WHAT THE SHOPS ARE SHOWING

In perfect keeping with the fashion of these days when powdered wigs, crinolines and hoop skirts were worn, is the footwear of Colonial type with big buckles, French heels, and daintily tapering toes to peep from beneath the full petticoats and both full skirts and Colonial footwear are adopted this season by Dame Fashion. The Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, shows a charming assortment of Colonial footwear, and one of the loveliest of these models is a black patent kid, so perfectly moulded on a well-shaped last that it is especially comfortable and a beauty on the foot. The buckle is a large plain oval of black patent leather.

Spring Dance Frocks

For the Spring dances, Astich's, Fourth and Market streets offer a delightful assemblage of charmingly dainty frocks. Pale blue taffeta with quaint bodice, and panner drapings of taffeta on which full blown roses are embroidered in silver compose one lovely gown, while another of white taffeta with metallic embroideries of old gold and touches of white tulle, is entrancing. These frocks, regularly $25, are specially priced at $15.00 for the next two days, while similar reductions are offered on equally charming frocks, ranging in price from $10.00 up, and a feature of this display is that no two frocks are alike and styles are strictly up-to-the-minute.

Drudgery vs. Convenience

Housework is no longer the drudgery that it used to be, for improved equipment has made all the work lighter. It is easy to cook the most elaborate dinner, or to bake the most difficult cake, if the stove one uses is perfectly reliable and easy to regulate, and the range sold by the Himes Hardware Store, 10 N. Market Square, are particularly satisfactory. They offer both the Penn Esther and the Penn cabinet ranges, which are manufactured by the same firm, and both of these excellent stoves are known for their durability, reliability and permanent satisfaction.

Kodaks For Easter

Kodaks for Easter—whether for gifts to friends or children, or for purely selfish delight—are abundantly offered by the Gorgas Drug Store, 16 N. Third street, where a full line of kodaks, films and accessories is always shown. The autographic Kodaks justly have a most prominent place in this display, and they range in price from $6.00 up through autographic attachments for any kodak may be purchased separately for from $2.50 up. The Brownie Cameras are one of the loveliest of these models, and are priced in price from $1.00 up. The folding pocket Brownies are especially desirable, and Gorgas sells them for $3.00.

Easter Eggs and Baskets

Buy your basket to match your eggs!—Or else color your eggs to match the lovely Bellefontaine Easter baskets, shown by Studebaker Grocery Store, Second street at the crossing of State, for surely after seeing these exquisitely-tinted baskets you will be satisfied with no others. They come in soft shades of rose, blue, mauve, and purple and the shapes are so varied and so lovely that they must be seen to be appreciated. The bud vases of tinted glass with basketry handles are delightfully novel this season and sell for just $1.00.

Novelties For Easter Gifts

Distinctive personality is shown in the charming character dolls of Mine-Hendron, which are sold by the French Shop, (Miss Swope) 208 N. Third street. Their expressive faces, quizzical, placid, delighted—add live personality to the quaint national costumes, and the little men in Dutch trousers and wooden shoes, and girls in pink and blue Dutch frocks, with an Easter bunny or chicken, peeping from a pocket make adorable Easter gifts. Timier, but just as fascinating are the hosts of Kewpies—all different—from the cocky little "Broadway Chicken" wearing a huge ruff and a smile, to the demure little bride, "dressed up" in a veil and a bouquet. Other novelties in neckwear—kerchiefs, cretonne boxes and vanity cases, selling from 25c up are shown.
