THE FINE ART OF TELLING STORIES

Large Audience Is Delighted With Children Who Show Special Training

An audience of over a hundred enjoyed the final open meeting of the Story Telling Club for the season, last evening in the hall of the public library. All of the numbers received enthusiastic applause.

The "Mother Talks and Stories" were excellent, and the children told their stories with delightful naturalness and sincerity. Their power of impersonation was marked.

Mrs. Edna Groff Deihl, well known throughout the country as "Aunt Este," in her short talk "Why I Tell Stories to My Children," impressed every mother present with the importance and benefit, if not necessity, of telling wholesome stories to their children.

Mrs. Harry G. Keffer and her charming little daughter, Nancy presented a beautiful picture of motherhood, as seated at a table Mrs. Keffer first told her child a story, Nancy afterward telling to her mother "The Crown," a tale of her own selection.

Following bird stories by Miss Gamble and Miss Freedman, the audience enjoyed the pleasing novelty of real bird songs in victrola records.

To Raise Lecture Fund During the business meeting, an announcement was made of Mrs. Harry Keffer's plan to increase and maintain a permanent lecture fund by giving each year an entertainment to which a small admission fee be charged.

The first entertainment for this purpose, "Stories Hand Music by Lamplight," will be given Saturday evening, June 3, at Boyd Hall. Only one hundred and sixty tickets to meet the seating capacity of the hall will be disposed of by one members.
