ORGANIZED LABOR WELL TREATED IN LAST YEAR

Wage Advance General the Country Over; Hours Shortened

Washington, April 5.—Organized labor received more in the year ending with May 1 in increased wages, shortening of hours and legislation than ever before in its history, according to officials of the American Federation of labor. Wage advances were general the country over in virtually every line of industry and laws benefiting labor were put on the statute books of every State in the union except five.

Wage increases were greatest in the metal trades, many of which were stimulated by war orders. Cotton manufacturing was the only main industry which did not grant substantial increases. The metal trades, too, claimed the greatest number of strikes during the year, though many plants increased the pay of their men and cut working hours voluntarily.

One benefit brought by the industrial revival which labor officials consider as important as increases in wages was the effect on unemployment, which has disappeared within the past year. Statistics just completed by the department of labor show that men of all trades have been called in to work. Iron and steel mills have on their payroll now thirty-six per cent more men than were employed a year ago and the car building and repairing industry has increased its forces by about the same percentage. Manufacturers of boots and shoes are employing twenty per cent more men than this time last year.

Wage increases during the year have ranged from five to fifteen per cent. No statistics have been compiled by either the department of labor or the American Federation of labor, but reports coming in to both tell of what is being accomplished in manufacturing plants in all parts of the country.

1,500 Strikes.

The department of labor puts the country's 1915 strikes at 1,500, about 300 more than the year before. About two-thirds of them were for wage increases or decreased hours and most of them were successful. Munitions strikes starting in the summer of 1915 attracted much attention. Most of them were for shorter hours without pay increases. Shorter hours generally were obtained by the munitions workers, but where wage increases were asked the workers seldom got as much as they asked for.

Strikes in the clothing industry in eastern cities involved a number of strikes, but their duration was comparatively short. A middle western clothing strike, in Chicago, however, lasted for three months and involved from 6,000 to 25,000 workers. Other strikes of importance during the year included the building trades strike in Chicago, which halted building in that city for a time; the oil and chemical strikes at Elizabeth, N. J., and neighboring cities and the Chicago street car strike. The eastern Ohio coal strike was settled just a year ago.

The causes of strikes and lockouts were numerous. In a total of 1,200 strikes three hundred were for wage increases; 133 for a shorter working day; 90 because of wage cuts; 60 because of discharge of union men; 40 because of employment of nonunion men and 20 for open or closed shop.

Many Compensation Laws

The most significant feature of the year's labor legislation is given by laws enacted in a number of states. The growth of the industrial commission plan is considered of great importance also. This plan unites in one authority the administration of workmen's compensation, factory inspection and other labor laws. It was adopted during the year by Colorado, Indiana, Montana, Nevada and New York.

Unemployment received the attention of a number of legislatures. Illinois established a commission on unemployment; California and Nevada investigated unemployment conditions and Idaho provided emergency employment through county boards.

Public employment officers were established by California, Idaho, Iowa, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Illinois, Michigan and Oklahoma extended their public employment systems. Seven States provided for licensing and supervising private employment offices.

Laws relating to the employment of women and children were passed by a number of States. Arkansas and Kansas enacted minimum wage laws and California, Massachusetts and Washington amended minimum wage laws already in force. Eleven States now have minimum wage legislation. Arkansas and Pennsylvania passed child labor legislation during the year.

In the field of safety provision the most detailed enactments were those formulated by the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin and the Industrial boards of New York and Pennsylvania. The seamen's act, the Alaska and Arizona old age pension laws and California's appointment of a commission to report on social insurance were other important enactments.

NEW TREATMENT FOR SWOLLEN VEINS

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and banches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated. Apply night and morning with the soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

It is so marvelously powerful that swollen glands, and even goitre disappear when used steadily. All druggists can always supply you.

was supposed that he had been quieted, but early in the morning he went to the room of his wife and attacked her. The mother cried to the son for help and he rushed to her assistance, but was knocked down by his father, who renewed his attack on the mother. The son got a baseball bat and came back to the room and struck his father three times on the head, crushing his skull.

Crushes Father's Head in Defense of Mother

Wilmington, Del., May 5.—Defending his mother, who was being beaten by his father, Lawrence Garryantes, Louis Garryantes, 21 years old, killed his parent with a baseball bat yesterday. The son has been held without bail for a further hearing.

Garryantes came home late under the influence of liquor. He later became crazed from the effects of the drink and a physician was summoned. It

BIRDHOUSES ARE WORK OF PATIENTS

Mont Alto Sanatorium People Are Giving Much Time to the Outdoor Effort

Birdhouse building has become an established industry with the patients at the State tuberculosis sanatorium at Mont Alto. Some weeks ago the manual training class, which is composed of patients who have sufficiently recovered their health to engage in light tasks, was stimulated by the offer of prizes for the best birdhouse to begin the construction of various types of tempting tenements for feathered summer visitors.

The ingenuity displayed and the knowledge which was acquired from the available literature on the subject was astonishing. Many of the patients are men who were skilled in other crafts and they had no difficulty in turning out tiny structures excellent in workmanship and attractive in design.

The competition has grown so keen between the different competitors that it was not considered advisable to trust the awarding of the prizes to a local jury. Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon arranged with Dr. Witmer Stone, of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, to act as judge in the competition.

Visitors at the institution have expressed much interest in the work and the majority of the entries have already been purchased. The demand has been so great that this promises to become a profitable industry for the patients.

Bernhardt Coming to U. S.; "War Over When I Return"

Paris, May 5. — Madame Sarah Bernhardt has just returned from London. She said that she plans to sail for New York about the end of September.

"By the time I return to France again, the war will be over and the Allies victorious," she said.

"I wasn't afraid of Zeppelins in England. I was afraid of the Germans. I don't know what fear means. If I did, I wouldn't give to the United States, as I have had many letters from here, threatening me with death."

Wife With Kissing Habit Cured by Boiling Water

Special to the Telegraph

Monessen, Pa., May 5.—John Rustin, of this place, does not believe it proper for a man's wife to kiss promiscuously, even though she is young and pretty and has admirers by the score. John says his wife did it, but he evolved a method of curing her of the habit.

When asked to tell his secret he said: "I poured a kettle of boiling water down her back last night after I had seen her kiss three different young men who stopped at the gate after dark."

Rustin was arrested and fined.

A Health Talk TO WOMEN

Good health is a precious possession to a woman. Its worth is above rubies. Prize it, for health once lost is hard to regain. Keep it diligently.

No woman will deliberately go about to lose her health, but many women neglect to keep themselves in good physical condition. Be wise in time.

Dull eyes, sallow skin, sick headache, lassitude, depression, sluggish liver, or a disordered stomach are nature's way of telling that the body is not in perfect harmony—that it needs assistance to retain its health and vigor. Don't neglect these symptoms. They are nature's warnings.

Women who prize their health will find Beecham's Pills most helpful in preventing and correcting stomach disorders and liver complaints, and specially beneficial to the peculiar ailments from which few women are free. They strengthen the organs, purify the blood, dispel headache and languor, improve the appetite and establish and maintain the general health of the system.

Beecham's Pills are compounded from vegetable ingredients, and their use is not followed by any ill effects. They act gently, surely and thoroughly. For women who value the importance of health, there is no remedy of greater worth than
