My face and neck were covered with pimples, being bothersome for years, but exposure to cold weather and using cheap soap made them much worse, so much so they formed scales which were very sore and itchy and caused a lot of embarrassment. The pimples were rather small, hard and red and would fester and come to a head, but would not heal. My face was very much disfigured for the time being.

HEARTY TRIBUTE TO PROF. MARTIN

Carlisle Choral Society Honors Leader of the Past Ten Years

Carlisle, Pa., May 15.—With the motif of praise and tribute to Frederic C. Martin, of Harrisburg, prevailing throughout, the Carlisle Oratorio Society on Saturday celebrated its tenth anniversary in the most remarkable way in musical annals in this vicinity.

At the afternoon concert Mr. Martin directed a piano concerto in A with Newell Albright, of Harrisburg, at the piano. In the evening he was accorded the most remarkable reception ever given a musician here when an audience of over 1,000 persons drew from all parts of the valley applauded his appearance on the orchestra platform and delayed the performance for five minutes.

During the time that he has directed the local organization the following works have been produced, all with remarkable success: 1907, Haydn's 'Creation'; 1908, Mendelssohn's 'Elijah'; 1909, Handel's 'Messiah'; 1910, Gade's 'Erl-King's Daughter'; 1911, Verdi's Requiem Mass; 1912, Berlioz's 'Damnation of Faust'; 1913, Mendelssohn's 'St. Paul'; 1914, Gounod's 'Redemption'; 1915, Beethoven's 'Mount of Olives' and Grieg's 'Olaf Trygvason'; 1916, Martin's First Mass in D and Gade's 'Erl-King's Daughter'.

SOUVENIR POEMS GIVEN CHILDREN

Stories and Music by Lamplight Will Form a Most Attractive Program

About three hundred children and grownups enjoyed the hour of 'Stories of the Great Out-of-doors,' given by the Story-telling Club in the Technical high school auditorium on Saturday afternoon. The quiet, intent interest of the children, and their generous, enthusiastic applause at the close of each story was the highest commendation that anyone who loves to tell stories to children could wish for.

Master Robert Deihl, when requested, graciously repeated the clever little story that he told the other evening at the meeting of 'Mother and Bird Stories,' in the assembly hall of the Public Library.

The 'Bird Song,' a pleasant and restful feature of the program, was sung sweetly by the children.

The members of the club were pleased to have several grown-up listeners in their audience, and hope that more can arrange to come to the next public meeting.

Through the kindness and courtesy of the Telegraph souvenir copies of 'King Pixy,' one of Miss Lois Bookers' fairy poems, were given to those who comprised the audience, as they left the hall with thankful expressions for the delightful afternoon which they had enjoyed.

Stories by Lamplight An excellent program of 'Stories and Music by Lamplight,' will be given Saturday evening, June 3, in John Y. Boyd hall. On the program are Mrs. Harry Keffer, Mrs. Anna Hamilton, Mrs. Edna Groff Deihl, Miss Dolores Segelbaum, Miss Mary Snyder, Miss Ella Yost, Miss Florence Carroll and Miss Lois K. Bookers.

Requests for tickets are encouraging and the prospect is that the entire seating capacity of the hall will be used by friends of the club who are interested in its initial effort to increase and make permanent, a lecture fund which can be used to bring the best lecturers on 'Story-telling' to this city during the entertainment season.

The Charm of the Correct in the Dining Room

IN no other room in the house is the quite correct more desirable than in the dining room. It is the room of greatest hospitality. It should be above reproach in its furnishings. The suite illustrated here is one amply qualified to meet all such requirements and at a price within the reach of even modest purses.

It is a Berkey & Gay suite, than which nothing better in real goodness can be discovered. In style it is, of course, absolutely correct for it comes from the leading furniture manufacturing organization in the center that influences more than any other the furniture styles of the country.
