

WEST END COMES OUT STRONG FOR FLOWERBOXES

Twenty-four Houses in Green Street Already Decorated; Others Entered

The West End of Harrisburg is already beginning to show the effects of the Telegraph's porch and window box campaign. In Green street, south of Maclay street, twenty-four houses have boxes displayed, and many of the uptown thoroughfares are doing almost as well.

Three more squares are being organized. Mrs. Harry Kreidler, of 708 Green street, has agreed to undertake the work on that thoroughfare between North and Briggs. Miss Margaret C. Poulk, of 2039 Penn street, will look after the section between Puffer and Maclay streets, while W. H. Deppen, of 210 Muench street, will interest the residents of Muench street between Second and Third, and Penn street between Muench and Peffer.

Among those who entered the campaign today are: Mrs. W. F. Rutherford, 1924 North Second street; Mrs. Friedman, 1939 North Second street; Mrs. Edward C. Smith, 2043 Penn street; Mrs. Annie M. MacDonald, 2045 Penn street; Mrs. Harry M. Himes, 2041 Penn street; Mrs. Albert J. Weaver, 2031 Penn street.

Asserts Germany Cannot Fight Present Year Out

London, May 10.—The Danish newspaper Ribestifts Tidende claims to have discovered by a month's investigation that the belief prevails in Germany that it is impossible to continue the war to the end of 1916.

Bernard Shaw Declares Shot Irishmen Martyrs

London, May 10.—George Bernard Shaw, discussing the executions of the Sinn Feiners in an open letter to-day said: "My view is that men who were shot in cold blood after their capture or surrender were prisoners of war and it was therefore entirely incorrect to slaughter them. The slaughter of a man in his position makes him a martyr and a hero. The shot Irishmen will now take their places beside Emmet and the Manchester martyrs in Ireland, beside the heroes of Poland, Serbia and Belgium in Europe. Nothing in heaven or earth can prevent it."

War Makes York Boy Heir of English Family

York, Pa., May 10.—When the romances of the great war are written it is doubtful whether any will be more dramatic than that of Wilbert E. Dey, a York boy, who ran away from home to enlist with a Canadian regiment.

Methodist Conference Honors Bishop Asbury

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 10.—After a brief business session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to-day, the remainder of the time was devoted to a service in commemoration of the centennial anniversary of the death of Bishop Francis Asbury, one of the pioneer leaders of the church.

Methodist Conference Honors Bishop Asbury

Bishop Asbury, speakers said, during his life traveled annually approximately 6,000 miles, principally on horseback and during each year preached from 300 to 500 sermons. Among the speakers at the service were Bishops Frederick D. Leele, of Atlanta, Ga.; Frank M. Bristol, of Omaha, Neb.; and Joseph F. Berry, of Philadelphia.

CONNECTICUT FOR WILSON

New Haven, Conn., May 10.—The Democratic State Convention to-day adopted a resolution endorsing the administration of President Wilson, and instructing the Connecticut delegates to the national convention at St. Louis to vote for his renomination and also that of Thomas R. Marshall for Vice-President.

GOVERNOR REFERS INQUIRERS TO KOLB

When the Governor was seen at the Capitol he declined to discuss any of the questions brought out by the Philadelphia inquirer in his speech last night.

Dr. Brumbaugh declined to make any further statements or to discuss any of the questions brought out by the Philadelphia inquirer in his speech last night.

"Publication of the charges and Stern's denials by the Governor to make an investigation stirred up Capitol Hill immensely and everyone wanted to see what the Governor would do. The Governor saw Attorney General Brown soon after reaching the Capitol and talked with a number of department heads preparatory to leaving in his automobile for Lebanon early in the afternoon.

When he left the Capitol he reiterated his statement that he had nothing to say. The Governor will not return to Harrisburg until Saturday. He will speak in Lebanon and Reading to-day and to-night and spend to-night in Philadelphia, going to Norristown to-morrow and then to Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

The Stern Charges. After referring to the failure to produce the Oliver letter or to reply to the statement by John W. Feiler that it could be found in 15 minutes Mr. Stern says this of the Governor: "Since the details of the Oliver contribution became a public accusation there have been persistent rumors throughout Pennsylvania to the effect that there had been other political contributions, in the form of checks, which similarly had been unaccounted for, as required by law.

"As a citizen and as a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, I consider it my plain obligation to lay before the people of Pennsylvania certain additional facts of the same nature, urging that Governor Brumbaugh immediately take action legally to disprove the allegations resting against him. If such allegations are untrue, the facts relating to this second unaccounted-for campaign check are these: "In June, 1914, following the primary election in which Martin G. Brumbaugh was nominated for the office of Governor upon the Republican ticket, Louis J. Kolb borrowed $5,000 from the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia, which money he thereupon immediately deposited with the said Real Estate Trust Company to the account of Martin G. Brumbaugh, with the explanation that it was to be used by Dr. Brumbaugh for political purposes in his campaign.

"So far as known, a part of this $5,000 was ever accounted for in the campaign accounts either of Dr. Brumbaugh or of any of his campaign committees. There is every reason to believe that the money was not accounted for by a series of checks signed by Martin G. Brumbaugh, between June and October, 1914, the fund being exhausted just prior to the November election of that year. It is well known that every one of these checks was drawn either directly or indirectly to the Governor himself or to one of his closest political associates, and that the money was expended during the campaign by the Governor or by his immediate representatives. This contribution gift was given out of other consideration than that it was to be used during the campaign.

"If Governor Brumbaugh is innocent he has nothing to fear. In justice to himself and to one of his closest political associates, and in order to seek before that proper tribunal a vindication of the charges which have been made against him.

"If the Governor refuses to follow that course, it must be accepted by the people of Pennsylvania as an admission that he is guilty. I shall demand a legislative investigation of all the facts alleged."

What Col. Kolb Says. The Philadelphia Inquirer of to-day says: "When Louis J. Kolb was informed last night of the charges made against Governor Brumbaugh by Isador Stern, he made an indignant denial of his role in them. Mr. Kolb was seen at his West School lane home in Germantown. At first he refused to discuss Mr. Stern's accusations, but when pressed by the confidence in the Governor and denials that Dr. Brumbaugh had never abused his friendship.

"I refuse to get mixed up in any such matter," said Mr. Kolb. "When the right time comes I'll say what I have to say and not before. I am not going to reply to the insane ravings of an irresponsible person."

"I have no objection to Governor Brumbaugh. He is a gentleman and has never abused my confidence. He never misused a cent of my money, although that is not saying that he ever did any of it."

Mr. Kolb denied that Dr. Brumbaugh had ever borrowed any money from him. He refused to answer a direct question whether he had ever loaned the Governor any money. Asked to make a complete statement on the Stern charges, he said: "Isn't what I've said enough? Have I not told the Governor he never abused my confidence? Don't you think that if he misused any of my money I would lose confidence in him?"

Mr. Kolb was especially indignant over the reference to his appointment to a colonely on the Governor's staff of the National Guard of Pennsylvania.

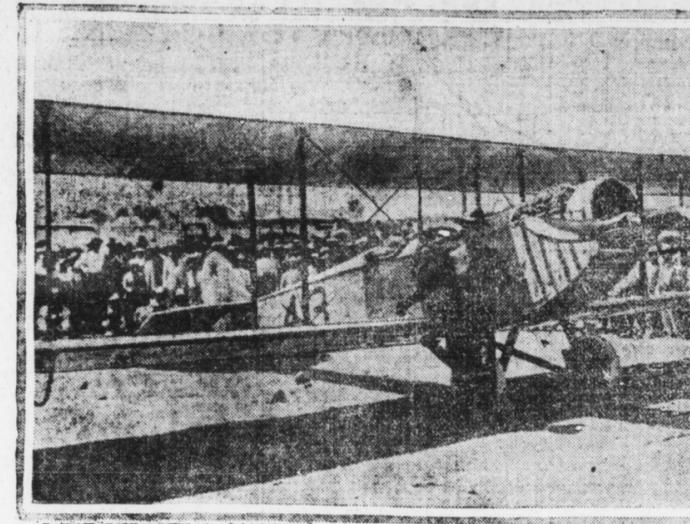

"So they charge a political deal between Dr. Brumbaugh and me for the colonely. That's absolutely false. The Governor can have my colonely any time he wants it, and incidentally was there ever a colonel of the staff who knew anything about the National Guard?"

Denial was also made by Mr. Kolb that the Governor had aided him in a campaign for the mayoralty.

"I wouldn't be mayor if I could," he continued. "Not that it isn't a high honor, but my ambitions don't run in that direction. At the dinner mentioned there was no boom for me for the mayoralty nomination. It was just a matter of the 50th anniversary of my birth and 100 friends of my present. We didn't discuss the subject, in fact, I issued special orders to that effect. Dr. Brumbaugh wasn't present and didn't send any letter or telegram."

Mr. Kolb made his strongest reply when he heard that his daughter's secretary had been a sponsor for the battleship Pennsylvania had been as a result of his $5,000 gift to Dr. Brumbaugh. Then he closed the interview with the following: "If the charges came from a responsible source I would reply to them. They are false, the insane ravings of an irresponsible person whom I do not even know and I will not dignify them with any further discussion."

AEROPLANE ATTACKED BY MOB OF MEXICANS

LIJUTENANT HERBERT A. D'ARGUE. This photograph shows the United States army aeroplane which was attacked by Mexicans at Chihuahua. In the foreground is Lieutenant D'Argue, pilot of the machine, which was piloted over the aeroplanes by General Gutierrez after the attack, but Mexicans continued to gather about the machine, muttering denunciations against "Gringos." D'Argue was not injured.

TROOPS MOBILIZING FOR BORDER SERVICE

(Continued From First Page) punitive expedition in Mexico was evident on both sides of the Rio Grande to-day, notwithstanding the situation was not materially altered by the conferences in their three-hour talk last night. The optimism appeared based largely upon the admission that another conference would be held, perhaps to-day, at the border by the United States and Mexican military and military advisers maintained attitudes of hopefulness.

The net result of the conferences already held at the border by representatives yet insist upon placing the question of the withdrawal of General Pershing's forces ahead of the question of co-operation. General Scott was expected to receive from the War Department a communication from which a reply could be delivered to General Obregon's counter proposal for a joint patrol of the border by troops of each country on its own side of the line. With this agreed to, General Obregon believed that co-operation in the running down of bandits that raided across the line might be more effective.

Whether the conference will take place before late to-day was unknown either at General Obregon's headquarters or at General Scott's. Because of the new phases suggested by General Obregon it was believed probable that he would consult with Carranza and that delays in communicating with the Mexican capital might make the holding of the conference before to-morrow impossible.

Obregon Not Worried. The ordering into the border country of more regular troops and militia appeared not to worry General Obregon and those military men with him, nor did Juan N. Amador, secretary of foreign affairs, appear perturbed. They assumed that the increasing of the forces along the border to an army of almost 50,000 to be solely for the protection of towns on the American side and laughed at suggestions more serious moves might be contemplated.

Major Lezhorne, commanding two troops of the Eighth Cavalry, was nearing the international boundary line early to-day and it is understood that he is expected to cross into Mexico if he sees any chance of running down any of the bandits implicated in the raid on Glenn Springs and Boquillas. Colonel F. W. Sney, who will be in general command, will arrive on the border some time later with two more troops and the disposition of the little force will depend upon circumstances and may cross into Mexico if he deems it expedient.

112th Company of Coast Artillery Ready to Move

(Continued From First Page) Wilmington, Del., May 10.—This morning the entire force of the 112th Company, Coast Artillery, stationed mostly at Fort Du Pont, with some at Forts Delaware and Mott, were busy preparing to move to Texas, in response to orders received from the War Department. There are 105 men in this company.

Before the day is ended, the company will be in readiness to move immediately upon the receipt of final orders. They will go first to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and there await definite assignment. They will work in the border service as infantry. The married men of the company will be required to leave their families at Fort Du Pont until they return or are assigned permanently at some other place.

WILSON TO STAY AT DESK

(Continued From First Page) Washington, D. C., May 10.—President Wilson, because of the international situation has decided to remain constantly in Washington for the next few weeks. He has declined several offers to depart to-day and decided he would break a tentative engagement to speak at Hampton, Va., later this week at the dedication of a memorial building at Hampton Institute.

Expeditionary Base Is Showing Great Activity

Columbus, N. M., May 10.—Renewed activity in almost every department of the expeditionary base was apparent here to-day. Men are being sent forward to the field, preparations are being made for the mobilization here of the New Mexico National Guard, and supply motor truck trains carrying ammunition supplies and equipment are being sent to the front.

Last night a heavier guard than is customary was thrown about the military reservation, gasoline supply tanks and store depots being guarded closely. With no aeroplanes in the field, tests of new planes are being hurried by army aviators.

Outlook Is Favorable For Agreement at Conference

(Continued From First Page) Washington, D. C., May 10.—Secretary Baker informed President Wilson to-day that the conference between General Scott and General Obregon last night was not conclusive and that it would be continued to-day. He indicated that the outlook was more favorable for an agreement being reached. The exact points of difference was not revealed.

Standard of Salaries

General Scott has advised Secretary Baker that no formal counter proposals have been submitted by General Obregon, but that Obregon agreed with his views to-day. General Scott did not advise the department what counter proposals were under consideration.

Latest News Flashes in Mexican Situation

Teachers' Salaries

Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—The average salaries paid teachers in Harrisburg is $312.33. Pittsburgh comes next with an average of $796.37. In Wilkes-Barre the average is $790.32. In Allentown, $739.49, and so on down the list. There are 322 teachers on the payroll.

Furthermore, high schools are much more expensive to operate than schools of a lower grade, both because of the greater cost of teaching and the greater cost of supplies.

The percentage of the total school enrollment in the High Schools of Harrisburg is very much in excess of the average enrollment. And I understand that our Technical High School, both in attendance and in the character of the equipment and the scope of the instruction, is very much in advance of any school of like character in the state, perhaps outside of Philadelphia, and the cost of maintaining that school is particularly expensive. I have never heard an objection to the maintenance, at its present standard, of this school. In the Harrisburg schools cost more than other schools, I am inclined to think it is principally because of the high standard maintained all along the line.

This increase in the tax will be somewhat more seeming than real. The school population is increasing. The school population is increasing. Since 1910 the average annual assessment has increased approximately 5 1/2 per cent. In the same period the school enrollment has increased 10 per cent.

In other words, the population, and presumably the actual value of taxable real estate, have increased about twice as much as the real estate assessment. The school population is increasing. Since 1910 the average annual assessment has increased approximately 5 1/2 per cent. In the same period the school enrollment has increased 10 per cent.

There are a lot of new things in the schools these days that cost a good deal more than the old things. In the last fifteen years medical inspection, school lunches, domestic science and a dental clinic have been added. A teachers' retirement fund, which will cost $6,000 a year is being established by the Board, and a contribution of $5,000 to the Harrisburg Public Library, have been added. On account of these new items, all added to the Board's expenses in the last ten years, over $30,000 was spent last year to the people seem to want these things.

High School Loan Covered. "It is hoped if the rate shall not be fixed at 6 mills, that no further increase will be required, but interest and sinking fund charges with respect to any loan that may have been made to build a new high school.

Teachers as Agents. "In this connection let me say a word about the matter of school teachers acting as school book agents to which some public reference has recently been made. There are no teachers in Harrisburg who sell or try to sell school books to the Harrisburg District. I understand there are two of the 222 teachers in the Board's employ who are agents for the sale of the books of the American Book Company in districts outside of Harrisburg, namely, Mr. Machen, of the Carnegie building and Mr. Goetz, of the Cameron building. If any considerable number of teachers were engaged in this business on the side, I can easily see how it might be objectionable, but the Superintendent is responsible for the selection of the books used in the District and not the teachers, and with only two out of 222 selling books, I understand that I understand good teachers and gentlemen of high character, it rather seems as though there is no real ground for exception. I assume that these two gentlemen have their activities during the vacation season when they are not in the employ of the Board. During the school term the Board is entitled to all of their time and energies."

CHILDREN WE WORRY ABOUT

Close confinement in school during the past winter, overstudy perhaps, an attack of grip or tonsillitis, some of these things is doubtless responsible for the condition of the child who shows a decline in health now.

What are the symptoms? Pallor and languor, a fickle appetite, dark rings under the eyes, bronchial colds. Very often the best efforts of the family physician fail in such cases and the condition of the child causes the most intense anxiety. Cod-liver oil, so often prescribed, generally fails because the weak stomach is unable to digest fats.

Try this treatment. Before breakfast each morning give the child the juice of half an orange. After the noon meal give one of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Keep this up for a few days and then give one of the pills after the evening meal also. Weigh the child before beginning the treatment and again after two weeks. An increase in weight of from two to five pounds will show you that you are on the right track at last. Care is necessary in the diet of the patient and it will be well to send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a diet book and the pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood." Both are free. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

SCHOOL TAX RATE IS RAISED TO TEN MILLS

(Continued From First Page) proposition that not only must enough tax be levied to meet current expenses but enough to pay the Board's floating debt. The maintenance of a public school system for the education of 11,000 pupils, with present standards, is an expensive matter. I am not prepared to say, from such investigations as I have been able to make since I went on the Board last December, when the present board was organized, that the cost of maintaining the Harrisburg schools is not more than it ought to be, but allowing for a few faults in administration that can be and I have no doubt will be corrected, resulting possibly in a little waste, I have not yet been able to figure out that, as the schools are now organized, they can be operated for much if any less money.

Standard of Salaries. "For instance, our standard of

Uncover Skeletons of 20 Indian Warriors

Oregon City, Ore., May 12.—While excavating for a basement near the river bank, men employed by Frank Busch uncovered twenty skeletons of Indians in one hole. The bodies are supposed to be the remains of Indians killed in battle, for in one or two cases arrow heads were found between the bones.

The first trace of the bones was found when the workmen uncovered a skull. It was buried by itself, and Busch, who has studied the find carefully, believes that it belonged to a chief, or leader. To prevent disturbing the bones the workmen began excavating in another place, and they found a hole with a radius of about six feet which, Busch estimates, contains the bones of at least 20 Indians. The skeletons are lying like the sockets of a wheel, with the skulls in the center. Over the top of the grave was a thick, hard crust of baked clay that was hardened like stone.

Trouble of Cris Long and Wife Told in Ads. Carlisle, Pa., May 12.—The two following advertisements appear in a local newspaper: "I hereby notify not to sell, give, or trust my wife Eva Long, for any goods contracted by her as I will not be responsible, as she left my bed and board, and further, nothing the hotels, boarding houses, theaters and moving picture shows not to harbor or sell or give tickets to her. Cris Long have not left Cris Long as was stated and have not left his bed and board, and I have not contracted any bills yet that I cannot meet. Eva Long."
