Delightfully Fresh Cotton Blouses in a Complete Style Assemblage

Handkerchief Linen, Voile Novelty Weaves

So many new ideas have been developed in cotton blouses this season that it would be difficult to adequately describe all of the pretty little touches that have been employed to effect a pleasing design.

Scores of new arrivals, among them charming adaptations of garments that have recently come to America, have just been added to our complete showing in the second floor lingerie section.

Imported weaves in the new groups include handkerchief linen, batiste, imported voile and novelty materials.

A very striking garment carries a trimming of colored hand embroidery with a lace or hemstitched frill, or with cluster tucks and lace insertion $5.00 and $5.95

Persian lawn, voile and organdie waists, trimmed with cape collar or frill; some of them are in tailored style with organdie panels and inserts of lace $2.95 to $3.95
Voile, linen embroidered voile, batiste waists, trimmed with deep collar $1.95 and $2.50
Voile, organdie, batiste and madras waists, with touches of color or combination colored stripes $1.00

Silk Hosiery Is the Correct Foundation for Women who Would be Well Dressed

Your suit or gown may carry every earmark of quality, and yet if you adopt a garment of that kind and at the same time lose sight of the important part your hosiery plays in your appearance, the whole effectiveness of your attire will be negligible.

Silk hosiery is of two kinds. In the one class is to be found the type that appeals to the eye; the other has a more intrinsic value, and makes its appeal to the woman who demands the best that can be produced.

It is the latter class of hosiery only that finds entrance into our stock—it is quality hosiery, moderately priced.

- Fancy stripe silk thread hose; high spliced heels; in assorted colors, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.75
- Thread silk hose; in colors to match the new shoes $1.00
- Thread silk hose; in all silk or with lisle garter tops; fashioned feet; high spliced heels . . . $1.00
- Thread silk hose with lisle garter tops in black and white 79¢
- Thread silk boot hose; in black, white and colors 50¢

America's Most Representative Men Usually Wear Banister Shoes Because They Demand Quality Footwear

But it is not necessary that we cover the entire American continent in order to find devotees of an unapproachable brand of shoes, so we will take the men in our own community—men who are active in all that goes toward making for the big things in life.

Harrisburg's men of affairs will usually be found during the day time in company with Banister shoes.

Banister shoes cost just a little bit more than ordinary shoes at the outset, but in the long run they represent a very moderate cost. This is partly due to the fact that they hold their shapeliness until they are ready for the discard; and besides they give a luxurious feeling of comfort.

The Envoy and the Carlton are two of the new Banister arrivals—you will find them in an atmosphere of "business" and courtesy $6.50 and $7.00

PEACH CROP NOW SAID TO BE SAFE

Official Reports Bring Cheer, but Late Frosts May Come Along Very Soon

Reports received by the State Department of Agriculture from every section of Pennsylvania indicate that the winter apathy over the possible entire destruction of the peach crop were without foundation and that indications on the first of April pointed to a crop about sixty per cent. of the normal yield. During February and March there were reports that the intermittent warm and cold spells had caused the peach blossoms to push forward and then to have been frozen by the cold weather. Careful inspection by the crop reporters of the Department now indicate that there will be a splendid crop of peaches, unless cold spells during April should cause considerable damage. The present indications show that the crop of peaches will be about sixty-one per cent. of normal yield while the apple crop is estimated to be about ninety per cent. of normal. In Adams county, the recognized fruit growing county of the State, the indications are that the peach crop will be about fifty-two per cent. of the normal yield and in Franklin county, another peach growing county, it will be about 48 per cent. Many counties show that the cold weather had little effect upon the crop and especially in the hilly districts the changeable weather had little effect upon the prospects for a good year for the peach growers. The reduction in the size of the crop is expected to give the peach grower a better price. Last year the peach growers complained of an overproduction and little profit for their crop.

LONDON SUBMERGED
Some famous savant has declared that before another hundred years have passed the cities and towns of the world will be engulfed in vast chasms filled with fire from the center of the earth. The late Grant Allen prophesied such a thing in one of his books. He pointed out in cold print that many parts of the earth's surface are as thin as a matchbox, and that one of these thin spots is in the Thames Valley near Cookham, away in merry England. The earth there, according to the writer, opened suddenly in a gigantic fissure miles long, whence millions of tons of lava gushed out and poured down the valley. When the flood was over the towns, near the Thames, as well as London, itself, were covered with rapidly congealing lava which turned them into an immense desert. "Fins" Oscar Friche, in National Magazine for April.

USE HOME EGGS TO RAISE POULTRY

Secretary Patton's Department Makes Some Suggestions About Hatching

Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton believes in raising Pennsylvania poultry right from the start. The secretary has been giving close attention to the development of this important food supply and in the current bulletin of the Department of Agriculture it is stated that it is unnecessary to send outside the State for eggs for hatching for the chicks, or for breeding stock. One of the expert poultrymen of the Department says in a letter to the secretary, that it is usually a great mistake as it is definitely known that in practically all the different varieties of poultry, including all varieties of ducks, geese and turkeys, there is just as good stock, or better, to be had in Pennsylvania, and at as low prices, as in any State of the United States, or in fact anywhere. That besides, in baby chicks and eggs for hatching, the longer the haul, the less chance of success after the arrival of same. The extra express charges on these long hauls are also a big item. Within the past week an instance came to the notice of the Department where a Pennsylvania man had received a thousand eggs for hatching of a certain variety from Michigan, paying $4.86 express charges, when this man could have bought the same eggs, at a less price within twenty miles and from very much better stock. If he gets a good hatch from these eggs he will be more than lucky for on account of the long haul the air cells of the eggs all showed "creep" under the tester. At twenty miles distant it would have been possible to keep these eggs out of the hands of the express people and best of all the man could have seen exactly what he was buying and the stock from which it came.

From reports received by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture there were, up to the middle of April an unusually small number of young chicks hatched and living. It would seem that the eggs laid during the extremely mild weather of January, that were set, hatched well and gave good strong chicks. Quite a number were hatched, but unfortunately most of these chickens have since died, mostly of leg weakness. One woman poultry raiser reports having three hundred that had reached the weight of nearly one-half pound each, and losing all but two with what she terms as "rheumatism," but which is nothing but leg weakness. The Department poultry adviser, W. Theo. Wittman advises that it is a disease for which there is practically no cure, but that, on the other hand it is a disease that can very easily be prevented. This preventive is merely letting the chicks have the run of out-doors not later than four weeks old. The cause is dry board or cement floors.

THE PINTO BAND
On the range beyond the river, On a green and sunny slope, There's a band of pinto ponies That have never felt the rope. We have run them, we have trapped them, We have made them stand at bay, We have worked our very hardest, But they always got away. Now I'm glad those pinto ponies Still are out there on the hills; And I hope they'll never be corralled And made to feel the lile That fall to other horses. When man's greedy ruthless hand Steals the free steeds from their ranges, And their comrade's happy band. In the cool sweet nights of autumn I can seem to hear them scream; I can hear them splash and clatter

As they ford the rocky stream. Once again I grip the saddle, And the boys are at my side, And I'm back in old Montana On the range I used to ride. —Walter S. Weeks, in National Magazine for April.

Ice Is An Economy

HOUSEKEEPING without ice is wasteful, dangerous to health, inconvenient and extravagant.

It is not how cheaply you buy, but how will you use up food that counts in reducing living costs.

Ice, by keeping wholesome remnants of every meal, enables the clever housewife to get all the food value out of every purchase.

Ice makes possible the purchase of perishable food in larger quantities at lowest prices.

Begin taking ice now and practice real economy. A phone call will bring our wagon.
