Joe Tinker Retires From Baseball Game

Henceforth, Joe Tinker, leader of the Federalized Cubs, who with Johnny Evers, Harry Steinfield and Frank Chance comprised one of the greatest infielders the game has ever known, will be a bench manager only. Tinker essayed to play shortstop against the New York Giants on Sunday and made such a muddle of the game that he took himself out. After thinking it over he decided he can no longer stand the pace of active playing and will confine his efforts strictly to the managerial end of the game.

PANAMA CANAL OPENS

By Frederic J. Haskin. (Continued From Editorial Page) The Health Department is also busy. It may be said to have practically eliminated malaria and yellow fever from the canal zone, and is now turning its attention more particularly to bubonic plague. The quarantine, of course, is a pretty certain guard against this terrible disease, but the canal zone is in constant touch with infected ports by reason of the traffic passing through the canal, and the health officials are determined to take no chances. Rats are the great carriers of bubonic plague. Hence all the government buildings have been made ratproof. But that is not all. Recently the edict went forth that no chickens were to be kept within the limits of the canal zone. There was a howl of protest from the employees, many of whom kept a few chickens on their premises. So now the anti-chicken proclamation was a violation of individual rights. The government was polite, but firm. It issued a long statement explaining that rats were not long ago, he said that the defenses of the canal zone made it safe from any attack. With international complications arising both to east and to west of us, and the fact that army officers have asserted that it was far from impregnable by land. More troops, they declared to be necessary, and troops have been pouring into the Canal Zone in small detachments for nearly a year. A few weeks ago a squadron of the Twelfth cavalry reached the canal zone from Galveston. They are the first mounted troops to be stationed at the canal. The second battalion of the Fourth Field Artillery soon followed them. The canal garrison now includes all of the three main branches of the service, and is generally conceded to be strong enough for its purpose. Owing to the nature of the country, and the strong coast defenses, the taking of the Panama canal by land would be difficult under any circumstances. There are, however, stretches of open country, reaching north and west from the zone over which an invading army could advance with great rapidity, and troops are needed to guard these.

Because of the filthy condition in which a traveling carnival company left the lot at Third and Reilly streets, the school board yesterday decided to prohibit the use of any of its property for any exhibition of any traveling show or carnival company. The grounds at Third and Reilly were left in such a condition as to elicit storms of protest to the city bureau of health. Because the school budget for the ensuing year has already been completed a suggestion for a new sliding wage scale of pay for teachers as submitted by Miss Maude Gamble was formally filed without action. School children of the city were granted an extra holiday on Monday, May 29. Memorial Day which falls on Tuesday, May 30, of course, will be observed by the closing of the schools and the board yesterday decided to give the small folks an additional day. The board also decided to appropriate $175 to the Vernon building piano fund toward replacing the instrument which was destroyed by fire. Coal and wood contracts were approved as follows: E. F. Hoffman, egg, $5.85; stove, $6.08; pea, $4.23; broken, $5.28; mixed nut, $7; United Ice and Coal Co., cord and slab wood, $4.90 per cord; Montgomery Company, soft coal, $3.45 per ton and kindling wood at $2.70 per load. The firm of Henry Gilbert and Son was awarded the contract to furnish a motor driven mortar at its bid of $92.75. Half a dozen changes in school text books were authorized.

Heil, State Champion. "Al" Heil, of Allentown, is the new Pennsylvania State amateur target champion. He won the title yesterday afternoon at the State shoot. His victory is all the more worthy of the championship title because he shattered a straight string of 100 targets. This, of course, is the long-run record of the tournament. Charles W. Newcomb, of Philadelphia, the former State champion and world's amateur champion, made a game effort to defend his title. He broke 95, but his best was not good enough. Heil is a former State champion.

Special to the Telegraph. Voltz pitched a good game, and Euker and Elliott played a brilliant game in the field. Pesh was the local star. It is understood that Blair will join the team to-day. WELLY'S CORNER

The game between the Harrisburg and Paoli baseball teams of the Continental League was played at Paoli, Pa. The winner of the series is scheduled to play three games with the local Motive Power nine.

According to reports from York, George Washington Heckert was a life-saver yesterday. It is said he put up $150 in cash for rental of the Fair Grounds in order that games may be played as scheduled. It is a big surprise to many how Heckert became a magnate. According to the dope in circulation in this city, the promoters of the State League agreed to certain payments. They made good with the exception of Abraham Rosenbluth whom it is said is now out of the organization. It is also said that Heckert agreed to certain things, to wit: Harrisburg's baseball team is still in the Athletic class. Losing games in the ninth. The local aggregation is weak in a number of spots. Fans are of the opinion that someone should get busy. Leo Groome said he has ordered several players to report here Monday. One of them is Lefty McWilliams who comes from Dayton, Ohio. Pitchers, outfielders and hitters are needed.

The baseball game at Island Park to-day between the Motive Power team of the Philadelphia division, and the State League's Schuylkill division attracted a large crowd. It was straw hat and ladies' day. The fair sex was represented in large numbers. Mike Friel the manager of the local team was given loud cheers when he went on the field to coach his team. No matter what may happen today in the windup events at Lansdale, Harrisburg has reason to feel proud over its representatives. Winning high honors in the first day, Lockwood Worden won prominence. Yesterday, Stewart, a West Fairview shooter who is prominent at all local contests, had high honors. The other local shots have been holding their own and have had a profitable week. Leo Groome owner of the Harrisburg State League Club hopes to have his troubles all removed by Tuesday next. As has been said he is the mainstay of the league and has been taking care of the other troubles since the game started. Now that the financial end is showing satisfactory form, he will get busy with his own team. He said yesterday that he will organize a winning club in Harrisburg before another week. He is at Atlantic City to-day closing a deal for Harrisburg for Sunday games at the seashore. The Dauphin-Perry League is under way to-day. Three games are on the schedule and indications point to keen competition and an interesting race. The rules governing outside players will be enforced. Nonresident players will be limited this year which is a good feature. The Harrisburg Academy team lost a close game to Duncannon High School yesterday, score 6 to 5. The academy hitters were in a slump but folded a brilliant game.

GEORGE COX DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

Politician and Theater Magnate Swung Country For Taft Despite Hard Feelings. Cincinnati, May 20. — George B. Cox, politician and theatrical magnate died at his home here early this morning. Mr. Cox was stricken with paralysis February 29, from which he never recovered although death is said to have been due to pneumonia, which developed in the last few days. George Barnsdale Cox was one of the most widely-known professional politicians in Ohio, a baseball magnate, a banker and part owner of one of the largest theatrical syndicates in the country. Born in Cincinnati, on April 29, 1848, he began his career as a newsboy, and later became a saloonkeeper at "Dead Man's Corner," as the locality of Carlisle and Central avenues, Cincinnati, was known because of the numerous murders in the neighborhood. Cincinnati was "wide open" in those days and unbridled saloons and gambling flourished. Cox, however, kept his place orderly and established a reputation for physical courage that he maintained throughout his career. He immediately became a leader in local politics and soon spread his influence until he virtually controlled the Republican machine in Hamilton county, obtained a powerful hold on State politics and wielded an influence in national campaigns. Win, Tie or Fight Cox's work in connection with the candidacy of William Howard Taft for the presidency, occasioned surprise among political observers. When the
