charges brought against Carbaugh included the killing of deer out of season, killing two does and having venison in possession illegally. Baum notified the latter part of last week that two dead does had been found on Carbaugh's property and that the hind quarters had been removed. The protector began an investigation and when he went to Carbaugh's house he detected the odor of cooking venison. He accused Carbaugh and then the man admitted that he killed a doe. A search of the house was made and then smoked meat from the second doe was discovered. One of the does would have given birth to a fawn within a few days and the other would have had two offspring. The farmer who found the carcasses said that one of the fawns of the latter doe was alive when he made the discovery but died soon after. By his action, Carbaugh really killed five deer. Carbaugh killed the does on his own property and then, after removing the hind quarters for steaks, dragged the carcasses to a hiding place among some bushes on another part of his farm.

LEADER FOR THE JETNEUR Special to the Telegraph

Newark, N. J., April 17.—The chauffeur of a pitney bus plying between this city and Harrison, used raw language yesterday in an argument with a passenger, greatly to the dismay of four or five women in the vehicle. "I wouldn't talk that way if I were you," said a big-gloved young man with long hair, who was about to speak. The chauffeur retorted that if the five-starred young dash-blank cared to talk he'd get less in jolney etiquette. The young person with the tan gloves accepted the invitation. Two minutes later the chauffeur had three slaps of an inch of eye slap left with which to see to steer the car. He apologized to the women. When the passengers insisted on knowing who the tow-haired lad was he said his name was Valentine Braun. Valentine Braun, whose ring name was Knockout or K. O. Brown, one of the hardest-hitting lightweight New York City ever knew, is now retired and living in New Jersey.
