

Our Brilliant Showing of Spring Clothes Freshened By New Arrivals

Many of the more striking Spring styles, which were delayed in delivery by the woolen mills have just arrived.

Principally among them are the new things from Fashion Park—the clothes that have won the heart of every young man hereabouts—as well as the conservative fellows.

Fortunate, indeed, that we have these excellent "recruits" to bring up from the "reserve" line to "fill up the gaps," made by the "onslaught" of our big Easter business. Our lines have been straightened out and are again intact.

We go ever onward—we are prepared for another rush.

Governor Will Have Three Major Appointments to Make Before Very Long

Governor Brumbaugh is not regarded as likely to fill any of the major appointments now vacant in the State government until well toward June and the successor to Judge Ralston on the Philadelphia bench may not be selected until after the May primary.

The death of Commissioner Cunningham makes the third major appointment for the Governor to fill. In addition to the highway commissioner-ship he will name a Fire Marshal and an Insurance Commissioner.

Bids On the 9th.—The bids for State supplies and for the waste paper at the Capitol will be opened by the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings on May 9.

State to Assist.—The State Historical Commission has arranged to donate $3,000 toward the restoration of the old town hall at Chester.

Boards To Meet.—The State Compensation and Insurance Fund boards will meet here next week.

Commission Adjourns.—The Public Service Commission has adjourned its Wilkes-Barre session.

To Insure Deputies.—Application was made to-day to the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, which insures against employers' liability by the sheriffs of two Western Pennsylvania counties for rates for insuring deputy sheriffs who might be called out on strike duty.

Lebanon to Answer.—The Public Service Commission has asked the city of Lebanon if it desires to make answer to the complaint of the Lebanon Valley Consolidated Water Company that it is furnishing water in a district annexed to the city without having obtained a State certificate of public convenience.

Audience with Kaiser Regarded Good Omen

Although no information has been given out regarding the purpose of Ambassador Gerard's journey, it is evident that Emperor William wishes a thorough personal talk with him in order to obtain a clearer view of the American position on the submarine issue.

The ambassador and Secretary Grew traveled in a special saloon car attached to a regular train placed at their disposal. Mr. Gerard was attended by the embassy's chasseur. The train will reach its destination at 7 p. m. tomorrow (Friday) and Ambassador Gerard expects to return on Saturday.

The invitation to visit the German headquarters was brought to the ambassador personally by Foreign Minister Von Jagow.

The invitation is regarded in financial circles as a good omen. Nevertheless, experienced observers consider the situation still very serious and believe that the mere fact of the ambassador's meeting with the Emperor and his advisers is of less importance than what was done at the conference at German headquarters.

The news that Ambassador Gerard was going to the headquarters was already known at noon to-day, but the censors for some mysterious reason refused to allow cablegrams to be sent announcing that fact until to-night, just as they had refused to pass dispatches with news that the American note had been handed to the foreign office, until the next day.

Destroy Guard Vessel

Berlin, April 28.—(via London).—The Admiralty announced to-day that on the night of April 26-27 German navy forces destroyed a large British guard vessel, on Dogger Bank, and brought in a fishing steamer as a prize.

Over 90, He Coasts Down Hill in Express Wagon

In the upper end of the city there is an aged colored street sweeper named Harris. He is said to be over ninety years old, but this doesn't hinder him from joyriding. For several weeks he has been going to his work with a small express wagon which he uses to coast down the Kelker street hill.

Three German Planes Drop 31 Bombs on Russ Warships; Start Big Conflagration

Berlin, April 28.—(by Wireless).—An official report issued to-day by the German Admiralty announces that three German aeroplanes yesterday dropped thirty-one bombs on the Russian battleship Slava. Several of the bombs are said to have taken effect and fire on the battleship was distinctly observed.

The text of the Admiralty statement follows: "Three German aeroplanes on April 27 dropped thirty-one bombs upon the Russian battleship Slava. Several hits and a conflagration were distinctly observed. All the raiders, in spite of the heaviest shelling, returned unhurt."

the press explaining that Niederost, one of the Swiss passengers on board the channel steamer Sussex when she was blown up on March 24, offered to make a sworn statement concerning the Sussex case, but that his deposition was not taken because his account did not appear to be reliable and because statements from American citizens only were required.

ARBOR DAY OBSERVED IN NEARBY TOWNS

Trees were all of good size, some measuring three inches through.

A gang of workmen from the borough highway department and another squad whose wages were paid by business men prepared holes for the trees this morning and cleared away underbrush and debris. The planting was in charge of Emory Hamilton, of the Berryhill Nursery, and the trees were furnished by public-spirited citizens and the Municipal League.

736 Merchant Ships of 2,000,000 Tonnage Sunk Since Start of Conflict

Washington, April 26.—British estimates of the European war's toll of merchant ships, given in figures to-day by the Department of Commerce, put the number at 736, with a tonnage of more than 2,000,000. Allied vessels lost number 538 and neutral 198.

The estimates made by a British admiral give British losses at 410 ships; French 53; Russian 26; Italian 27; Belgian 10 and Japanese 3.

This does not include the loss of 237 trawlers by the British, seven by the French and two by the Belgians.

Norway, with 81 vessels destroyed, leads the neutral nations in losses. Sweden, with 40, is second and Denmark with 28 third. Holland has lost 24 and the United States seven.

British losses amount to four per cent. of the total number in service and six per cent. of the tonnage.

FLEET CAPTURES SWEDEN

London, April 28.—The Swedish steamer J. J. Dickson, bound to Amsterdam, was captured and taken to Hamburg by the fleet of German warships while the fleet was returning from the bombardment of the English coast on Tuesday last.

The name of the J. J. Dickson does not appear in available shipping records.

Place Crew of Unarmed Ship Adrift 120 Miles at Sea; Liner Makes Rescue

London, April 28.—The British steamship industry has been sunk by a submarine, which left the crew of the vessel in open boats 120 miles from land. The crew was picked up by the American liner Finland.

The British steamship industry was sunk by an enemy submarine and the crew was left in open boats in the Atlantic, 120 miles from the nearest land. The boats, with the entire crew, were picked up by the American liner Finland.

The industry was proceeding to a United States port, and was unarmed.

Over 90, He Coasts Down Hill in Express Wagon

In the upper end of the city there is an aged colored street sweeper named Harris. He is said to be over ninety years old, but this doesn't hinder him from joyriding. For several weeks he has been going to his work with a small express wagon which he uses to coast down the Kelker street hill.

Yesterday morning the street was slippery from rain and the old man misjudged the motorpower of his wagon. Placing his dinner pail inside and seating himself on top, albeit he lapped over more or less on both sides, he started down the hill for his morning joyride, intending as usual, to turn up Fourth street at the bottom of the hill.

People in the neighborhood of Fourth and Kelker streets heard a lively clatter and rushing to their doors and windows saw the venerable street sweeper coming down the hill under full pressure and with yells of dismay as his wagon approached the streetcar track in Fourth street. He couldn't stop the wagon and instead of making the turn into Fourth street was catapulted across the tracks against the trolley on the way and landing upside down against the Lappley shoe store.

His dinner pail and wagon were more or less wrecked, but the experience never phased him. Getting to his feet he gathered up his scattered utensils and proceeded to work.
