2 Clerks Cause Thief's Arrest; Get $100 Reward

As a reward for aiding in the arrest and conviction of Fred Gilmore, a jewelry thief, Charles Krauss, of Krauss and Company, hardware, 433 Market street, and Elmer Powell, clerk for Jacob Tausig's Sons, jewelers, 429 Market street, will receive a reward of $100. The thief is now on exhibition in the window at the Tausig store. The reward is paid by the Pennsylvania Jewelry Alliance, of New York City, which represents $900 jewelers, and has paid out $2,500 for the apprehension of criminals. Gilmore is now in the Eastern Penitentiary, awaiting sentence. He was convicted in Dauphin county court on a charge of stealing a charm from the Tausig store, a diamond pin from P. Caplan and Company, and a ring from H. C. Cluster. When Gilmore tried to pawn the pin, a diamond called in Mr. Tausig and his clerk, who identified the thief.

RETAIN 'STICK' IN MINCE PIE

Poor Directors Refuse to Ban Liquor From Almshouse. Reading, Pa., April 18.—The Poor Directors Board decided to continue buying liquor for almshouse inmates. The board also decided against a plan advocated by the Board of Prison Inspectors to use convict labor on the Almshouse farm and roads. Recently County Controller Cyrus J. Rhode declined to pay bills for liquor to be used in mince pie for the inmates. It was learned that Rhode still refuses to approve the bills.

DEALS BODY BLOW TO ANTIDANCING

The Rev. Dr. James F. Bullitt and Herman Knisely, of the State Department of Labor and Industry, were among those who took part in the discussion that lasted an hour. Mr. Knisely read an interesting letter from D. F. Garland, director of public welfare of Dayton, Ohio, in which the municipally conducted playground and recreation center idea was heartily advocated.

Miss Hanaw, who has charge of half a dozen or more dancing halls which are controlled by the municipality of Baltimore, was the first to organize the movement after six years' earnest effort. Her lecture last evening was the first of a series of the kind which the Social Workers' Club has planned. Before the meeting Miss Hanaw was taken over the city grounds and playgrounds by City Commissioner E. Z. Gross and Assistant Park Superintendent V. Grant Forrer.

Bishop Berry Protests Against Cash Revivals

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 18.—In an address before the Methodist ministers of Pittsburgh and vicinity yesterday Bishop J. F. Berry, Philadelphia, denounced "commercial evangelism," and declared the shunting of the pastors to the background by "tabernacle machinery" was a disastrous blow to the evangelistic effectiveness of the church. He said, in part: "An absolute opposition to this highly-organized tabernacle form of evangelism. I would like to take away this temptation to commercialism, which is sapping the very essence of religion out of the Gospel. I can testify to the background of the pastor who I am talking about. Everything that is done during the campaign is done with a view of making the collection on the last day a large free-will offering. Everything is money, money, money."

SUPERIOR REVERSES DAUPHIN

The Dauphin county court's decision in setting aside the verdict in the Arthur C. Mead trespass case against the Harrisburg Railway company was set aside yesterday by the Superior court of Pennsylvania sitting in Pittsburgh. T. R. SUPPORTERS FILE STATEMENTS

Lancaster Men Pledge Themselves to Back Roosevelt; May Not Be Certified

By Associated Press. Lancaster, Pa., April 18.—The office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, which on Saturday refused to accept and file the statements of Dr. David G. Martin and John F. Smith, candidates from Lancaster county for delegates to the Republican national convention, pledging themselves to the support of Theodore Roosevelt, this morning accepted and filed new affidavits and statements submitted by Dr. Martin and Mr. Smith substantially the same as the one rejected on Saturday. The question remains open of whether the Secretary of the Commonwealth will certify to the county commissioners of Lancaster the instruction to print below the names of these candidates on the official ballot these words: "Promise to support Theodore Roosevelt for president of the United States." Counsel notified the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to-day that if the refusal to file the statements was insisted upon mandamus proceedings would be instituted at once.

Officials at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth denied to-day that they had rejected the petition. Chief Clerk Thorn stated that he had informed the men who presented the papers that the declaration would be certified according to the act. He still held that that position today and the chances are that unless legal proceedings are started and an order made the Roosevelt declaration will not be filed as presented.

COMPENSATION ACT ATTACKED

Argument on the constitutionality of the Workmen's Compensation act of 1915 was argued for the first time before the Supreme Court in Philadelphia yesterday on an appeal from an opinion by Judge John D. Shafer, of Allegheny county, sustaining the act. Attorney David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, who appealed from the decision of Judge Shafer attacked the constitutionality of Section 204, of the act which provides that no agreement made before the happening of the accident except the agreement implied by the act shall bar a claim for damages.

Advertisement for BACK TO THE FARM THRU THE WANT ADS. Very recently a weekly farm publication addressed a circular letter to all subscribers living in cities why these city folk read a farmer's magazine. The replies varied—some readers owned farms, others hoped to, and many frankly stated that they intend to buy and live upon farms. To-day the "back to the farm" movement is stronger than ever. To-night under the head of "Farms" and "Real Estate for Sale" you will find splendid offerings of farm lands in the Telegraph WANT ADS.
