

STATE LEAGUE STARTS THURSDAY

STATE LEAGUE TO HAVE SIX CLUBS

Harrisburg Opens at York Next Wednesday; First Game Here Thursday

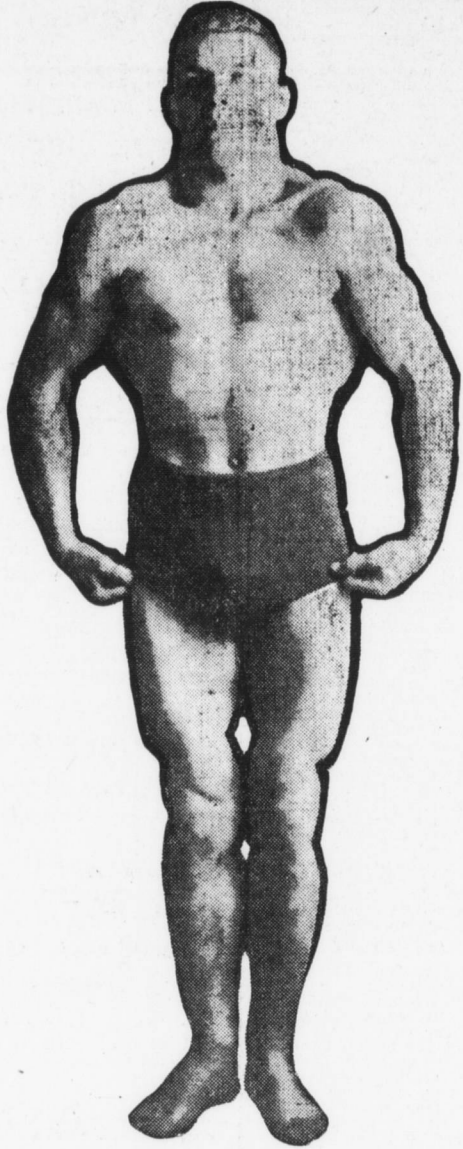

Representatives who attended the meeting of the Pennsylvania State League in Reading yesterday decided to start the season on Wednesday with six clubs. Only one application received yesterday had any financial backing. A new schedule will be arranged and made public Monday. In order to permit work on the new grounds at Allentown, the team representing that city will play at Edgewood park, Shamokin, until June 15. It was also decided to switch the opening game scheduled for Harrisburg on Wednesday, to York and have the opening in this city, Thursday, May 11. This will put the York team on the road for a week and will enable the completion of the new bleachers and grandstand at the York fair grounds. All other towns are in good shape. The schedule for the first week follows:

Next Week's Schedule
May 10—Harrisburg at York; Lebanon at Lancaster; Shamokin at Reading. May 11—York at Harrisburg; Lancaster at Lebanon; Shamokin at Reading. May 12 and 13—Lancaster at Harrisburg; Reading at Lebanon; York at Shamokin.

President William R. Douglass will meet his umpires in Harrisburg on Tuesday and give them instructions. He will announce his appointments not later than Monday. Official scorers will be selected by the local managers.

Leo Groome owner of the Harrisburg franchise came here today and took up active work in preparation for the opening game next Thursday. Manager George Cockill has 15 players on his string and will be in Harrisburg on Monday. Those at the meeting yesterday were: Leo Groome, George Cockill and W. R. Douglass, Harrisburg; G. W. Heckert, York; James Scheckard and I. B. Reinhart, Lancaster; A. Rosenbluth, and Hank Ramsey, Reading; Hugh A. McKinnon, Lebanon, and David L. Ostro and Nat J. Nealen, of Shamokin.

Jack Ozar, Lebanon Valley College Wrestler, Will Meet Billy Ninich, Middleweight

Articles of agreement between Billy Ninich and Jack Ozar, Lebanon Valley College champion, for the bout to be staged at the Academy of Music, Lebanon, next Tuesday evening, for the world's international middleweight championship have been signed up.

Ninich is confident that he can throw Ozar and when the local favorite was asked for his opinion of the matter his reply was, that if he doesn't beat Ninich, it will be a bigger surprise to himself than his admirers.

Both Ozar and Ninich are in training for this bout. Ninich wishes to protect his title and Ozar is just as anxious to secure it. If the local favorite wins, Lebanon will have a champ of whom it may be proud.

Local baseball fans can now get there will be no less than 14 amateur games played in Harrisburg and plan for the opening of the baseball season in Harrisburg next Thursday. York will be the attraction and plans were started today for a big celebration. As to the class of baseball to be furnished, fans are willing to leave it to Manager Cockill. They have great faith in the former Tri-State manager who gave Harrisburg two pennant winning teams.

Manager W. R. Winn of the Methodist club has arranged a busy schedule for his athletes for the summer. The track and baseball teams will be seen in many engagements. The track team will compete in this city and at Mt. Gretna, Steelton and in other towns. The runners this year will include a number of former high school stars.

That the management of the West End Republican club boxing shows has the confidence of patrons, was shown yesterday, when a letter was received from Reading, commending the manner in which shows are conducted in Harrisburg, and ordering a block of 100 tickets. Jackie Clark has many admirers in Reading who want to see him win over Eddie Revoire.
