New Marks by Trapshooters at Annual National Shoot; John G. Martin Is on List

Special to the Telegraph
New York, May 6.—Trap shooting of unusual excellence was in evidence yesterday in the preliminaries to the national amateur championship at the Travers Athletic Club of the New York Athletic Club. The championship event was held to-day. The shooting yesterday was remarkable for many reasons, chief of which was the excellence of many scores, while Ralph L. Spotts, representing the winged foot organization, bettered by one point the old record established last year by the late George Bell Lyon, who broke 192 out of 200 clay birds. Four other of the contenders equaled the old record, they being E. L. Bartlett, of Baltimore; Charles H. Newcomb, of Philadelphia; J. H. Hendrickson, of the N. Y. A. C., and J. G. Martin, of Harrisburg, who took second, third, fourth and fifth prizes in that order on the shoot-off. Mr. Hendrickson broke 107 clay birds without a miss.

Forty-seven of the competitors averaged better than 90 per cent of the 200 birds, while 36 of them broke more than 90 out of every 100, which is a most unusual record.

FRANKIE FILLING TO MEET GREEN

Both Local Boys Claim Championship; Other Good Preliminaries

On the program for the next show of the West End Republican Club is Frankie Filling, of Harrisburg. He is scheduled to meet Willie Green, another local boxer who has been having clean-up sessions in local shows.

Young Filling has been anxious to meet Green and is now in training for this match. He is the son of Frank Filling, the Baltimore matchmaker for the club, and started his ring career in Harrisburg when but five years old. His exhibitions when not more than ten attracted much attention all over the State. He will have a hard opponent in Green, but expects to stop the local K. O. star.

Other preliminaries include Curtis Cummings, of Baltimore, and Unknown Kid, who expects to hand the local patrons a surprise, and Eddie Costigan and Eddie Hovertter, two fast local boys.

WELLY'S CORNER

Richard Weaver and his Post Office team played the Country Club nine. The game was played on the latter's grounds. Manager Weaver has a strong line-up this season and is out for a new record for victories.

Three State League teams will get into the game to-day. At Lebanon the attraction will be the ex-Cuban Giants. Lancaster will have a strong County League team, and Manager Lew Ritter at York is scheduled to meet the St. Mary's team of that city, winners of last season's semiprofessional championship. Reading will be ready on Monday, and Allentown players who located at Shamokin yesterday will be busy.

Manager George Cokill, of the Harrisburg State League team, will come to Harrisburg Monday or Tuesday. He will have practice at Island Park morning and afternoon. On Wednesday the team will go to York for the opening game. The season starts in Harrisburg on Thursday. Leo Groome was here to-day arranging details with County League team, and Manager Lewis Ritter at York is scheduled to meet the St. Mary's team of that city, winners of last season's semiprofessional championship. Reading will be ready on Monday, and Allentown players who located at Shamokin yesterday will be busy.

The Tech track team went to Mercersburg to-day to compete in the annual meet with the Academy teams. The results of the various events will be awaited with interest. Tech made a good showing last year and hopes to repeat the victories this year.

Stanley Covalesskie, the junior member of the famous Covalesskie family, looks as if he will become as famous as his brother Harry, the southpaw star on the Hughey Jennings team. Stanley, who is a former Tri-State leader, won his game from the White Sox yesterday; score, 2 to 2. The Covalesskies include Harry and Stanley, pitchers; Frank, pitcher and outfielder, and John, a third baseman.

Members of the Harrisburg Sportsmen's Association were out to-day for a practice shoot. The big State event will be the interstate meet here, June 23-24. The local association will hold weekly events for beginners, beginning next week. On Wednesday a number of Harrisburgers will go to Philadelphia to see the live bird match between H. Greaves, of Delaware Water Gap, and E. B. Melrath, who won the championship in Harrisburg six weeks ago. If Melrath wins, William Kiege, of Philadelphia, will challenge the winner and shoot the match on the same day. If Greaves wins, another date will be fixed and the match take place at Delaware Water Gap.

In the campaign to raise $100,000 for the Good Shepherd Home for Crippled Children in Allentown, which closed on Wednesday night, Jackie Clark, the Allentown middleweight, scored a knockout with the donations he turned in, among them being one of $300, the biggest individual donation turned in on the last day.

Clark was only in the campaign from Tuesday night on, when he was asked to subscribe to the fund, and responded with a liberal donation. The cause appealed to him so strongly that he offered his services and was promptly placed on Captain Charles Reber's team.

Country Club Member Tells About New Golf Links Here

The New York Sun of yesterday prints the following:
"Here is what a member of the Harrisburg Country Club has to say in a letter regarding the new links of that organization on the Susquehanna: 'During the last week I have been on the new grounds a couple of times, and I know you will agree with every one who has seen them that nowhere in the United States are there such possibilities, and the architects who are laying out the course say that in all their experience they never have seen anything like it, and they expect to make their reputation right here. The perfect course is right here, and usually they have to be built.'"
