VAST RESTRAINTS PLACED ON U-BOATS

Continued From First Page. tional law, the sole exception being the conduct of warfare against enemy trade carried on in the war zone surrounding Great Britain. With regard to these, no assurances have ever been given to the government of the United States. No such assurances are contained in the declaration of February 8, 1916.

But apart from the possibility of errors, naval warfare just like warfare on land, implies unavoidable dangers for neutral persons and goods entering the fighting zone. Even in cases where the naval action is confined to ordinary forms of cruiser warfare, neutral persons and goods repeatedly come to grief. The German government has repeatedly and explicitly pointed out the dangers from mines that have led to the loss of numerous ships.

in preventing the greater part of the accidents that American citizens have met with in the meantime. The German government still stands by its offer to come to an agreement along these lines. Cannot Give Up U-Boat. As the German government repeatedly declared, it cannot dispense with the use of the submarine weapon in the conduct of warfare against enemy trade. The German government, however, has now decided to make a further concession, adapting methods of submarine war to the interests of neutrals.

through this method of warfare have been severely injured. In Self-Defense. In self-defense against the illegal conduct of British warfare, while fighting a bitter struggle for national existence, Germany had to resort to the hard but effective weapon of submarine warfare. As matters stand, the German government cannot but reiterate the regret that the sentiments of humanity which the government of the United States extends with such fervor to the unhappy victims of submarine warfare are not extended with the same warmth of feeling to many millions of women and children who, according to the avowed intention of the British government, shall be starved, and who, by sufferings, shall force the victorious armies of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.

agreement with the government of the United States. New Orders Issued. The German government guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following order: In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives unless the ship attempt to escape or offer resistance. But neutrals cannot expect that Germany, forced to fight for existence, shall for the sake of neutral interests restrict the use of an effective weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will methods of warfare violating rules of international law.

suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war, as are laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British government December 28, 1914, and November 5, 1915. Should steps taken by the government of the United States not attain the object it desires, to have the laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision. The undersigned avails himself of this opportunity to renew to the American ambassador assurances of highest consideration.

ACACIA CLUB DINNER. Camp Hill, Pa., May 5.—This evening at 7.30 o'clock the Acacia Club of Camp Hill will hold a banquet, followed by an evening of entertainment at the Suburban Inn. The committee in charge of the affair consists of Dan B. Luper, John E. Sweeney and Raymond M. Staley. JUDGE LINDSEY ILL. Special to the Telegraph. Denver, May 5.—Judge Ben Lindsey, who has made a national reputation through his adjudication of juvenile crimes, is critically ill at his residence here. About a week ago he was operated on for a tumor in his back. His condition has become weaker, accompanied by a high fever.

Is Your Home the Only Grimy One in the Row?

WHOLE NEIGHBORHOODS ARE MARRED because one property owner is short sighted, and thinks he is saving money by not painting. BEAUTY—NEIGHBORHOOD BEAUTY—has a dollars and cents value. If you have never realized the full force of this statement, ask a real estate man. IN FACT, ONE of our real estate men makes a business of buying poorly painted homes, burnishing them up, and selling them at a net profit of from $200 to $500. He uses—

Lucas Paint

BECAUSE HE IS SHREWD enough to know that the very best paint is the cheapest in the long run. PAINT UP! CLEAN UP! You owe it to yourself and to your neighbors and to your city. It's a good citizen's duty.

Don't delay your painting, for delays are costly. Phone us and we shall be glad to estimate the cost of your job without putting you under any obligations.
