An ounce of prevention is worth a An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and people who are subject to attacks of rheumatism should never go to bed with cold fect. A whole lot is being said about tak-ing saits and effervescing tablets for rheumatism and sclatica, but those who suffer sharp twinges and painful swollen joints need something power-ful to overcome their piteous suffer-ing.

Any broad-minded druggist will tell you that one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day is driving more rheumatism out of afflicted peomore rheumatism out of afflicted peo-ple than all the salts on earth. Right in this neighborhood H. C. Kennedy and all druggists sell large quantities of it, and it's the surest and most in-expensive remedy — about 50 cents a bottle.

"The Most Interesting American" is the tile of a brochure recently issued from the pressee of The Century Com-pany, written by one of the most pop-ular and widely read authors of the day, Julian Street. Mr. Street writes in an intensely in-teresting manner of the man who as no other has the faculty of keeping inimself, voluntarily or involuntarily in, or at least within calling distance of, the mind of every thinking Ameri-can. "He was, and is, one of us. We call him T. R.', and he is perhaps the on-ly man in the country who is known to want and we selfship that our lucky stars that our fortunate geographical posi-tion renders us almost immune.

dren. I believe that life is too short for argument, and too long not to learn the new dances, and if a good fairy would grant me three wishes, I'd wish first that Senator Elihu Root might be president 'in perpetuo' of these United States; second, that there might be time enough vouchsafed me in each day to do and see all the interesting things I long to do and see; and third, that I had been born with curly hair!" MISCHIEF SELF-CORRECTING There was a suspicious silence in the next room where the two-year-old boy had just gone. Mother grew anx-ious and called: "Donald, what are you doing?"
