State League Promotor Becomes Business Manager; Gives His Reasons

Special to the Telegraph
Reading, April 18. — Al W. Lawson emoter of the Atlantic League. anded the Pennsylvania State League a severe jolt yesterday, when he signed up Paul Davis as business mana-ger. Davis has been identified with Jimmy Sheckard in the State League, ever since the latter was launched, and has been an out and out foe of Law-

Davis attended the meeting at Harrisburg last Friday and was in severa conferences, but did not participate in the regular business session. He alleges that the State League failed to come to the front with necessary proofs that they had a complete cirproofs that they had a complete circuit. While in Harrisburg Davis interviewed each representative individually, and later returned to Reading where he had a consultation with a number of prospective backers of the State League Club.

Manager Lawson has given Davis full charge of the business affairs of the club. Work started to-day on improvements at Lauer's Park, and players are being signed.

of the week.

"Billy" Gibson has offered Moran $17,500 to fight Dillon, the battle to take place in the Manhattan Opera House. Johnny Weismantle, another promoter, has secured an option of several baseball fields and is anxious to stage the fight outdoors.

The best part of the training work this time will be the fact that Moran will be paid for it. Two moving-picture concerns have offered Frank about four evers to complete. That will give Frank about $5,000, in addition to the royalties. The movie will be paid to be a film actor while he is getting into shape for Dillon.

 WHERE THEY PLAY TO-MORROW

Special to the Telegraph

New Haven, Conn., April 18.—In its final practice before departure to Philadelphia for the Pennsylvania regatta Saturday, the first Yale varsity beat the second varsity on the Quinnipiac by three-quarters of a length in a short brush. The race was rowed in the rain, but on calm water, and gave the men a good chance to show what they could do.

After the brush Coach Nickalls refused to forecast the Penn outcome, but was optimistic. He announced there would be no change in the varsity, which will row: Harriman, stroke; McNaughton, 7; Meyer 6; Sturtevant, 5; Sheldon, 4; Low, 3; Gilfillan, 2; Hume, bow; McLane, coxswain.

The crew which will row the second Penn eight will be: Hyatt, stroke; Atkins, 7; Fitzparrick, 6; Fox, 5; Kostizky, 4; Whittlesey, 3; Adams, 2; Newton, box; Pratt, coxswain.

STATE HIGHWAY TEAM READY
The State Highway Department baseball team will get into the running on Saturday. A game has been scheduled with Harrisburg Academy nine and the contest will take place on Academy field. As the State Highway team is made up of ex-college players, an interesting game is anticipated. The game starts at 2.30 o'clock.

The disciple of Christ is always beset by the temptation to accept mean deliverances. He is offered some easy deliverance from hardship, some release from deprivation, some escape from pain. We are shown how he can avoid contact with gruesome realities. We are allured to avenues where we escape the sights of the back streets. We are offered insurances against the foreout them. These are social cocaines, and terrors of our day. There is a way out! We have only to numb our selves, and we shall know nothing about them. These are social cocaines, and opiates, and drugs: and if we take these regularly we can be delivered from much of the seamy side of things; indeed, we shall scarcely know the exist! And so a cunning soul, intent upon an ignoble escape, can manage to wriggle through life with seeming comfort and success.
