STEELTON NEWS WRITING FUNERAL WILL BE PRIVATE

Six Brothers Pallbearers;
Erected Many Large Buildings

HARRY C. WRIGHT
Funeral services for Harry C. Wright, president of the Municipal League, school director and widely-known citizen who died Saturday, will be held at his late residence, 405 Swatara street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Charles A. Huxette, pastor of the First Reformed Church, will officiate. Burial will be made at Oberlin. The services will be private. Six brothers will be pallbearers.
Mr. Wright was aged 47 and enjoyed the best of health until Saturday evening a week ago, when he complained of a sore nose. In the belief that a boil was forming, his nose was lanced. The following morning, however, a high fever set in and Mr. Wright's condition became alarming. He grew steadily worse and died Saturday afternoon. Death was due to erysipelas.
Harry C. Wright was born in South Second street and early entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Steel Company. After an accident in which he suffered injuries to a hand he engaged in the general contracting business, in which he was successful.
He built the big general office building of the Steel Company, Front and Swatara streets, and the Steelton Trust Company building, North Front street, two of the finest buildings in Steelton's business section.
Among other large buildings erected under Mr. Wright's direction were the First Methodist Church, Fourth and Pine streets; Monumental A. M. E. Church, Second and Adams street; the recent addition to Centenary United Brethren Church, South Second street; St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Highgate; the Highgate High School; the United Brethren Church at New Cumberland; the United Brethren Church at Hummelstown; the Cameron Extension, South Harrisburg and many other churches, schools and dwellings in Central Pennsylvania.
Among Mr. Wright's achievements in Steelton was the erection of many of the beautiful homes in Swatara street, a district developed largely by him. He also was instrumental in laying out the extension now being developed by Brightbill & Wright, east of the borough.
Mr. Wright was president of the Municipal League, member of the School Board and of the Dauphin County Viewers' Board. As head of the Municipal League, he did much towards developing Steelton. It was the Municipal League that fostered the idea of a big public improvement in the borough in recent years. The paving loans and the development of the Luther R. Keiker Park were among the most notable achievements.
The day that he became ill, Mr. Wright held a number of conferences with a view to urging the borough council to issue an ordinance creating a Parks and Playgrounds committee to direct establishment of an adequate system of playgrounds in the borough. He was largely instrumental in placing the ordinance which will be submitted to council next Monday and his death at this time will be greatly felt by the forces that are endeavoring to secure adequate recreational facilities.
In the school board, Mr. Wright always threw his influence against mixing politics with educational matters. A chairman of the building committee, he directed the erection of the new Hygienic school and was largely instrumental in the borough's obtaining a modern edifice in the colored section.
Mr. Wright was also active in charitable affairs and was a member of the board of directors of the Steelton Associated Charities. He was also a member of the original trustees committee organized in 1907 to care for the poverty stricken people of that winter. It was this committee that placed charitable work on an efficient basis in the borough. He was council member and trustee in the First Reformed Church.
Mr. Wright was a member of Harrisburg Lodge of Elks, the Knights of Malta and Sons of Veterans. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mabel and Ethel; six brothers, John, Aaron, Samuel, William, Ephraim and James; three sisters, William Kuhns and Mrs. Harry Truopp of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Thomas Jacks, of Hummelstown.
At a meeting of the Steelton School Board to-morrow, resolutions upon the death of Mr. Wright will be passed. Efforts are also being made by members of the Municipal League to have a special meeting to act on Mr. Wright's death.

statistics of the churches, to consider plans of advancement and to furnish inspiration for the general work. The Rev. J. H. Higby of Lancaster is the moderator, Paul Gendell, clerk and D. P. Jerauld, treasurer. There are 180 delegates attending.

The morning sessions will be largely business sessions of interest mainly to the delegates, known as "messengers." At the afternoon sessions plans for new work will be considered. The evening meetings will be generally inspirational and of interest to all Christian workers.

Evening Session
The speakers will be men and women of national reputation in the denomination. This evening Mrs. W. H. Leslie, a missionary from Congo, West Africa, will be the first speaker. She tells of thrilling experiences in her medical mission work where she is associated with her husband, the Rev. Dr. W. H. Leslie.

Mrs. Marie Conversano will also give an address. Mrs. Conversano is the Baptist Italian missionary at Ellis Island to the incoming immigrants and to the children.

To-morrow morning the Rev. Dr. Calvin A. Hare will preach the introductory sermon, his subject being "God's Revelation of Himself."

Tuesday afternoon a symposium on denominational activities will include: Ministerial Education, the Rev. Leroy Stephens, D. D.; State Missions, the Rev. C. A. Soars, D. L.; Publication Society, the Rev. Samuel G. Neil, D. D.; Ordphanage, the Rev. C. A. Soars, D. D.; Baptist Commonwealth,

ROYALTON CHURCH BURNS MORTGAGE
Impressive Ceremonies Mark Clearance of United Brethren Church From Debt

The mortgage on the Royalton United Brethren Church was burned after impressive ceremonies last evening before a large congregation. The Rev. William Beach, pastor, assisted by Mrs. Carrie Brandt and Mrs. Anna Wolf, two of the oldest members of the church officiating. The match used was presented by A. K. Conrad.

Above the pulpit was suspended a large banner illuminated with small red and white electric lights on which was inscribed the names of the various pastors of the church since it was built.

S. H. Ney told of the founding of the church in 1873 at the home of the late John Matthias. Here a handful of men and women gathered to hear the pastor of the Middletown United Brethren church. In 1875 the cornerstone of the new church was laid. In 1888 the Rev. H. B. Lehman was assigned as pastor. During his pastorate a $5,800 building was dedicated February 18, 1894.

The Rev. Mr. Beach said this was the second mortgage he had burned in the past twenty-eight years. He was also instrumental in freeing three parsonages from debt. He announced that not only was the mortgage paid but that the church had $161 in interest. Mrs. George Lewis, J. G. Kinsey and C. R. Landis also took part.

A large bouquet of roses was presented to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Beach by William Wolf on behalf of the board of trustees. A letter of appreciation from the board was also read.

Teacher said she would give a prize to the kid who brought in the best idea on real economy. She hasn't decided yet between Sam Short and Susie Smart. I guess she will have to buy two prizes.

Sam Short wrote: "Talk about preparedness. There's a hundred million cans of scouring powder used in America, on each of which 6c is wasted. Teach everybody to use SAVE-A-CENT instead and you could buy a big battleship with the $6,000,000 they saved."

Susie Smart wrote: "If everybody bought SAVE-A-CENT instead of wasteful scouring powder, they'd save so much money and bring down the price of tin cans so low that everybody could afford to take the children to the movies every day, in the family Ford."

Monday. Yours respectfully,
SLIM STEVE.

Soft Scouring Compound

Is the best hand soap you ever used. Does everything any scouring powder does, does it more easily and lasts as long as any three 10c cans, because it does not waste. Yet it costs only 4c, while cans of scouring powder cost 5c and 10c.

the most remarkable fashion. It is believed, however, that an understanding has been reached with Colonel Roosevelt and his leading lieutenants at Chicago. If it should be that the colonel is not available at this particular time owing to the schism in the party then he will step aside and give the support and the support of the Roosevelt following in the country to Root or some other statesman acceptable to the Republican voters.

Root Open Headquarters
Root headquarters were opened at the Hotel Manhattan to-day and his week branch headquarters will be opened in Washington, Chicago and other large cities.

While Justice Hughes has maintained a discreet silence as to his intentions the tendency to boost him is manifest everywhere. He is not generally acceptable to many party leaders, but they realize that he is strong with the people. It is believed in some quarters that Colonel Roosevelt will be "stopped" and that the Chicago convention will not nominate him. It is asserted that at least two-thirds of the delegates already chosen will not vote for Roosevelt.

President Wilson, of course, will be the Democratic nominee, but he is not as strong to-day as he was six months ago.

Borough Officials Honor J. V. W. Reynders; Present Him With Loving Cup

Steelton's borough council paid a tribute to J. V. W. Reynders, who recently resigned as vice-president of the Pennsylvania Steel Company and whose resignation as president of council is expected soon, at a banquet given at the Bessemer House, Saturday evening.

Thirty-two officials and men prominent in the borough's political and business circles were present. In appreciation of the esteem in which President Reynders is held, his former associates presented him with a handsome silver loving cup. Frank B. Wickersham, borough solicitor, was toastmaster and speeches were made by practically all the guests. Those present were: F. B. Wickersham, J. V. W. Reynders, Charles P. Feidt, Charles R. Holton, Kirk Shelley, Thomas E. McEntee, George H. Roberts, G. P. Baskin, M. B. Little, Frank A. Stees, E. C. Henderson,

A Better Day Has Dawned In Business Ethics

RECENTLY the Supreme Court handed down a decision that honesty in advertising is the best policy, because of the difficulty in drawing a line between exaggeration and fraud.

All that is doubtful; fraudulent; even facts that are varnished, must eventually give way to a more substantial policy of advertising—in a word, Truth, as laid down by a fast-growing, universal association of advertising and business men—10,000 strong, believing——That to paint stripes upon a donkey will not make him a zebra.

—That "paint" or price cannot disguise the real value of merchandise.

To tell the actual value, as well as the sale price, is in itself good, sound, sane business, and would serve a good purpose if there were never any danger of abuse or exaggeration.

Since January 25th, of this year, the Bowman Store has realized that even the venerable policy of stating a comparative value is not essential to store keeping and to advertising.

—Rather a mutual advantage.

son said that with the razing of a number of old dwellings in the Eighth ward for the Capitol Park extension the people of that vicinity have spread to other sections and are widely scattered. This, he claimed, is causing more trouble for the officers of the law. When the miscreants were collected in one place, the disturbance seldom were more than family row which were soon quelled, according to the executive.

Now, however, he went on to explain, these old offenders have sought new quarters and are making an effort to increase their forces. Everything possible will be done, he announced to break up the nuisance, and the first move was made on Saturday night to rid the streets of women whom it is said, are doing open soliciting. Several arrests were made, the women putting up forfeits of $10 for their appearance at a hearing this afternoon.
Detective Windsor also said that although there is no outbreak of crime, many complaints have been received from various sections, indicating that the disturbance makers have spread into other parts of the city.
