

ENTIRE IRELAND IS PLACED UNDER MARTIAL RULE AS RESULT OF RIOT

Fighting Is Still Under Way in Streets of Dublin and Rebels Hold Important Public Buildings

INDICATIONS POINT TO SPREAD OF MOVEMENT

Situation in West Serious; Sir John Maxwell Given Plenary Power Over Whole Country

London, April 27, 3.20 P. M.—Martial law has been declared throughout all Ireland. Fighting is still going on in the streets of Dublin.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons to-day that the rebels continue to hold important public buildings in Dublin and that street encounters were continuing in the city.

Premier Asquith told the house the Irish situation still presented serious features to-day and there were indications of a spread of the movement to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west.

Sir John Maxwell to Rule

The premier announced that Major-General Sir John Maxwell, who formerly commanded the British forces in Egypt, was leaving London for Ireland. The general has been given plenary powers, under martial law, over the whole country.

The premier said there would be a searching investigation into the cause of responsibility for the outbreak. He added that it was obviously necessary to exercise military censorship while martial law prevailed in Ireland. This censorship, however, would be directed against the rebels and not against the British forces.

Leaders With Government

Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond, who were the leaders of the opposing factions in the Irish home rule controversy, expressed in the house of commons their desire to support the government.

Sending More Troops

The troops in Ireland have been and are being strongly reinforced. Mr. Asquith added, and the government was satisfied the force dispatched was adequate to deal with the situation.

The Irish authorities will place themselves at the disposal of Major-General Maxwell to carry out his instructions.

Proclamation of martial law throughout Ireland may indicate an extension of the details of which the rigid British censorship is withholding. Cable dispatches yesterday and early to-day give the impression that the British authorities had the situation in Ireland well in hand. Martial law, it was said, had been declared only in the city and county of Dublin. A few minor disturbances in the Dublin area were reported, but they were described as of small importance.

FRAUGHT WITH DANGER

Situation in Ireland of Great Peril; Details of Case-ment Exploit

London, April 27. — Viscount Middleton attacked the government in the House of Lords yesterday for failing to take heed of warnings regarding activities of the Sinn Feiners. He asked what the government meant by saying Tuesday that the situation was in hand, so far as his information went, at the time this assurance was given, not only were rebels in possession of a number of prominent parts of Dublin, but no attempt had been made to dislodge them.

Viscount Middleton said he understood telegraphic communication with Dublin was entirely interrupted, that the rebels when they

That wise old Bard who once sagely remarked that "In Springtime a young man's thoughts turn lightly to love," must have had Steelton and the present month in mind.

For in that busy borough little Dan Cupid has nothing on the big steel mills for speeding things up. Even the meekest epidemic down there can't beat Dan.

Some of his darts have been shot out rather promiscuously and the resultant relationships establish a record not easy to figure out. For instance, can you tell just how all these are now related?

ALL EXCEPTIONS TO HARDCRABBLE REPORT ATTACKED

Seitz Assails Great Bulk of Objections to Condemnation Viewers' Award

MANY UNINTELLIGIBLE

One by one the long list of exceptions filed by attorneys for some of the "Hardcrabble" property owners to the report of the condemnation viewers were attacked and whacked yesterday afternoon in the Dauphin county court by City Solicitor D. S. Seitz.

Nearly two score objections had been raised, but Mr. Seitz didn't argue on nearly all of them; some were dismissed with such cryptic comment as: "Said exception states a legal proposition which we are compelled to admit is too deep or intricate for us to comprehend, but whatever it may mean we respectfully submit it is untenable"; "said exceptions are regarded as immaterial and unnecessary for comment"; "misstatement of fact"; "reflection on court and the viewers and unworthy of further comment"; "wholly immaterial"; "unintelligible". On one occasion he sarcastically remarked that the splitting of hairs was being carried to extremes.

CASEMENT'S SHIP HAD RIFLES, AMMUNITION AND MACHINE GUNS FOR IRISH REBELS

London, April 27.—Sir Roger Casement is occupying the cell in which Carl Hans Lody was held as a prisoner before his execution at a spy in the Tower of London in November, 1914. Lody was arrested in Killybegs near where Sir Roger was captured.

It is learned that Casement went on board the German submarine in Killybegs about April 14, which is near the date on which a report was circulated that he had been arrested in Germany. The submarine was accompanied by a tramp steamer manned by twenty picked men from the German navy and carrying a cargo of twenty thousand rifles, machine guns and ammunition bound for Ireland.

The steamer flying the Dutch flag and with the submarine proceeding awash in close attendance, crept through the Catteaz, across Bohus

TEUTONIC GUNS CONTINUALLY IN PLAY AT VERDUN

Great Struggle Proceeds With Little Diminution in Vigor

There are signs of increasing activities along the entire battle front in the west, notably on the southern end of the line down to the Vosges. The great struggle at Verdun is being continued with little diminution in vigor, however, the German heavy guns almost continually in play.

The only infantry movement in the Verdun region noted in this afternoon's Paris statements was to the north of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, where what is alluded to as a "small attack" was stopped immediately by the French artillery.

FEELING AGAINST AMERICANS IN MEXICO GROWING

Situation of Yankees in Durango Reported Serious; Peons Rebellious

WILL CONFER TOMORROW

Generals Scott, Funston and Obregon to Meet Soon; Tuckmen Ambushed

El Paso, Texas, April 27.—Disturbing reports were received here to-day from many points in Northern and Central Mexico regarding anti-American feeling on the part of the peons.

The most serious of these reports referred to towns in Durango and especially to Durango City where the Americans are still living there have been repeatedly warned by United States Consul Coen to leave. As far as can be learned here there are not more than a dozen Americans still in Durango City, the majority of them have married into Mexican families and for that reason have so far considered themselves safe.

The present trouble seems to be due in part to the persistent anti-American campaign which has been carried on by the Mexican papers in the State Capital. This campaign has increased in violence since the clash at Parral between United States soldiers and Carranza troops.

Americans who have arrived here from Durango and Southern Chihuahua say that the Parral incident has been magnified out of all proportions and grossly distorted by Mexican papers which have described it as a great Mexican victory.

Columbus, N. M., April 27.—Truckmen arriving here to-day told of being ambushed by a roving band of marauders of about 150 attached to no Mexican faction, in a canyon near Satevo several days ago. The truckmen and their soldier guard took a position behind the steel wheels of the cars and returned the fire, routing the Mexicans and capturing two of their trucks according to the story. Other truckmen said that snipers' bullets had struck their machines on the Wittig, a witness for the prosecution. "I asked him," testified Wittig, a chemical engineer, "if he knew what $500,000 was, and he replied that money was no object in this thing."

Wittig, who declared his sympathies in the warfare with France, told of informing the French embassy of his conversations with Fay. The embassy in turn notified the New York police. On trial with Fay are his brother-in-law, Walter Scholz and Paul Daecher.

BABY SHOW PRIZEWINNER VICTIM OF MEASLES

Ellsworth Peiffer, aged one year, died this morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Peiffer, 450 South Cameron street. Death was caused by measles, followed by pneumonia.

GIRL WHO FIRED FATHER'S BARN AND SUITOR HELD

Statta Barnick, aged 14 of Dellville, Perry county, was arrested yesterday on a charge of arson preferred by Deputy Fire Marshal Charles H. Rhein. At the same time John Smith, of Donnelly's Mills was taken into custody for a conspiracy charge made by the girl. Smith is 60 years old.

The Barnick girl set fire to her father's barn Sunday night and in her confession to Deputy Rhein yesterday she told of carrying matches to the barn and firing the building. The girl's father opposed Smith as a suitor and she did not get fire to the barn. The Barnick girl was taken to jail at New Bloomfield where she told Deputy Rhein she would plead guilty in court. It is understood she will be sent to a home for incorrigible girls. Several indictments will be made against Smith and some officials say that his sentence is likely to total about fifteen years.
