OLD FRIENDS AT FOSTER FUNERAL

Elders and Deacons of Market Square Church Are Pallbearers at Service

CHARLES W. FOSTER

Funeral services for Charles W. Foster were held this afternoon at 2:20 o'clock at his home, 113 Washington street with the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian church officiating and many of his old friends throughout the city attending.

Burial was made in the Harrisburg cemetery and the pallbearers were the following elders and deacons of the Market Square church of which Mr. Foster was elder and assistant superintendent of the Sunday school at the time of his death: Judge S. J. M. McCarrill, J. Henry Spicer, Samuel W. Fleming, Edward Bailey, Ross A. Hickok, John B. Patrick, James Baker and W. Harry Musser.

Charles W. Foster who died at his home Saturday evening after a lingering illness, aged 67 years, was one of the best known and loved men of the city. Born and reared in Lewisberry he came to Harrisburg in 1876, taking a position in the Hertz dry goods store in Market Square later associating himself with the Einstein store and becoming one of the partners.

Mr. Foster was one of the most prominent Presbyterians of the city, holding official positions in the Market Square church of which he was long a member. He was on the first board of deacons, holding the position until he was promoted to the church eldership, to which he still belonged. He was greatly interested in the work at Calvary Chapel and until it separated from Market Square church was its Sunday school superintendent and a teacher in the school as well. For about ten years he has been assistant superintendent of the Market Square Sunday school.

One of the most interesting of all Mr. Foster's church activities has been the Chinese class which he organized over thirty years ago and which he has kept up all these years with, of course, a varied membership. Some of the members of this class have made their way to larger positions throughout the country because of Mr. Foster's interest in them in teaching them English and arithmetic as well as the Scriptures. Mr. Foster is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Bergstresser Foster, a daughter of the late James W. Bergstresser of this city.

FUNSTON AND SCOTT GO TO CONFERENCE

More Mexican Troops Are Being Concentrated in Northern Part of Country

San Antonio, April 25.—Receipt of news to-day that more Mexican troops were being concentrated in Northern Mexico added interest to the coming conference between General Scott and General Alvera Obregon.

Army officers here are not alarmed by the troop movements, but it was realized that General Obregon has so disposed his forces that by the time he meets General Scott, he will have behind him no fewer than 40,000 men.

The concentration of General Pershing's men has brought the opposing forces together in a much shortened line with the main points of concentration at Casas Grandes and Namiquipa. Scouts and other agents of the army reported that the movements of the de facto government troops are continuing. Official information places the number of those in and about Torreon at about 20,000.

Court Sentences Seven Villa Bandits to Death

Deming, N. M., April 25.—The men taken after the raid on Columbus and convicted of murder in the first degree, yesterday were condemned to death May 19 by Judge Edward L. Medler.

Expect Obregon's Train to Arrive in Five Days

Washington, April 25.—Advices to the Mexican embassy to-day said General Obregon left Mexico City Sunday night and predictions were made that his special train would make much better speed to the border than regular trains which take about five days.

Embassy officials said it was possible that Obregon might stop at Chihuahua to get in personal touch with the situation and to receive any available information as to Villa's hiding place. Pablo Lopez, Villa's chief lieutenant, captured by Carranza troops, is a prisoner at Chihuahua. Indications that the redispotion of General Pershing's forces authorized by President Wilson is already under way came to-day from General Funston. Part of the Seventeenth infantry crossed the border yesterday at Columbus to strengthen General Pershing's line of communication. The Seventeenth was included in the 2,300 additional troops recently placed at General Pershing's disposal. Although not fully advised as to General Funston's plans, War Department officials said the redispotion might include retirement to the Casas Grandes section and felt certain the Mormon colony near Colonia Dublan would be held within the reformed United States lines.

Princeton, N. J., April 25.—President Wilson, who came here to-day to vote and to plant a tree on the Lincoln highway, spoke of Abraham Lincoln as "a generalized universalized American." "Lincoln," he said, "was beloved by all the nation." The President spoke of the necessity of preventing one's judgment being warmed by one's heart. He declared that the Lincoln Highway will do much to bring people in all parts of the country together and in closer sympathy. He was introduced by Governor Fielder of New Jersey, who had just planted a tree in his honor. The President said he would watch the tree grow.
